

INCREASE IN RAILROAD GROSSEARNINGS TAX TO SIX PER CENT PROPOSED

Bill Introduced in House By Westcott of Dakota County.

Gross Earnings Tax for Street Railways Is Also Proposed.

Senator Sageng Would Hold the Primary Elections in June.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative W. H. Westcott of Dakota county, this morning introduced in the house a bill proposing an increase in the railroad gross earnings tax rate from 5 per cent to 6. If adopted by the legislature, this must go before the people for their approval at the next election. At the last election, after several years of agitation, the old rate of 4 per cent was increased to 5.

A gross earnings tax for state purposes in lieu of all other taxes and assessments on street railways is proposed in a bill introduced in the house this morning by Representative H. H. Dunn, Southwick and Crawford. The tax rate is put at 7 per cent, and it is provided that where street railways have contracts with cities to pay local assessments these contracts shall not be affected. The measure also will have to be voted on by the people, if the legislature approves it for submission.

State Life Insurance.
Representative Ernest Lundeen of Minneapolis introduced a bill this morning proposing a state system of life insurance, modeled after the Wisconsin law, now in effect, which Mr. Lundeen introduced last year.

SAULSBURY CHOSEN DELAWARE SENATOR

Dover, Del., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ernest Lundeen of Minneapolis, who was elected United States senator from Delaware to succeed Senator Harry Richardson, Republican.

Mr. Salsbury's election came after a Democratic deadlock which lasted a week and was the result of a conference held last night by the four members of the legislature who had held out against Salsbury because they wanted the United States senatorship to go to their home county.

FARGO WOMAN IS VICTIM OF GAS

Former Resident of Pelican Rapids, Minn., Killed; Two Children Overcome.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Escaping gas asphyxiated Mrs. C. J. Gordon, two children, a girl aged 5 and a boy 3, are in a serious condition. The Pulmeters were used in a hopeless effort to revive Mrs. Gordon.

Her husband is a traveling man and all efforts to locate him this morning failed. The family recently came here from Pelican Rapids, Minn., where they conducted a hotel.

WILL BE WITHOUT A COMMISSIONER

Senate Refuses to Confirm Reappointment of Dr. C. P. Neil.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Beginning with Feb. 1, the bureau of labor of the department of commerce and labor will be without a commissioner, the reappointment of Dr. Charles Neil by President Taft lacking the confirmation of the senate. Dr. Neil is now at El Paso, Tex., where he is engaged in the mediation of the difficulties between the Texas & Pacific railroad and its trainmen.

The fact that the bureau will be without an executive head probably will, according to other officials of the bureau, considerably complicate the status of the various important labor matters in which Commissioner Neil has taken an important part, notably in the case of the mediation of the difficulties of the fifty-seven Eastern roads and their trainmen.

TO CONSIDER BILL FOR OFFICERS IN CIVIL WAR.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The Townsend bill to place on the retired list of the army all Union officers in the Civil War at three-fourths the pay they were receiving, when mustered out will be considered tomorrow by the senate military affairs committee. A substitute bill by Senator Sanders was voted down by the committee at its last meeting and the members are evenly divided on the Townsend bill. Friends of the measure hope to have it considered favorably reported by the committee.

REPORT DUE NEXT FRIDAY

House Sub-Committee on Reapportionment May Submit Bill Then.

Southern Minnesota Men Still Unable to Agree on Districts.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—A meeting of the house committee on reapportionment has been called for Friday afternoon, when it is hoped that the completed bill can be acted upon by the full committee. Up to last night only two congressional districts had agreed on their local apportionment problems—the Ninth and Sixth. The Eighth district will complete its work in a day or two, and the Fourth and Fifth will be ready to report by Thursday. The Seventh, too, is nearly ready. The Southern Minnesota men are having trouble for them, as they were unable to agree. Probably that is because what the sub-committee will have to do this year. The Third district already has practically refused to make its local apportionment bill to a congressional reapportionment bill is drafted, which will have to act in this case. The First and Second districts are having trouble in this case.

INFORMATION ON TRAIN SERVICE

Will Have to Be Furnished If Bill Passes in Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 29.—Railway companies in Wisconsin will be required to post the exact time of arrival of trains and to report any additional information of the delay of their schedule immediately, according to a bill introduced by Senator Teasdale of Sparta, today.

The broadening of the general scope of the railroad commission law involving the regulation of rates, charges, correctness of weights, rates and charges and refunds is provided in a bill introduced by Assemblyman Gulick. The tax commission inheritance tax bill presented by Assemblyman Gulick raises the taxes upon an inheritance where the heir is a father, mother, daughter, or husband, wife or sister of the deceased from 1.5 to 2 per cent.

A prison warden may furnish convicts to counties for highway labor, according to a bill introduced by Assemblyman Lentz.

The appointment of a conservation commissioner of Wisconsin and the abolishment of the offices of state fish and game warden, state park board and state board of forestry is the substance of a bill introduced by Axel Johnson in the assembly.

Assemblyman Erquhart would have a hunter furnish an affidavit of the killing of deer himself before he can secure tag for shipment.

County schools of agriculture are provided in a bill by Speaker Hull of the assembly.

SAYS INDIANS ARE DENIED RIGHTS

Representative Miller Receives Complaint From John Carl.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)
Washington, Jan. 29.—Representative Miller today received a complaint from John Carl of Mahanomen that Indian children of less than a certain proportion of Indian blood the privilege of attending school at White Earth, notwithstanding they are on the rolls of the tribe, are holding allotments and are paying their portion of expense of maintenance of schools from their annuities. Mr. Miller said he would take the matter up with the Indian office and if Agent Howard was denying Indian children any of their rights he would demand that they be restored.

TAXICABS COLLIDE; NINE PERSONS HURT.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Two taxicabs collided head on on Washington Park boulevard late yesterday afternoon, severely injuring nine persons, two of whom may die.

The seriously injured are: Mrs. James M. Swift, a scalp wound and internal injuries; may die. Mrs. David Kiawans, body bruised; internal hurts; may die.

According to the police both machines were running at a high rate of speed. They struck as one of them turned into the boulevard. Both taxicabs were demolished.

TO BE PUSHED IN THE HOUSE

Chances Are Better There for the Woman's Suffrage Bill.

Mistake Made in Not Having the House Vote First.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—In spite of yesterday's defeat in the senate, the woman suffrage bill will be pushed in the house. In point of fact, advocates of votes for women now realize that they made a mistake in not pushing the bill in the house first, as it was generally agreed that its chances there were the better, and that a bill backed by a considerable majority in the house would have more force in the senate than the senate's own bill.

However, if the house passes a woman suffrage bill, the senate will probably have to vote again, though there is small likelihood of any change.

A curious thing about the result in the senate yesterday is that there were four changes each way, four senators who opposed the bill two years ago.

NAUGHTY JOHNNY; CIGARETTE; $400 FIRE.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Johnny Washburn, 4 years old, was naughty today. His mother locked him in a clothes closet. He found a cigarette and a match in his father's dress suit. The fire was extinguished after damage of $400 had been done.

SUFFRAGETTES LAND IN JAIL

"Gen." Drummond and Thirty Others Sentenced to Fourteen Days.

Declare They Will Immediately Start a "Hunger Strike."

London, Jan. 29.—"General" Mrs. Drummond and thirty other militant suffragettes will spend the next fourteen days in jail as the result of their determination to force David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, to receive them as a deputation in the house of commons last evening. All the prisoners declared in court after they were sentenced today that they would immediately start a "hunger strike."

The accused women were brought up at Bow street police court before Robert Marshall, police magistrate.

Mrs. Drummond complained during the hearing that the police had handled her roughly when she was arrested. She declared the patrolman had thrown her in the mud.

"It is now war to the knife," she told the magistrate, and continued: "You and Mr. Lloyd George have a lot of trouble ahead of you. You will have to do the dirty work and you will have plenty of it."

The women all refused the option which was offered them of paying a fine instead of going to prison.

Formal Order for Inquiry.
Washington, Jan. 29.—The interstate commerce commission today issued the formal order for the inquiry into the affairs of the American Telephone & Telegraph company. The investigation recently was transferred to the commission from the department of justice by Attorney General Wickham. The commission has not yet set dates or places for the hearings.

HEARINGS ARE NEARING END

Government About Through With Testimony in Steel Suit.

P. H. Nelson Again on Stand for Cross-Examination.

New York, Jan. 29.—The case of the government in its suit to dissolve the United States Steel corporation practically will close with today's session. Government counsel announced they would finish taking testimony this afternoon, but reserved the right to call witnesses at a later date, before finally resting. Attorneys for the corporation announced they hoped to proceed with their side of the case some time in March.

P. H. Nelson of Hibbing, Minn., an iron ore expert who testified yesterday that the steel corporation paid too high a price when it leased the Hill ore lands, was recalled at today's hearing. He was cross-examined by Frederick H. Kellogg, counsel for the trustees of the Hill lands, who are defendants in the suit.

Nelson reiterated that the average royalties paid for the leasing of ore in the Lake Superior district were about 45 cents a ton, compared with the 25 cents a ton paid by the corporation.

CONFESSES TO BURNING HOME

Lac Qui Parle Minister Arrested for Setting Fire on Jan. 20.

Rev. Emanuel Ekland Admits Story He Told Is Not True.

Madison, Minn., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Rev. Emanuel Ekland of Lac Qui Parle township, Lac Qui Parle county, according to deputy fire marshals, has confessed that he burned his own house and barn, Jan. 20, and that he burned his automobile last June. He was placed under arrest.

Ekland, on the day of the fire, said that he was awakened early to find his home in flames, and that as he was trying to get from the house he was struck twice on the head by an unseen assailant, but regained consciousness in time to escape only to find his barn also burning. He also told of receiving anonymous letters threatening his life.

Ekland's alleged confession came after an investigation of the fire made by deputy state fire marshals from St. Paul.

STRONGLY OPPOSE MACHINES FROM U. S.

Russians Would Avoid Dependence on American Implements.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 29.—An extensive series of experiments with agricultural implements was carried out by the Russian department of agriculture during the season of 1912, with a view to putting an end to the dependence of Russia on American manufacturers. Over 100 reapers, mowers, hay rakes and other implements manufactured in Canada and various European countries were put to work under the supervision of officials of the department.

A considerable number of these implements, according to an official report issued today, successfully stood the tests under various and difficult conditions—notably those coming from Canada, as it is stated that the can be manufactured equally well in Russia.

The department of agriculture is sending out copies of the report to cooperative societies and local government boards all over the country, as the Russian farmers are largely supplied through importation of implements to substitute other implements for American machines generally.

Seventy-two per cent of the business in this kind of machinery is now in the hands of American manufacturers.

MISS LA FOLLETTE WITNESS IN COURT

Testifies Strike Champion Did Not Obstruct Sidewalk.

New York, Jan. 29.—Charged with disorderly conduct, Miss Maude Younger, the young California woman who is championing the cause of the girl workers in the garment makers' strike here last night, she refused to pay a $25 fine imposed upon her in the night court, as did the others arraigned with her.

Miss Younger denied to Magistrate Herbert that she had refused to move from a shopping district corner, as a policeman testified, and she was corroborated by Miss Fols La Follette, daughter of United States Senator La Follette.

Voting began last night to determine whether the strike is to terminate with acceptance of a sliding scale of wages from 10 to 15 per cent advance by the employers.

Miss Younger later paid the fines imposed upon herself and the nine other young women and all were released.

Soldiers on Tchatalja Lines Unwilling to Follow Young Turks.

Situation in Constantinople Said to Be Exceedingly Grave.

Joint Note of Allies Placed in Hands of Rechad Pasha.

NOTE TO TURKS.
London, Jan. 29.—The text of the note to Rechad Pasha, which was handed to him by the Balkan delegates following the plenipotentiaries of the allied Balkan states having since the suspension of the work of the peace conference awaited in vain for three weeks the reply of the Ottoman plenipotentiaries to their last demands, and events which have occurred in Constantinople appearing to have destroyed hope of arriving at the conclusion of peace, are to their regret obliged to declare that the peace negotiations commenced in London on Dec. 16, last, are broken off.

The note does not denounce the armistice. This will devolve on the governments of the Balkan states.

London, Jan. 29.—The note drafted by the peace delegates of the allies was delivered by Stefan Novakovich, head of the Serbian delegation, to Rechad Pasha shortly after noon today.

The determining factor impelling the allies to this course of action was the receipt of reports during the night and again this morning of grave ferment among the Turkish troops stationed on the Tchatalja lines, a large portion of whom appear to be unwilling to follow the lead of the Young Turks.

It is considered that in view of the internal complications in Turkey, Mahmud Sherif Pasha, the new grand vizier, may yield before the energetic act of the allies.

Situation Grave.
The gravity of the situation at Constantinople is shown by the large naval forces concentrated by the European powers at the entrance to the Dardanelles. Even Austria-Hungary in the past has refused to join the other powers in naval coercion measures, now ordered two warships to be in readiness to start for the East at any moment.

While the clouds are gathering over the situation, the astronomical forecast makes a study of the European firmament consider that the general peace of Europe is no longer in jeopardy. As a proof of this they point out that Italy has just dispatched an army of 100,000 soldiers who served in Tripoli.

Look to Fovner.

HUMAN HAIR TO BITUMINOUS COAL

Great Variety of Articles Included at Tariff Hearing.

Washington, Jan. 29.—A variety of articles ranging from human hair to bituminous coal, all going to make up a total customs revenue of $26,931,900 last year and constituting part of an estimated annual consumption of $42,746,000, were at issue in the hearing today before the house committee on ways and means.

The "sundry" schedule of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, the fourteenth and last schedule of that act.

The average ad valorem rate in the schedule now is about 10 per cent and the aggregate of the articles make up almost 9 per cent of the total tariff revenue. The estimated production of all these articles in the United States on Jan. 1, was $24,600,000, or $17,479,256 worth was exported in 1911.

The revenue from the sundry schedule has dropped more than $2,000,000 a year during the last two years, though above the records of many of the previous years.

Ludwig Nissen, a New York diamond importer, protested that higher duty would encourage smuggling. R. C. Rhett of Charleston, S. C., wanted the duty on manufactures of asbestos retained and free admission of raw material.

Boat and shoe interests were largely represented. Their spokesmen united in opposition to any reduction of the boat and shoe tariff. They contended that reduction would necessitate a radical readjustment of wages and standards of living to compete with European wages and standards; that reduction would not benefit the consumers and that there had "never been a whisper of trade agreement" in the business.

NOT A STRIKER IN SIGHT.

Armed Guards Swam About Streets in Vicinity of Steel Mills.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 29.—Armed guards under direct command of Sheriff Judd Bruff, swarmed today over the streets surrounding the Rankin plant of the American Steel & Wire company where last night one man was killed and a dozen persons wounded in a gun fight between striking steel workers and guards.

Not a striker was in sight, however, orders having been issued by their leaders early today for them to remain "in doors."

All of the men and women wounded last night were reported as somewhat improved.

Chief of Police Barnett was notified that several of the guards who had disappeared during the night had been captured by strike sympathizers. An investigation was ordered.

Weather: Snow flurries tonight or Thursday; lowest temperatures tonight 10 to 20 deg. above zero.

In a few days "Taps" will be sounded on the Oak Hall building. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock.

One of the Most Important Questions to Consider in the Search for Happiness and Health.

If your stomach cannot digest your food, what will? Where's the relief? The answer is that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because, as all stomach troubles arise from indigestion and because one ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is able to thoroughly and completely digest 3,000 grains of food, doesn't it stand to reason that these tablets are going to digest all the food and whatever food you put into your stomach?

Science nowadays can digest food without having it enter the stomach at all. And Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the result of this scientific discovery. They digest and digest thoroughly and well, anything and everything you eat.

The burning question to you is, "Are you getting out of life all the pleasure and the health you are entitled to?" If not, why not?

No matter whether every organ and member of your body is in a sound state of health or strength, if your stomach is in any way disordered, you are not going to be "yourself." You are going to be a worried, out-of-sorts, nervous or sullen individual, whose actions will reflect your condition inside, and people will naturally avoid you.

So, if your stomach refuses to work or can't work, and you suffer from eruptions, blot, rash, fermentation, indigestion, or dyspepsia of whatever form, then you can eat all you want, what you want, whenever you want. Then you can eat all you want, what you want, whenever you want. Then you can eat all you want, what you want, whenever you want.

WILL VOTE ON BOND ISSUE

Special School Election Will Be Held Next Saturday.

Duluth is to have another election Saturday. A bond issue of $200,000, proposed by the board of education, will be submitted to the voters for approval.

While the vote will not be large, the members of the board of education are anxious that a representative vote be cast all through the city. The sale of a bond issue of $200,000 is an important matter and the members of the board believe all citizens interested should get out and vote.

The proposed bond issue is for the purpose of building the Robert B. Denfeld high school at West Duluth and the first unit of the longer St. Munger grade school at Twelfth avenue east and Eighth street.

ANNIVERSARY OF ENDEAVOR UNION

Duluth Members of Society Will Hold Observance Sunday.

The Duluth Christian Endeavor societies, as well as others all over the world, will observe next Sunday, Feb. 2, as the thirty-first anniversary of the founding of the organization.

The Christian Endeavor movement was started by Dr. Francis E. Clark, now president of the World's Christian Endeavor union.

From a small society it has grown until it numbers in its ranks millions of members and includes over eighty denominations. Besides the ordinary work of the society, Endeavorers have been active in efforts for good citizenship in Denver, Colo., and helped to defeat the machine of both parties.

The Chicago Endeavorers were the people who started, and pushed to a successful conclusion, the recent order closing the postoffices on Sundays. The Duluth Endeavor union, composed of local societies, is the third largest in the state, and most of the societies will have special programs celebrating the day.

Following is the program prepared by the Duluth church societies, which holds its services at the K. P. hall at 7 o'clock:

Service—Using hymns 208, 292, Scripture reading—I Cor. 12:14-18, 27-31.
Opening prayer—Thomas Tidball.
Responsive reading—J. L. Sparks.
Repetition of the pledge—Endeavorers.
Hymn 107—"Nearer the Cross."

Why Endure Foot Torture Here Is Positive Easy Cure
The following is absolutely the surest and quickest cure known to science for all foot ailments: "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for fully fifteen minutes gently rubbing the sores parts. The effect is really wonderful. All soreness goes instantly; the feet feel delightful. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. It gives immediate relief for sore bunions, sweaty, smelly and aching feet. Especially effective for frost-bites and chilblains. A twenty-five cent box of Calocide is said to be sufficient to cure the worst feet. It works through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Don't waste time on uncertain remedies. ## TO LENGTHEN THEIR TERMS

Four-Year Terms for North Dakota Officials Are Proposed.

Governor, Legislators, the State and County Officials Are Affected.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—A bill introduced yesterday by Representative Nyhus of Pierce county may cause considerable of a contest. It provides for four-year terms for county officials and for members of the house of representatives. There has also been a bill submitted favoring four-year terms for the governor and state officials, but it has not yet been passed upon.

Senator Overman of Williams county thinks the state could save a lot of money by engaging clerk hire under the contract system, the same as engravers and engrossers of bills are now engaged. The fact that it has cost the present legislature approximately $25,000, though it has been in session only thirty days, for its various expenses, may be a point in favor of the proposed plan.

There has been a committee appointed to investigate the question of why some of the department reports, in published form, were not in the hands of the legislative members. That committee has found that the report of the board of control of fish and game has not yet been made, and also that the former secretary of state failed to send in several of the reports until after they had been in the file in his office for some time, the printer being delayed with his work as a result.

Initiative and Referendum.
Feb. 5 has been fixed by the house as initiative and referendum day, and at that time definite action on the three bills that were passed by the last legislature will be taken. The measures include one providing for the operation of the principle on the Constitution and legislative enactments; another would limit its operation to the Constitution alone, and still another to legislative enactments alone. The adjournment at the end of this week until the following Monday probably does away with an extended recess during the present session. In the house the idea of taking a long recess at this time did not meet with the approval of many members.

The minor normal appropriation bill was introduced by Senator Bond yesterday. The total amount sought is $17,661.

Every county in North Dakota was compelled to stand a raise of about two cents in the premiums on county officers' bonds this year as against four years ago. This year as against last year, the total amount of a state bonding department and a bill was introduced yesterday by Senator Ringstrom with that as the object.

There will be a host of women suffrage supporters in Bismarck during the coming few days. The success of the supporters in getting the Bronson bill and sending it back to the committee on women suffrage where it will be considered with the 'caveat' bill, is taken by them as an inspiration to open up the fight with renewed vigor.

FEWER DELINQUENT TAXPAYERS THIS YEAR

A decrease of about 1,000 in the number of delinquents will be shown in the delinquent real estate list which the county auditor is about to turn over to the hands of the printer for publication. The list will include about 2,000 descriptions, as compared with 3,000 last year. The list will be published about Feb. 15.

The personal property tax collection is keeping the county treasurer's office busy. The law specifies that all such taxes must be paid before March 1 of the current year. If not paid until later, a 20 per cent penalty attaches.

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.

Amusement Notes.

E. G. Cooke, one of the best known theatrical agents in the United States, is in Duluth this week making preparations for the approaching appearance of "Ben Hur".

Mr. Cooke has been associated with the "Ben Hur" company for twelve years, and has visited Duluth several times with it.

"This seems to be a 'Ben Hur' year," said Mr. Cooke yesterday. "We have a bigger and more elaborate production than ever before, carrying twelve horses for the chariot race now, and we have broken all business records on the coast. It is rather amazing to see a show breaking its attendance records in the twelfth year of its existence and speaks well for its popularity."

"Ben Hur" will be in Duluth for five nights and two matinees, beginning Feb. 15.

Every day is bringing "Madame Sherry" nearer to its local engagement. It is hitting the high spots on its second trans-continental trip, again leaving in its wake millions of laughing, delighted people and facing as many more expectant audiences as it did last season.

The headlined act at the Orpheum this week, "An Opening Night" is being presented by a remarkable cast for a vaudeville offering, and the list of actors and actresses contained on the program is quite a formidable one. Eight or ten of them are well known to those who follow theatrical affairs closely, but perhaps the two best known names on the program are May McManus and Charles Warren. Miss McManus was starred for several seasons in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," playing the part of "Lovey Fletcher." She was seen here in the company presenting this charming little drama, Charles Warren, who plays the part of the character, has been all through the country for his con-

TONNAGE TAX BILL HEARING

Bjorge and Frankson Present Arguments in Favor of Bill.

Statements Challenged and Very Little Left of Their Pleas.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative H. O. Bjorge of Lake Park and Thomas Frankson of Spring Valley, argued their tonnage tax bill before the house committee on taxes and tax laws.

They had very heavy going of it, and were challenged so effectively on statements after statement and argument after argument that very little was left of their pleas.

Their fundamental argument, necessarily, was that the ad valorem system of taxing iron mines, now in vogue, is inadequate and unjust.

Yet it was pointed out repeatedly by Representatives C. H. Warner of Aitkin, A. L. Warner of Duluth and C. T. Knapp of Chisholm that in spite of the Bjorge-Frankson arguments that the ad valorem system is unjust to the small mine owner who perhaps has no market for his holdings except the great United States Steel corporation, because the constant necessity of paying an ad valorem tax makes it difficult for him to hold out.

And again it was pointed out by the opponents of the bill that it offers absolutely no relief to such small mine owners because it would leave them subject to the ad valorem taxes which Bjorge and Frankson condemn.

As in previous sessions, the whole argument resolved itself into the question that the mining interests are wealthy and can pay heavy taxes, and that the local governments, the mining communities can shift for themselves if a large tax can be extracted for the benefit of the rest of the state.

Bjorge's Argument.
Mr. Bjorge was the first speaker, and he started in with a legal attempt to justify the classification of mining properties for taxation as proposed in the bill. He said that mines should be assessed on a different basis from farms, because the farm is permanent and its value is entirely on the surface, and the mine can be exhausted and its wealth is hidden beneath the surface. It was said, he would, to put an exact valuation on the farm, but impossible to do that with a mine. The ad valorem system, he said, was unfair to those with small capital and gives an undue advantage to those with large capital because they can exhaust their mines quickly, pay their taxes all at once, leaving the poor mine owner to pay every year on the ad valorem basis.

He cited the possible instance of two mines side by side, each containing 2,000,000 tons of ore. One is owned by a corporation and the other by an individual. They are worth the same and are taxed the same. But the steel corporation can get the whole 2,000,000 tons out in a single year, and need pay no more taxes, while the humble individual can mine only 1,000,000 tons a year, and thus must continue to pay taxes for five years.

Representative A. L. Warner asked Mr. Bjorge what relief his bill would give to the poor mine-owner, asked under it, just as now, he would have to pay taxes on an ad valorem basis if he were a non-producing mine, and for local purposes—amounting to a great majority of the local taxes paid—if it were a shipping mine.

Bjorge Is Stumped.
That stumped Mr. Bjorge, who could only respond that the tonnage tax, because of its fluctuating nature, would not be a good system for local taxation.

"If the ad valorem system is bad for state purposes," asked C. H. Warner of Aitkin, "why is it not bad for local purposes, also?"

And again Mr. Bjorge was stumped. Asked to continue the ad valorem system if it was constitutional to apply two different kinds of taxation to the state property, and Mr. Bjorge gave his opinion that it is.

Mr. Frankson said, taking up the argument after Mr. Bjorge had finished, that Southern Minnesota pays twice as much in taxes as Northern Minnesota. Then he explained that by state south of a line drawn east from the boundary between Otter Tail and Douglas counties, the mines are taxed on the basis of their production, while the mines in the north are taxed on the basis of their value.

Mr. Frankson's main argument was to the effect that it is impossible to tax iron mines equitably on the ad valorem basis.

Yet, like Mr. Bjorge, he still proposed to continue the ad valorem system to tax producing mines for local purposes, and to tax non-producing mines for both state and local purposes.

To prove his point, he quoted estimates in certain local laws made by the tax commission in 1907, its first year, and showed that since then more than 50 per cent of the mines in the commission had been shipped from these mines.

Also, Mr. Frankson said the mining industry is rich and can afford to pay more taxes than other property, even though they must be forced to pay tribute to the state. C. Dunn asked a question, instancing two mines side by side, of equal value and of equal iron contents, one owned by the Steel trust and the other by a private owner, he wanted to know what there was in the proposed bill to prevent the Steel trust from getting the whole 2,000 tons a year—and get off with a state tax of $100, while the private mine-owner, for lack of facilities for such operations, would have to stay in the non-producing class and pay the much higher state tax under the ad valorem system.

Mr. Frankson's only answer was that he doubted if the Steel trust would do that.

He also advocated the tonnage tax as a move to conserve the state's natural resource of iron ore.

C. T. Knapp inquired what good it would do the state if the iron deposits, by a system of taxation which is expensive to mine the ore, more expensive than it is in other states where no tonnage tax was levied—were conserved for a thousand years; and what benefit there would be to the state if the complete paralysis of the mining communities that such conservation would mean.

Mr. Frankson replied that conservation is very much in favor nowadays. "If high valuations and high taxes are under the ad valorem system encourage the exhaustion of the ore supplies," asked C. H. Warner, "would it not be a sharp reduction in the valuations of the iron mines?"

Mr. Frankson didn't think he would carry the argument that far, logical though it would be.

Doubts Commission's Ability.
Frankson questioned the ability of the tax commission properly to assess the iron mines on the ad valorem basis. He pointed out that one would have to know the valuations are based on secured from the mine owners themselves, who are interested and cannot be depended upon for fair returns.

A. L. Warner asked him if he was familiar with exploring and mining methods, and Frankson said that while he had given the matter some investigation, perhaps he was not as well acquainted with these things as he should be.

Whereupon Mr. Warner informed him that the mining companies do not do their own exploring, but let it to contractors, that the contractors return complete reports of every drill hole, and the cores taken from the holes at five-foot intervals, that the analyses of these cores and the maps made of the contents of the mine that is being explored, are available to the taxing officials.

Mr. Warner asked J. G. Armonson of the tax commission, who was present, if the commission had any better means of getting accurate valuations of farm lands than it has of mining lands; and Mr. Armonson said that it has not.

Mr. Warner asked him if the commission has as good facilities for reaching the taxable value of timber lands as it has of iron lands, and Mr. Armonson said it has not.

Mr. Frankson's criticisms of the tax commission's system of valuing iron mines had plainly interested Mr. Armonson. At this point the latter asked Mr. Frankson how his bill proposed to get at the percentage of metallic iron in the ore taxed by the tonnage tax method, since the tax is according to the percentage of iron content.

Frankson said that the tax commission could use the cargo analysis which it now gets.

Mr. Armonson said, "but these come from the mine owners themselves, so we are back where we started."

Frankson said that if the graduated system of the independent companies are in favor of it, the law could be changed to provide for a flat tax of 5 cents a ton.

To Find Reply.
Mr. Armonson said that could be done, but asked Mr. Frankson how the county would like a flat valuation of a certain figure on every acre of farm land, regardless of its character or value. To this Mr. Frankson could think of no suitable reply.

Friday night representatives of the iron mining groups from Crow Wing, Aitkin, Itasca and St. Louis counties are to be given a hearing before the committee. If possible the hearings will be held in the morning, but so many are expected to appear against the bill that in all probability it will not be held until the next week before the committee can act on the bill.

voting for it this time, and vice versa. This left the vote precisely the same as two weeks ago, except that there was one more vote against it yesterday than there was two weeks ago, when one senator was absent.

The vote was as follows:
For—Senators Bedford, Benson, Boyle, Cushman, Clarke, C. F. Cook, Dale, Denegre, Duce, Dwinell, Elwell, Fossheim, Froshaug, Gunderson, Harstad, Johnson, Lunde, Mendenhall, Nelson, Odell, Peterson, Putnam, Rustad, Sagen, Sogstad, Schaller, Sundberg, Thoe, Wilson.

Against—Senators Ahmann, Anderson, Carpenter, Chadwick, Collier, L. O. Donaldson, Donaldson, Dunn, Duxbury, Gietzbaach, Gunn, Hackney, Handman, Johnston, Klein, McGilchrist, McGilchrist, Murray, Olson, Pauly, Pochler, Pugh, Rockne, Stebbins, G. H. Sullivan, Sullivan, Swanson, Van Haven, Wallace, Weiss, Works—33.

If the method of approach by way of the iron fails, advocates of the woman suffrage are figuring that they will bring their proposal before the people at the next election but one under the initiative, which is almost certain to pass the legislature and be approved by the voters in 1914.

No Standing Appropriations.
The finance committee of the senate and the appropriations committee of the house met yesterday afternoon in joint session and passed a resolution to do away with all standing appropriations. Those provided for by standing tax levies, like the tax of 23 of a mill for the state university.

The committee also selected an empowered Chairman Clague to appoint a subcommittee of five representatives to pass on all salary bills that are introduced, in order to make a salary history in the various departments.

The house committee on temperance will take up the county option bill within a few days, and as there will be no public hearing on it, the committee will report the bill to the house promptly and move to make it a special order, probably for some day next week.

The house transportation committee will have a public hearing on distance tariff tonight. The senate yesterday afternoon continued its hearings on the senate distance tariff bill.

The Steel Plant Article.
Great interest was expressed by the members of the legislature in the pictorial feature in Monday's Herald showing the great scope and the remarkable progress made on the new steel plant of the United States Steel corporation, which is about ready to begin operations.

To be entirely frank about it, there were members who had fancied that the talk of a steel plant at Duluth was made for a purpose and that it had no foundation in reality. Then members have a different idea of it now.

Senator Chadwick took advantage of his position in the senate yesterday to call the attention of the senators to the article.

Gilman-Contes Contest.
The house elections committee yesterday afternoon sent for the county auditors of Stearns and Benton counties and asked them to bring in the ballots from four precincts in St. Cloud and the villages of Foley and Sauk Rapids for use in the Gilman-Contes election contest, which is proving to be a pretty tough nut for the committee to crack.

The house committee yesterday afternoon recommended for passage the tax commission's bill proposing a county assessor system instead of the present plan of assessment by local assessors.

The house committee on telegraph and telephone had a public hearing last night in the house chamber, when a large number of representatives of independent telephone companies appeared in behalf of the Minnesota telephone under the railroad and warehouse commission and requiring the different companies to be merged with each other's lines on request.

The Bell telephone concern is bitter-

Russian Woman Puts Rapier Through His Heart at Moscow.

Moscow, Jan. 29.—Mme. Nadia Putokina on Sunday killed her husband in a rapier duel to which she had formally challenged him.

The Putokins were both professors of fencing, and their rooms were crowded every day with fashionable people. One of these was an army officer who aroused the jealousy of Mr. Putokina.

The jealousy of the husband led the officer to issue a challenge, but Mme. Putokina, declaring that her husband had been insulted, sent seconds to her husband and insisted that he should fight her.

In the duel Nadia made a vigorous attack. The husband contented himself with parrying her thrusts, but in the third bout his wife's rapier pierced his heart and killed him instantly.

DEEP-SEATED COUGH CURED IN 5 HOURS.
New Home-Made Syrup.
(Cut this out.)
Progress in medical compounds never ceases, and now it is stated by a prominent medical man that any deep-seated cough or cold on the lungs can be actually cured in five hours by the clock. Opium and morphine have been resorted to in the past, as relief measures. But now it is learned that the system must be treated to rid it of inflammation and congestion. A tonic laxative cough syrup does the work so quickly and thoroughly as to be almost magical. What heretofore has taken weeks to cure can be accomplished in hours. Get this formula, filled or mix it at home and always keep it on hand: One-half ounce fluid white cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and the orange syrup, white pine compound. Shake the bottle and take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day until the system is purified and tones up. Give children less according to age. One filling will usually cure a whole family, as the dose is small.

Outlaw Captured.
Winthrop, Minn., Jan. 29.—John Baron, the Redwing mountain outlaw, was captured in the bush by a posse last night, five miles from his old home, the scene of yesterday's tragedy. He offered no resistance when arrested and was brought to the Dauphin, Minn., jail, today. The woman with whom he was living and whose baby was killed, and she herself critically wounded, confessed today, say officials, that she fired all the shots that came from the farm house.

BISMARCK BOYS TO BE COMMITTED.
Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 29.—George Rand and Arthur Gandy, both aged 13, who have confessed to a robbery of $1,000, will be sent to the reformatory at Mandan. When searched at the local police station, the boys were found to have pass keys to several of the places of business in the city. The lads had broken into the basement of the armory and stolen twenty-five boxes of shells and some clothing. They had planted their foot in several parts of the city.

Simple Way to Darken Gray Hair
You Can Prepare a Mixture at Home That Does It Nicely.

If every person knew what a simple matter it is to darken their gray hair this sign of advancing years would be a rarity. The ordinary dye or stain is not at all satisfactory and is easily detected, leaving the hair sticky, rubs off or colors the scalp, but this simple recipe, which you can make at home at little cost, overcomes all these objections and is certain to give splendid satisfaction. To 7 ozs. of water add one small box of Barbo Compound, 1 oz. of bay rum and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. This makes a mixture that gradually darkens the hair or beard to a rich, glossy brown, removes dandruff and other ills of the scalp and promotes the growth of the hair. Apply once a week and when it is sufficiently darkened use once every two weeks. Be sure your druggist doesn't give you a substitute for Barbo Compound. If he is out of it, he should order it for you from his wholesaler. You will find if you try this excellent formula that there is nothing that can take its place.

PUTS BLAME ON TOBACCO

Walter B. Moer Says Excessive Use of Weed Drove Him Insane.

Lawyer Is Committed to State Hospital at Fergus Falls.

Incessant use of tobacco for forty years robbed Walter B. Moer, aged 54, a local attorney, of his reason, it was said yesterday afternoon to a board of examining physicians, in an insanity court conducted by Judge Gilpin.

Moer, who on the morning of Jan. 13 last in his room at 609 East Third street attempted suicide by slashing his throat, was yesterday afternoon removed from St. Mary's hospital to the probate court where he was examined as to his sanity.

Dr. Boyer and Stewart, after a lengthy examination, found the attorney insane. He was so adjudged by Judge Gilpin and committed to the detention hospital for the insane at Fergus Falls. He will be treated there for his mental afflictions.

During his examination, Moer talked quite rationally and was depressed in spirit for a number of years. This he claimed was brought about by the excessive use of tobacco. He said that he felt the habit growing on him and tried many times to break it. Weeks of brooding over this led to his attempt at suicide, he stated.

Smoked As a Boy.
"I have used tobacco since I was a boy of 14," he told the court and doctor. "The first time that I ever prayed—that is as a man—I asked my God to forgive me for my sins from tobacco."

Moer is a brother of the late Judge Moer, who for a number of years was on the district bench in St. Louis county and who was succeeded by Judge Dibel, last fall. Moer was the Democratic candidate for county attorney against Warren E. Greene. County Attorney Greene was present at yesterday's hearing in his official capacity. Moer is a single man and as far as is known has no near relatives.

In 1881, he was afflicted by a sun-stroke while playing baseball with a college team. Since that time he has been more or less eccentric in his habits and it is said, at times has been violent. Since that time, he has also been deeply interested in mental telepathy and the science of thought transmission.

Moer came to Duluth in 1894 and was admitted to practice as a lawyer in 1904. He has a number of friends among the legal profession, who have expressed willingness to receive reports from Fergus Falls as to his progress under the treatment given him there.

When asked if he had any objections to going to the state institution, Moer stated that he had none. "It is the judgment of my friends that I be sent there. What they say, I presume is best for me," he said.

"Hands Off," Says Germany.

Constantinople, Jan. 29.—Hands off all the Turkish possessions in Asia, was Germany's pointed notification to Turkey in her reply to the joint note of the European powers.

The German interests in Asia Minor are great and are bound up with those of Turkey. The recent note of the European powers promised that Turkey would be aided in her future development. Germany will lend powerful assistance.

In any case, however, to all the Turkish possessions in Asia, "Hands Off," says Germany.

Important Concessions.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, coated tongue, indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

HOLD SAMPLE ELECTIONS

For practice in the use of the preferential ballot, Duluth voters will have an opportunity to vote on the name of men of national reputation—good and bad.

The committee in charge of the campaign of education is preparing a sample ballot that will be given wide distribution. At each meeting at which the new system is explained, a sample election will be held.

The ballot will contain the names of such notable as William Lorimer, Robert M. La Follette, Carter Harrison, Ben Tillman and Chauncey Dwyer for mayor.

The names used for long term commissioner candidates for the purpose of illustration are those of Joseph W. Cook, Joe Cannon, Eugene V. Debs, Martin J. Wade, Albert Cummins, Rudolph Spreckles and Hinky Dink Knicker.

The short term candidates are Ben Hooper, Abe Ruef, Otto James, Joe Bailey, Nick Longworth, William J. Bryan, Theodore Roosevelt, Boies Penrose and Charles Murphy.

The illustrative ballot contains the names of Charles M. Start and George W. Wickersham for special municipal judge and J. M. C. Smith and J. S. Candler for assistant municipal judge.

The committee in charge of the campaign is already ready to begin its work. Any organization holding a meeting before election and anxious to have the preferential system explained may have a speaker assigned by calling on Chairman T. T. Hudson or Secretary Walter F. Dacey.

Many Duluth men who have made a study of the new system are on the list of speakers. No have either sent cases to the institute or used the treatment in private practice, during which time Dr. Oppenheimer has made a careful study of every possible effect under varying conditions.

HOW TO INSURE YOUR POCKETBOOK

To do that you simply make sure of getting the highest quality for the most reasonable price. You yourself cannot be familiar with the values of all the necessities you buy, and so you must rely on what others tell you of the good points of the various articles.

Insure your pocketbook by taking the word of the man who has his all at stake—the manufacturer himself. If he tells you an untruth through his advertisement, you will not continue to use his goods, and his profits will fall off. In time his misleading statements to buyers will drive him out of business.

You can insure your pocketbook with the help of THE HERALD—get quality and price and convenience with small effort. Rely upon the advertisements of THE HERALD'S advertisers. You can in that way put yourself out of the power of unscrupulous manufacturers, and be guided to the stores of reliable dealers. It pays in the money, and trouble saved to read THE HERALD'S advertisements closely and constantly every day.

SAYS FARMERS ARE DERELICT

North Dakota Professor Urges Work for Tariff Upon Flax Fibre.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Farmers of Northwestern states are warned by Dean Bailey of the North Dakota agricultural college that they must take some interest in the protective duties on flax fibre if that industry is to be built up in North Dakota.

After long years of experiment work, said Mr. Bailey, "I am convinced that flax of high quality can be grown in North Dakota and the Northwest, but I find that imported flax of good grade sells in Springfield, Mass., from 3 1/2 to 11 cents per pound or an average of about 5 cents. The latter will cost the American 8 cents to produce it, so it is easily seen that there must be some additional protective duties if the industry is to be developed in the Northwest.

"I know," continued the professor, "that the people of North Dakota are not enthusiastic over high tariff, but as other people are getting protection it might be well for them to look after their own interests in this matter."

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Denominationalism is the curse of the organized church of today, according to Prof. Vernon P. Squires of the University of North Dakota. ### TO EXHIBIT AT MEETING

Duluth Concerns Will Display at North Dakota Hardware Meet.

Annual Gathering Will Be Held in Grand Forks Feb. 12 and 14.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hardware jobbing houses of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth will maintain exhibits at the hardware exposition at the annual meeting here Feb. 12 to 14 of the North Dakota Retail Hardware association.

Following is the program: Wednesday, Jan. 29.—Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Joseph's church Tuesday for Frank and August Kowalski, the two sons of a family who died simultaneously Friday from heart failure. The bodies were buried in the same grave, one in each of the vaults above the other.

BARROWS HAVING QUITE A GROWTH

Hanna Mine in Cuyuna Range Town Is Installing Huge Pump.

Barrows, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—This Cuyuna range town is growing rapidly and more money is being put into the mine operated by the M. A. Hanna company. All dwellings are occupied and there is a big demand for rooms. The town's company is planning to build more houses to meet the growing demand.

At the Hanna mine they are now installing a huge pump with a pumping capacity of 3,000 gallons per minute. It will be in working order, and mining will then begin in earnest, and about 100 more men will be put to work. A third shaft, a large three compartment well, has been put down to the ore level. By so doing, the court sustained the appeal of the children and their father when their stepmother mistreated them.

Investigation by school teachers is said to have disclosed that Spritka's second wife, the child's stepmother, was in the habit of ill treating the children in various ways.

The complaint having been brought to his attention, Judge Parsons committed the children to Sparke.

An appeal to the supreme court was taken by Spritka, the husband, the high court upholding the lower court.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 28.—John R. Mitchell, president of the Capital National bank, St. Paul, was elected second vice president of the Twin City Rapid Transit company, at the recent annual meeting of officials of that company in New York.

A change in the management of the company was necessitated, however, whereby Herace Lowry, formerly general manager, was elected first vice president. The office of general manager was abolished.

LIGNITE MINING IS STILL YOUNG

North Dakota Mining Inspector Declares Industry Is in Infancy.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Lignite coal mining in North Dakota is in its infancy," states J. W. Bliss, assistant state engineer, and mining inspector. "During the past year about 645,000 tons were mined, according to the reports obtainable from the operators. The amount of coal available in this state is estimated at 500,000,000 tons and it underlies practically half the state.

"There are about 105 mines operated," continued Inspector Bliss, "from which sales are made. Of course there are many others from which farmers dig sufficient quantities for their own use. Some of the 105 mines sell very little. During the winter 1,300 men are engaged in the mining in North Dakota but only about 400 in the summer time. Last year's output was about 10 per cent in excess of 1911 and the 1913 tonnage will be greatly increased.

"Practically all the mines are operated on either the single or double shaft system. The value of coal are from three to nineteen feet in depth and are mined by the open-pit method. The surface, None of the mines develop dangerous explosive gas though fire damp is present."

Clay County Boys, Who Died Together, Laid at Rest.

Moorhead, Minn., Jan. 28.—Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Joseph's church Tuesday for Frank and August Kowalski, the two sons of a family who died simultaneously Friday from heart failure. The bodies were buried in the same grave, one in each of the vaults above the other.

The plaintiff declared that Mr. Gunderson had never released her from the engagement, by word, but sent her several letters explaining that his children objected the wedding, and asking that they mutually agree not to marry. Mr. Gunderson testified that he thought the letters explained everything, and that he understood he was released from the engagement with Mrs. Brown.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Gossip, Comment and Sporting Editorial Review as Written By Bruce.

IF WE break into what might be called the reserve league of the Twin Cities, there will be use for all of the baseball—the good kind—that we can use. Hence solicitude, anxiety and frets regarding any of the desirable ones that we might see escaping in the offing. This ambiguous opening, silly no doubt, leads right up to the front door of the house occupied by Red Harvey Blum.

The Toledo Blade, a newspaper that is supposed to be sharp, comes out in resplendent headlines and a picture and tells by tick and towey and all of canners of the meteoric career of the lad that we are hoping may be back with the Sox the coming season.

We love Red Blum around these parts, speaking in the pure and refined vernacular of the game, and while there would be genuine joy and "told-you-so's" permeating the early spring gossip, should he land the regular berth on first base, there would likewise be jubilation jumping joyers the pride of the local diamond workers to come back and be the initial sack tender for the coming season.

MILWAUKEE ministers have come to the front and declared in favor of a boxing law. No one has ever been able quite to determine the status of the thing in the bordering commonwealth, and one can witness the anomaly of a state that holds boxing matches and yet petitioning the state legislature for a law that will permit boxing.

QUENE of the Chicago papers, imputed, or fired, just as the fitness of the case may be, with the spirit of hearing both sides, the case meaning the continuous baseball wrangle that followed the dismissal of Frank Chance, opened up its columns to Charles W. Murphy—and, Mother, the fur has been flying ever since.

First came Murphy, verbose, frothy and scattering airy perisage, and then came the fans, armed with axes and muskets.

They say that this Murphy is thick-skinned; and even if he is, after reading the open letters, signed by some of the most prominent fans of the city of Chicago, he should be a head of roses. If Charley Comiskey doesn't have the best year in the history of the game in Chicago, the finger of present prospects is sadly off in the dope.

Fred Snodgrass has signed his contract. He did not holdout for an increase in salary.

NOW comes the cry of old Doc Roller. What do you think? No, never mind—there is not a chance in the world that you would guess. The medical man says he is going to claim the championship of the world in the event of Frank Gotch retiring.

Either this Roller rogers has the greatest sense of humor in the world, or else he is a wrestling recluse, who knows not what the world is saying.

And another thing—Roller says he desires deeply to fight Jess Westward. It's a personal pronoun—pardon, a personal grudge, he intimates, that is driving him on to seek battle with the giant Swede of the placid Des Moines river.

Perhaps it is revenge and insulted honor, but if there is no money in the thing, take the tip from us, there will be no fight. This Roller loves the long stuff with greater ardor than a crabbed batchelor past the 57 mark hates molasses-stuck children with horns and tops and flanked by a motley crew of frolicking puppies.

Mike Schreck has become a wrestler. He could always throw the schoolers down.

FRANK La Porte, former second baseman of the St. Louis Browns, is now receiving 200 eggs per dozen from his hens. Even counting the high cost of living in the hen yard, the profuse profits accruing to this simple citizen would make the very asking of the question as to whether he is a holdout a bad break to make in front of any observant judge of probate.

PACKEY McFarland has some of the serial attributes of Robert W. Chambers and Mrs. Humphrey Ward. He is always being continued in our next.

For several years he was going to fight Nelson, or Nelson was going to fight him, it matters not. The crux of the thing is that he was always going to fight—and did not.

Then along the serial road put on in collaboration with Ad. Wolgast. They fooled around until the public patience became frayed and the finish has not been written as yet.

And what nerve—even before the completion of the serial entitled "We'll fight if we get the money," there is another one started in collaboration with that rising young author, Jack Brittan, entitled "Pleasure Promoter, pass the Purse."

After saying all of these things about the pride of the stock yards (yes, they have pride in that dis-boxing matches and yet petitioning the state legislature for a law that will permit boxing).

AMATEUR GLOVE WELDERS READY Many Athletes Await the Call for Boxing Bouts at Auditorium.

The third of the padded fist will be heard this evening at the Auditorium. A small army of sturdy amateurs are lined up awaiting the call to glove contest, and all expectations are realized here. The large audience of some clever boxing, some hilarious and some of the padded mitts, young steam of amateur effort will be loosed and enthusiasm kicked in along with the gloves.

Eddie Barry, the crack of Duluth, and Martin Bugl await the call to fight. These two boys represent the class of the city, or are popularly supposed to be, and the bout promises to bring the crowd cheering to its feet.

There are others—a number of them. The lover of glove work will have sufficient variety to suit the most fastidious. The sort of vaudeville of glove work, with something like ten numbers on the program.

As has been stated before, the amateur boxing tournament is an innovation here. In other cities the amateur glovemen have scored heavily with the patrons of the padded mitts. In the event of the tournament of this evening, something like 349 in the audience of the first goal of the tournament will be made to secure the sanction for the boxing championships in this city with the permission and approval of the stewards of the American Amateur Athletic Union.

Returning to the bouts of this evening, it might be stated that the best of Duluth amateurs, augmented by some of the boys from outside, will be on the scratch at the call of time. The majority of the entrants have given private exhibitions of their skill to Mr. Ryberg, the former St. Paul boxer, and he is satisfied that the young men to furnish the sport.

The announcement was made yesterday the card will start promptly at 8 o'clock, as there is a long list of bouts.

DULUTH LOSES TO PORTAGE

Copper Country All-Star Team Too Fast for Locals.

Duluth Springs Surprise in First Half, Giving Experts a Scare.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 28.—The Duluth Curling club hockey team was beaten last night by Portage Lake. The score was 7 to 3, and the game was the fastest seen in Houghton since the old international league days. The Portage Lake team, it should be said, was an all-star aggregation, the players being picked from half a dozen teams on the peninsula. Duluth sent her regular team.

Backed a Star. At the beginning of the game was a surprise and rather startling. It was conceded that Portage Lake would win because Duluth's team is new and lacking in team work, but when Duluth carried off the honors of the first half, scoring 2 to Portage Lake's 0, it began to look as though Duluth had been underrated, but Portage Lake got going in the second half and there was no further chance for Duluth.

The game which was fast throughout, was marked by several pretty combination rushes by both sides, closed with the wing sixteen minutes after the opening of play. In the second period, Exley scored the first goal for Portage Lake. This was followed shortly by the third and last score for Duluth.

INTER CITY TROPHY PLAY

Duluth and Superior Curlers Will Contest for Manley-McLennan.

First Game Will Be Played at Duluth and Second at Superior.

The Manley-McLennan event will be the feature of the play at the curling club this evening. The trophy is at present in the possession of the Duluth club, Superior being beaten last season. The curlers from over the bay are sending a very strong team with the belief that the trophy will be taken back across the pond.

No matter whether Duluth or Superior wins the first round of the Manley-McLennan, the second round will be played at Superior some time the present week, either on Thursday or Friday evening.

Interest in tonight's games is very great and it is probable that the largest gallery of the year will watch the play. The facilities at the new club make it comparatively easy to follow the play, and each evening there is a good crowd of followers of the game watching the play.

While Duluth is confident of winning, Superior is sending what is said to be the strongest aggregation of curlers in the history of the club, and the play promises to be close all the way through.

Every sheet at the rink was filled last night, and if the play in the Duluth trophy games continues with the precision that has marked the play since the start Monday evening, the curling club will have accomplished something that is a decided innovation in the history of the local club.

Curling is increasing in interest with the progress of the season. The season's play in the four Duluth trophy events narrows down to the finals, it is believed that the interest will resemble that shown at bonspiels of the past.

Following is the result of the play of last evening, and also the draw for tomorrow evening.

AERO-ICE BOAT HAS GREAT SPEED

Demon III Makes Ninety Miles an Hour on Bay.

Fritz Ericsson, inventor of Demon III, the aero-iceboat that is creating sensations on the bay these days by its marvelous speed, says that next winter he will have one that will go 150 miles an hour. The present one has gone as high as ninety miles an hour, but sixty to seventy miles is the average employed.

Mr. Ericsson has had two other ice-boats before, but this is entirely different from the others and by all means the most effective. Mr. Ericsson is a foreman of the mechanical department of the Interstate Auto company, and has much experience in building power vehicles.

In the case of the Demon III, the propeller, instead of being at the rear to "drive" the machine, is on the front to "suck" or drag it along. The scooter is twenty feet long with a beam of only twenty-two inches, and its lines are much the same as those of a narrow rowboat, thus giving but little resistance to the wind, and yet furnishing comfort to the passengers.

With Demon I, Mr. Ericsson won the Royal Swedish-English iceboat cup in the winter of 1906-1907 and the cup of the Berlin exhibition in 1908. It was air-propelled but aroused Mr. Ericsson's interest in what a powered boat could do. His first attempt was a failure at Stockholm, Sweden, and Demon II, built here last winter, was the first boat of the kind that promised success. Nelson Bros. and door factory turned out the propeller used on Demon III. It is seven feet long and makes 1,800 revolutions a minute.

Mr. Ericsson believes that there is a great future for this type of boat, and that it can be put to passenger and commercial use with paying results.

New York, Jan. 28.—That poets, even those who are widely known and beloved, don't die rich was forcibly illustrated by the filing of the will of the late Will Carleton. "The poet of the farm," in Brooklyn, Astor, had several manuscripts he may have left, his fortune totaled less than $5,000.

The will is dated Dec. 17, 1912, one day before he died. He leaves everything to Norman C. Goodrich, his nephew, of Brooklyn.

PRACTICAL TRAINING IN THE SCHOOLS REQUIRED BY BILL BEFORE HOUSE

Compels All High Schools to Give Occupational Training.
Can Abolish Courses in Foreign Languages, If Necessary.
Bill Reserving Minerals in Railroad Land Grants Passed.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Former Speaker H. H. Dunn has before the house committee on education a bill which in its way would create a revolution as sweeping as woman suffrage or initiative and referendum.
It proposes to compel all high schools to give occupational training to its pupils.
It permits high schools to abolish courses in all foreign languages if necessary to make room for the industrial courses.
And it requires the state university to accept matriculants without schooling in foreign languages.
The latter point is probably why President Vincent of the state university has asked for a hearing on the bill, which will be given this afternoon.
Mr. Dunn's idea—which is not held exclusively by him—is that the public schools should be made more serviceable to society and to their pupils.
He holds that the schools ought to equip their pupils with practical training.

FOUR LOSE LIVES IN CHICAGO FIRE

Cheaply Constructed Hotel on North Clark Street Burns in Night.
Chicago, Jan. 30.—Four persons, three men and one woman, were burned to death, three men were seriously injured and a dozen others suffered lesser hurts in a fire which early today destroyed the Iowa hotel, a four-story brick structure at 330-332 North Clark street.
The hotel was a cheap affair which had only wooden floors for beds and was found in the rooms that had occupied which were in the south wing of the building where there was no access to a stairway only in the rear. Those seriously injured were from windows, either into an alley or onto the spur of the Northwestern L.

The dead:
JAMES O'GAR, 30 years old, New Haven, Conn.
BENJAMIN, 40 years old, home unknown.
JAMES LOVE, barber, 35 years old, 117 Marion street, Oak Park, Ill.
MISS PEARL CLARK, also known as Wilson, 27 years old.
When firemen arrived clouds of smoke were coming from above the door. It was the theory that those who lost their lives had been awakened but were unable to find their way out of the building.
The damage to the building was estimated at $15,000. No cause was given for the fire.

WANT DELEGATES TO BE FAITHFUL

Measure in Wisconsin Legislature Would So Provide.
Madison, Wis., Jan. 30.—Delegates sent to political conventions may hereafter be required to take an oath to "faithfully carry out the wishes of the political party as expressed by its voters at the time of their election."
A measure containing the above provision and that the primary be applied to delegates to national conventions and presidential elections was introduced in the assembly today by assemblyman C. H. Everett of Racine.
It is closely modeled after the Oregon law on this subject.
A visiting nurse for counties is proposed in a bill introduced in the assembly by Phillip Gannon of Superior.
The nurse must be an expert on hygiene, and among the duties will be instruction to tuberculosis patients and others in the best hygienic methods to be observed in preventing the spread of tuberculosis.
Two bills by Assemblyman McComb of Green Bay are designed to fully enforce the law directed against the use of the public drinking cup and broaden the present measure affecting the roller towel.
Another bill by Mr. McComb authorized the state board of health to elect jointly with the United States geological survey in determining the sanitary and other conditions and nature of the natural water supplies of the state.

FINALLY FINED $20.
Chicago Alderman Brought Into Court for Violating Ordinance.
Chicago, Jan. 30.—Al Tearnay, alderman, president of the Three I league and saloon proprietor, was fined $20 by a jury in the municipal court which found him guilty of keeping his place open after closing hours.
Much attention has been attracted to the case for the reason that Tearnay's alleged violations of the closing ordinance were reported more than 100 times by the police. He was not haled into court until a newspaper began pressing the charges. Three similar suits against Tearnay remain to be disposed of.

TAXING IRON ORE LANDS

State Tax Commission Says Its Plan Has Been Success.
Present Method of Classification and Valuation Is Equitable.
(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The abundant success with which the state tax commission has met the problem of taxing iron lands on the ad valorem basis is shown again by the report of the commission, just published.
The proportion of the iron mines to the total assessed valuation of real estate in the state has increased from 8.67 per cent to 25.55 per cent.
The total assessment of the iron properties has been increased by the tax commission from $64,486,409 in 1906, before the commission was created, to $259,418,277 in 1912.
Today, says the report, "the total realty assessment of the state exclusive of city and village property is $15,169,225; and of this amount $3 per cent is assessed on iron lands."

SUFFRAGETTES ARE THROWN FROM HALL

Create a Disturbance at Ceremony in City of Dundee.
Dundee, Scotland, Jan. 30.—Well organized bands of suffragettes raised a pandemonium during the ceremony of conferring the freedom of the city of Dundee, on Premier Asquith here today. The premier had hardly risen to acknowledge the honor when a chorus of "traitor" sounded through the hall.
Stewards and policemen were soon throwing the women out of the building. Screams of "You brutes" and sharp scurrilous remarks marked the passage through the hall of each group.
One woman sprang over the front of the gallery and was saved from falling among the audience, twenty feet below, when several men seized her by the skirts and held her suspended.

In Favor of Suffrage.
London, Jan. 30.—The British labor party today officially declared itself in favor of woman suffrage. By a vote of 539 to 437 a conference of the representatives of most of the trade unions of the United Kingdom adopted a resolution instructing labor members of parliament to oppose any franchise bill in which women were not included.
The significance to the woman suffrage movement of this resolution is very great. The trade unions have nearly all of whom are electors and their attitude would carry enormous weight in case woman suffrage were made a plank in the program of any party at a general election.

Thrown From Beds.
Chicago, Jan. 30.—People were thrown from their beds, hundreds of Italians driven in terror to the street, when a bomb exploded early today in the three-story brick hotel at 1717 Forster street. No one was seriously injured, although the shock shook buildings for blocks.
New Wisconsin State Fire Marshal.
Madison, Wis., Jan. 30.—Governor McGovern has sent to the senate the nomination of Clem Host of Milwaukee for the position of state fire marshal to succeed Thomas H. Purcell. Host is a brother of Gen. M. Host, former state insurance commissioner.

DRINKING CUP BILL THROUGH STATE SENATE

Forbids Use of Common Drinking Cups in Public Places.
County Division Reported Back Without Recommendation.
Bill for New State Fish Hatchery Introduced by Healy.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate this morning passed the Marden bill authorizing the state board of health to forbid the use of common drinking cups in public buildings, places and equipages. The vote was 14 to 20, two more than it needed; but the necessary majority was secured only after the completion of the roll call had been long delayed.

The senate committee on towns and counties this morning refused to take sides on the Boyle county division bill, and instead of voting to recommend it for passage, as Senator Boyle wanted, or for defeat, as Senators Chendle and Pugh wanted, it voted to report the bill out without recommendation, which means that the bill will go on general orders and be considered by the senate.
The house this morning adopted a report of the committee in transportation recommending for passage the Benzel bill prohibiting railroads earning more than $1,200 a mile from charging over 2 cents a mile.

In Favor of Coates.
The Gilman-Coates contest, decided by the committee last night in favor of the sitting member, John H. Coates, by a vote of 11 to 7, did not come before the house this morning, but it will be taken up next week.
Representative John G. Lennon of Minneapolis this morning introduced.

W. J. BRYAN WILL ACCEPT PORTFOLIO

Nebraskan Willing to Become Secretary of State in Wilson Cabinet.
Miami, Fla., Jan. 30.—Conferences between William J. Bryan and other prominent Democratic leaders, including Henry E. Alexander of Trenton, N. J., close personal friend of President Wilson, resulted in the announcement late last night that Mr. Bryan had given positive assurance that he would accept the portfolio of secretary of state in the Wilson cabinet. Mr. Alexander left early today for Trenton and he is believed to be the bearer of Mr. Bryan's answer to Mr. Wilson.
Mr. Bryan will, it is said, remain at his winter home until the last of February when he will leave for Washington to attend the inauguration ceremonies.

TESTIMONY ALL ONE WAY

Most of Witnesses Want Present Duty to Remain on Products.
Hearings Have Been Liberally Sprinkled With Politics Throughout.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The sundry schedule of the tariff law with its large number of varying articles that fall outside the other thirteen schedules, was again up for discussion today before the house committee on ways and means. The hearing room was crowded with representatives of interests involved and there was a formidable list of witnesses, but promised to occupy not only all day but possibly tonight.
Most of the witnesses want retention of the present tariff on the products of their industries. The testimony all through the tariff hearings has been liberally sprinkled with politics. The Democratic members of the committee contending for the principles of tariff for revenue only, with occasional free trade suggestions, and the Republicans intending in their examination of witnesses to bring up for discussion today the doctrine of protection for home industries and the working operation of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

Free List Comes Soon.
The remaining hearings will be the free list, the miscellaneous provisions and the administrative features of the tariff.
Chairman Underwood stated at the opening of today's hearing that the present 20 per cent tariff on harness and saddlery was too high. The statement was made while E. W. Campbell of Cincinnati, representing a saddlery association, was pleading for the retention of the duty.
"We are not going to write a protection bill," he said.

BALKAN ALLIES TERMINATE ARMISTICE; WILL HOSTILITIES FOR FOUR DAYS

HALF BILLION YARDS OF DIRT SLIDE IN CUT

Disastrous Movement of Earth and Rocks in Panama Canal.
Will Require Great Activity to Open Waterway This Year.
Engineers Fear Another Impending Break at Purple Hill.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Recent slides of earth and rock into the Culebra cut will make necessary great activity if the Panama canal is to be opened before the end of the present year. More than half a billion yards of earth and rock have fallen into the cut this month and engineers fear another impending break at Purple Hill will add not less than one million yards.
For a long time the notorious Cucaracha slide on the east bank of the canal has been quiet, but on the afternoon of Jan. 18 the earth movement began so rapidly as to carry away some of the dirt cars and completely cover all of the railroad tracks in the canal except one. Purple Hill is holding back a tremendous amount of earth, slowly moving towards the cut but the hill is showing signs of weakness and should it break away the canal prism would be almost filled at that point.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY.
Frenchman Kills Wife and Self to Avoid Separation.
Paris, Jan. 30.—A double tragedy was caused here today by a doctor's order that a man and wife would have to be separated because the woman was suffering from an incurable spinal disease.
The sick woman, Mme. Paul Carriere, was told last night she must go to a public hospital. Her husband sent their children to spend the night with an uncle. When the children left, their parents were distracted with grief, and the wife expressed the wish to die. The husband, who was a doctor, decided to follow her. This morning both were dead in their home. The woman strangled by her husband and the man hanging in a doorway.

PRICE OF OIL MANIPULATED

Believed Advance in Crude Product Not Governed By Demand.
Began to Rise Shortly After Dissolution of Standard Company.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 30.—The fourth successive advance in crude oil was recorded when the South Penn Oil company announced its prices at the opening of business this morning. As on every other day this week the price was lifted 7 cents a barrel, bringing Pennsylvania crude to $23.33 and other grades to the following prices: Mercer black, Corning and New Castle, $18.88; Cadell, $18.83; Somerset, $18.72. There was no change in Ragland from 70 cents.
When the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey was dissolved by order of the Federal supreme court last year a number of smaller companies were organized in this territory and competition for crude oil for the new refineries has become pronounced.
Was $1.30, Dec. 15, 1911.
For eighteen months preceding the dissolution of the Standard, which took place Dec. 15, 1911, Pennsylvania crude on which the price of all oil is based by the purchasing agencies, had been quoted at $1.30 a barrel. Eleven days afterward the price was advanced 5 cents, and within a month producers were receiving $1.50 a barrel for oil. Five cents more was added in April 19, 1912, and another 5 cents added June 5. From that time until Oct. 29, there was no change, but then it became apparent that the purchasing agencies of the Standard Oil Company subsidiaries had determined to force prices to a much higher level. The policy of tacking 5 cents on the price they paid, however, was continued until Dec. 14, when the dreams of the oil producer were realized in the announcement that $2 oil had arrived. But it did not stop there.
More Advances.
Soon after the beginning of the new year, another advance of 5 cents was recorded on Jan. 6, and on Jan. 27, 7 cents was added. It was not until this morning, however, that there have been daily advances of 7 cents, and oil men here were today predicting $2.50 oil by mid-summer, and $3 oil before the end of the year.
While it is realized by those who closely follow the runs and shipments, as well as by the government, that the scarcity of oil, the movement this week has been so unusual that many persons feel that it is more than the legitimate commercial demand underlies it. Officers of leading oil companies refuse to comment on the situation.

REBELS NEARING CIUDAD JUAREZ

Forces at Guadalupe Have Broken Camp and Moved Westward.
El Paso, Tex., Jan. 30.—Rebel forces located on the Texas border at Guadalupe during the past week, yesterday evacuated that town, and began moving along the border toward Juarez, thirty miles to the west and opposite this city. United States army officers estimate the rebel force to exceed 1,000, while other groups are reported moving from being to hundreds of miles.
Four Texas rangers defied the rebel army eight miles west of Fabana, Tex., when the rebels invaded American soil. The state police opened fire on what appeared to be hundreds of rebels in the brush in the rough country along the river, shooting two riders from their horses and capturing one of the wounded.

ANSWER BY TURKEY NOT ACCEPTABLE

Stipulates Retention of Part of Adrianople and Aegean Islands.
Religious Grounds Given as Reason for Holding Shrines.
Danger of a Tremendous Civil War in Turkey Is Increasing.

Constantinople, Jan. 30.—The Balkan allies today gave notice of the termination of the armistice, the period of grace of four days to start at 7 o'clock this evening.
Reply Not Acceptable.
London, Jan. 30.—"Emphatically the Turkish reply to the note of the European powers is not acceptable," was the comment made by Dr. Daneff, leader of the Bulgarian peace delegation, when he was shown the terms of the Ottoman response. He continued:
"Speaking in behalf of all the allies, I state that the Turkish reply is not of a character to form the basis of fresh negotiations. It has been said that the fortress of Adrianople and the Turkish islands in the Aegean sea must be ceded and without this the negotiations will not be resumed."
"Moreover, thiscession must be made before hostilities are resumed as the first shot will change our conditions."
None of the delegates of the Balkan nations has yet received any official communication concerning Turkey's reply to the note of the powers. When the gist of the document was communicated to them today they declared that after their note of yesterday, in which they officially broke off peace negotiations, they can make no further move without instructions from their governments.
The Balkan delegates do not consider the Turkish answer satisfactory, but they do not admit it may have the effect of suspending denunciation of the armistice and so give the Turks time to reconsider.

HEARINGS ENDED FOR THE PRESENT

Government Rests in Suit for Dissolution of Steel Corporation.
New York, Jan. 30.—Hearings in the suit to dissolve the United States Steel corporation were adjourned today until Feb. 18. While the government attorneys practically rested their case for the introduction of documentary evidence, they reserved the right to call other witnesses.
The documentary evidence consisted of papers pertaining to the financing of the American Steel & Wire company, a subsidiary of the corporation, and to the so-called Jackson Wire pools.
The government attorneys stated that their side probably would not be completed before Feb. 18.
H. Gary, chairman of the corporation, James A. Farrell, president, and H. C. Frick, a director, are among the witnesses whom the Steel attorneys expect to call.

Investigation Asked Into Expenditures By the Tuberculosis Board.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—New good roads legislation which proposes the payment of road taxes in cash and the abolishing of the time honored working out system, will have rough sledding in the present assembly. It is generally understood that the farmers' caucus, organized in the lower branch by the farmer members, is on record opposed to any such piece of legislation, and will vote solidly against it.
With the withdrawal of the Hughes highway commission bill, the cash payment of road taxes is the only important piece of roads legislation remaining for consideration. The bill has the support of practically all of the good roads organizations at work in the state, and they will maintain a lobby here till the matter is finally disposed of.
One step towards the improvement of road conditions was taken by the ## Duluth Carpenter Finds That He Is Part Heir to Millions.

John Jewell of Heights Beneficiary in Division of English Estate.

To find one's self the heir to millions after spending the best years of one's life toiling for a livelihood as a carpenter and contractor, is the unique fortune of John Jewell of Duluth.

Mr. Jewell and his wife and two boys, aged 19 and 17, live on Palmetto street at Duluth Heights. The Jewells have always been a thrifty, hard-working family, but have never been blessed with any considerable surplus of this world's goods. They have lived in Duluth during the last twelve years.

Mr. Jewell is 46 years old and has not the appearance of one whose youth and middle age have been spent in ease. He is the youngest of a family of five, three brothers and two sisters, all of whom have an interest in an immense fortune left by an uncle in England.

The Jewells were originally of Cambridge, Cornwall, Eng. Eighteen years ago George Jewell, one of the three brothers, having become estranged from his family, left for South Africa. This man was a blacksmith by trade. The Jewells were nearly all mechanics of one line or another. It was not long before the family in England lost all trace of him. They do not know whether he served in the Boer war. Perhaps he was killed in that service. He was about a score of years ago that John Jewell left England and came to Duluth. He was a carpenter and contractor. He has remained in Duluth during the last twelve years.

Not long ago John Jewell was talking with an acquaintance named George Jewell, the missing brother, and the other, who was well acquainted at Duluth, Mich. He remarked that he had known of a George Jewell in that city. John Jewell lost no time in following this clue, but nothing has developed thus far, throwing any light on the whereabouts of the missing brother. It is not certain that he ever came to America.

Another brother, James Jewell, is at Swansea, Wales, where he holds a government position. The two sisters, Helen and Mary Jewell, are still living in England, probably at or near the original Cambridge home.

The only child who left the fortune was Richard Jewell, who was employed by the government as an agricultural manager. This man spent nearly the whole of his life as a bachelor. Like the other Jewells, he was originally a mechanic, but he proved to be an excellent manager. He was continually engaged to get a good start financially early in life, and his investments were numerous. He was continually trading and reinvesting his money in various speculations. His excellent management enabled him to make his fortune grow rapidly, and at the time of his death he was estimated to have left a fortune in the neighborhood of $3,000,000. John Jewell of Duluth says that is not all.

The whole estate, John Jewell says, is in a peculiar tangle, but he does not care to give out details at present. He just wishes to hear more through letters from the division of the estate. There appears to be some litigation connected with the division. Richard Jewell, late in life, was married, but in his will he provided liberally for his children.

An effort is now being made to get all five of these heirs together in England for the settlement of the estate, but the greatest obstacle seems to be the finding of George Jewell.

TAXING IRON ORE LANDS

cent is assessed against lands and 33 per cent against mining properties.

When the commission began its work, only 14 per cent of the mining property was against mining property, and 85 per cent was against acreage—largely farming lands.

Steady Annual Increase.

There has been a steady annual increase in the total assessed value of mineral property for several years.

Organization of the tax commission in 1907, much time has been devoted to investigation of the mining situation in the state, and to a careful study of the situation.

Representative G. D. Ward, yesterday introduced a bill amending the law relating to the taxation of mineral property, and an officer to make the necessary changes in the law.

The present law forbids him making any contributions of nature to any religious organization.

Representative Lewis has a rather unique idea of handling the printing question. Because the expense of printing bills and journals is so heavy, he would have the legislature engage an editor whose duty would be to prepare the daily journals of the legislative work, and such bulletin would be published and sent to the regular mailing list to which all bills and journals are now sent.

Immediately after the legislature convenes next week it is expected that Governor J. B. Hanna will submit his bill to the state board of control and penal and charitable institutions.

Kenyon Bill Indorsed.

The house has passed a resolution introduced by Representative Colton, which is in the form of a memorial to congress asking that the Kenyon bill, regulating the shipment of lumber into "dry" states, be passed. There were only eleven votes against the resolution.

One of the freak bills introduced would prohibit the location of a cemetery within eighty rods of a school house.

President J. H. Worst of the agricultural college will deliver the Lincoln day address at the Johnsons held that day. On that day the agricultural college special train will visit Bismarck, and joint committee of the assembly has been appointed to arrange for the reception of the tourist.

A bill to increase the salaries of clerks of courts has been introduced. It raises the minimum from $500 to $1,000, and the maximum from $2,000 to $2,500.

Yes, you can buy it cheaper at one place than at another—if you couldn't there would be no need of more than one store.

CHILD NEARLY CRAZY

ECZEMA ITCHES SO

Head and Face Raw All Over. Hair Coming Out Badly. Scales on Head. Simply a Slight. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Six Weeks Sound and Well.

Coon Rapids, Iowa.—"When my little girl was two years old there was a sore on her head just above the temple in her hair in the shape of a ball. It kept getting larger, causing her lots of pain. After a couple of weeks it broke out in pimples all over her head and face. She was a sight to see. I affected her eyes so she could hardly see. We thought she would go blind. Her head and face were raw all over. It kept itching worse all the time and was just raw sores. Her hair came out badly when it was combed and we were afraid it would all come out. The eczema spread to her neck. She was in a terrible state. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. We could see an improvement the first week and she got better right along. In six weeks she was sound and well. Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured her. (Signed) Anna Pasley, Apr. 16, 1912.

Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 22c. size Book. Write for sample card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

study of an equitable system of classification and valuation worked out and adopted by this commission, not only an equitable one, but is much in advance of similar attempts in other states.

This explains why it is, as the tax commission states, that where in 1905 the assessed value of the state was $1,000,000,000, it is now $1,500,000,000, an increase of 50 per cent.

The commission acknowledges considerable indebtedness to the field work of the state school of mines.

"The information furnished by the school of mines," says the commission, "has enabled the commission to assess the mining property with much greater accuracy and equality than would have been possible without such assistance."

Adjusted Early.

Though ordinary real estate is assessed every year, the tax commission has readjusted iron mine assessments yearly, and it has found that it paid the greatest, the warmest and most enterprising campaign it has ever known.

ENGLISH INDUSTRIAL TROUBLES

Taxicab Drivers on Strike---Coal Miners of Wales Restless---Seamen and Firemen After Higher Wages
---Trouble Brewing in Cotton Trade---London Bakers After Better Pay and Shorter Hours.

London, Jan. 30.—England started the New Year with a strike of the taxicab drivers, and if the threats of the labor leaders are only partially carried out the present year will prove an even more serious one industrially than that which preceded it, and 1913 broke all records. Despite this the trade of the country likewise broke all records.

While the taxi strike causes much inconvenience in the city, it is the disputes in the industrial districts that are creating the greatest uneasiness. The coal miners of Wales, who were the hardest fighters in the last coal strike, are again being dissatisfied with the award of the commission appointed under the last strike, fixing the minimum wage, a deal with the matter. It is certain that the owners will fight any increase in the cost of production, as they have already lost to American contractors for the Italian government award of the high price at which they made tenders.

There are, however, two points against a general strike of the miners. The last struggle almost exhausted the funds of the unions, and under an old agreement the miners' wages are increased as the contract price of coal is raised. As this price has gone up at any rate, would probably be against another contest with the owners.

Another serious trouble threatened the seamen and firemen for a shipyard of the rates of wages and conditions of service on board ship. The men under the agitation of this Wilson, have been agitating for years. They have asked time and time again that a conciliation board be appointed by the owners and unions to standardize the wages and conditions, but the bulk of the owners have refused. In the hope of winning their point the men went on strike in 1911. The big companies granted the wages, and the smaller firms got their men back at the old wages and conditions. For is for these latter that the union is now fighting.

Mr. Wilson has announced that when the union had exhausted all means of diplomacy the executive would fix a rate where the seamen would take a "vacation." "In our union," he explained, "the word 'strike' is a very vulgar and nasty word to use."

More trouble, too, is brewing in the cotton trade. The operative cotton spinners have given notice of withdrawal from the Brooklands agreement, which has been in operation for some years, and which covered all disputes for the most part. The agreement, controlled by the employers' federation. The action of the spinners was determined by the alleged ineffectiveness of the agreement in dealing with complaints of bad management. There has been a continual source of annoyance to the owners and operatives, and which have increased enormously recently. The card room workers also have grievances against the agreement, and they too have given the necessary month's notice of withdrawal.

The London bakers are also preparing for a struggle for better wages and shorter hours. In some parts of London the conditions of the working bakers is deplorable. They have to work long hours in poorly ventilated cellars for the most part. They have organized, and by a large majority have agreed to go on strike unless their demands are granted.

Throughout the railway world there is considerable unrest over what is called "victimization." They claim that any of their number who are active in trade unionism are quickly gotten rid of by the companies or are put at such work that they cannot readily meet the other workmen. One big company, however, has found a way out of having continual disputes with the men. This is the London & Northwestern, the management of which has appointed a "grievance hearer." This man, who had proved himself to be a good mediator, was chosen to keep in touch with the men and investigate their grievances. Thus far the company announces that the experiment has been a great success, but it was pointed out that this was not a case of creating a post and finding a man for it, but rather of a sphere of activities being suggested by the personal qualities of a certain man.

Unpleasantness is also cropping up again along the London docks over the slowness with which it is alleged the port of London authority is reinstating those men who went on strike last year. Men were brought from the outside to fill their places, and although the docks are as busy as ever work cannot be found for all. The result is that many of the old men have found themselves without employment during the winter, and the distress in the dock districts has been more serious than ever before.

Jury Acquits Mrs. Barnes.
Cooksville, Tenn., Jan. 29.—Jury today acquitted Mrs. Myrtle Barnes, wife of a wealthy farmer, of a charge of murdering Mrs. Della Judd. Last May Mrs. Barnes boarded a train for her home, sought out Mrs. Judd and shot her dead. Mrs. Barnes had charged undue intimacy between her husband and Mrs. Judd.

If you are "easily satisfied" with your boarding place, it will not be long before nothing else will matter much, either.

CLEANED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

"And unto him that smiteth thee on one cheek offer also the other; and him that taketh away thy cloak forbid not to take thy coat also." St. Luke, viii.

When Hilma Jukinen first started to work at the Spaulding hotel as a chambermaid, she alleges that some one stole $4 at that time, her worldly cash wealth, from her room. But Hilma did not leave more money in the same place for the same person or any other to profit thereby. She did not take her wages and place them where the thief who had taken away her $4 could take away her earnings also.

The loss of her $4 inspired in Hilma a desire for revenge. She determined that she would get even and she made up her mind that it didn't make any difference to her who should be the goat, whether employer or employee.

Hilma is only 17 years old and it may be that with the assurance of youth she figured it out that she could get away with the goods without falling into any net. The house detective while this morning that Hilma was cute, but events proved that her cunning availed her nothing. For last night she was arrested on a warrant charging her with petit larceny in police court this morning Hilma entered a plea of guilty, sobbing violently the while, and was sentenced to the house until this afternoon for disposition, desiring to make a further investigation into the circumstances. As it is her first offense the probability is that she will be placed on parole under orders to report to the probation officer.

The report made to the court this morning Hilma has been active in "getting even" for the loss of her $4. It is claimed that when she moved into her room in the hostelry her possessions could have been stolen in a match box. When she concluded to move, the house detective made an examination of her possessions, which filled a large trunk. Among them he stated that he found gowns, skirts, dainty articles peculiar to feminine wardrobes and numerous other things which had been reported to the management as missing. The warrant on which she was arrested by Detective Terry caused her of stealing a soup tureen valued at $5 and a silver coffee pot worth $4. The officers think that she has taken other pieces of silverware belonging to the hotel company.

When she came for her trunk yesterday she told the house detective that she didn't have a key for it, in response to his request that he be allowed to see the contents. He went out the door. Hilma made a dash for it, assuming that he was going to keep on moving. He didn't. He waited a moment and then lifted himself so that he could see over the transom. Hilma already had the trunk open. From it she was removing such articles as might incriminate her, putting them into a suit case.

George Woods, the big policeman who regulates traffic at the corner of Third avenue west and Superior street, has to answer numerous questions of all kinds of information come. He is supposed to be a general informant. The surprising part of it is that he is so often able to answer them.

Yesterday afternoon a woman came here to make a complaint. She said that it would be better to consult him than a telephone directory. "You will tell me the number of the livery?" she queried. "It's 410, madam," he replied. "I've answered without an instant's hesitation." Reference to the directories of both phones will verify the accuracy of his reply.

Of course there are many numbers which he couldn't have given, but it happened in this case. He had had occasion to call it in the past and remembered it.

"Are you guilty of begging?" the court asked Martin Burke when he brought in with the grist this morning. "They didn't catch me bumming any body for anything," said Martin. Being from Missouri, Martin said he had to be shown and his trial was set for this afternoon.

Kenneth King, 18 years old, was picked up by the police yesterday afternoon on a charge of vagrancy. In police court this morning he said that he is on his way to the Pacific. He intends to take treatment, claiming to be sick and run down. He asserted that although he didn't have any money he would get there all right.

He came as far as from California, and I guess I can go the rest of the way all right. The court dismissed the case against him to give him an opportunity to continue his journey.

Adam Lewis blew out of the courtroom yesterday morning all right when he was given a suspended sentence for drunkenness, but he didn't keep his promise to blow out of town. He only blew as far as the nearest Bowery saloon.

He blew his own coin the day before his day and blew into some guys who had coin and weren't averse to blowing themselves for an extra shoveler or two. Adam blew off the foam of as many brilliant thinkers as he could sponge and blew into the next booze joint, where he blew into another bunch of blowers.

When he finally blew into the street he blew about so that the police saw him. He went into headquarters the second time in twenty-four hours. This morning the judge blew him into the county jail for a stay of five days.

the justice, "but I was there myself. Motion denied."

Vincent Urean, charged with keeping a disorderly place at 101 East Superior street, yesterday afternoon. He was found guilty in police court yesterday afternoon. He was fined $100. Urean was found not guilty and discharged. The cases of the two women charged with residing there were continued until next Wednesday for disposition.

Tony Maskowski, a teamster, was carried into the New Duluth police station yesterday afternoon after he had been pitched to the ground when the load of a furrier was hauling him. He groaned as though in terrible agony. A hurry up policeman was sent to headquarters for a physician. His actions led the officers to fear that he might die before the doctor got there. Dr. J. J. Murphy, police surgeon, was rushed out in the ambulance. He examined Tony carefully. When he was through he pulled him to his feet and told him to trot along home, that there was nothing the matter with him. Tony went. He didn't have word to say.

When P. Cohen's horse laid down in the snow near Third and Superior street and Superior street yesterday afternoon he didn't have backbone enough to get up again. A veterinary was called and he stated that the horse was dying of spinal meningitis. The police were notified and Jailer Louis Johnson ended its suffering with a single shot.

Ed Pocknett, who says that he's a Mic-mac Indian from Saranac, Maine, stated in police court yesterday afternoon that he wanted another chance to behave himself.

"When I'm sober I'm all right and mind my own business, bothering no one," he asserted. "But when I get my skin full of booze I know that I mean as dirt."

The big redman was taken from a street car Tuesday night when he began kicking up a ruction. He was booked for being drunk and disorderly. He admitted that he had been pinched before. The court suspended sentence.

Frank Chlucel, arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, was found not guilty and discharged after a trial in police court this morning.

Edward Hill was found guilty yesterday afternoon of having sold liquor without a license at his home, 25 Seventh avenue west, two nights ago. His defense was that his wife and child have been sick and that he had to sell beer in order to raise money. Two detectives advanced the police secured the evidence and were in the place drinking beer when Hill was arrested. Hill got $100 or thirty days in the county jail. The court told Hill that sickness in his family did not justify him in violating the law.

INTEREST IN LAKE AND RAIL CASE

Minneapolis Business Man Says Case Means Much to Duluth.

H. J. Todd of Minneapolis, at the Hotel Lenox today, says the business men and shippers of Minneapolis are eagerly awaiting the decision in the lake and rail case, which is before the interstate commerce commission at the present time.

"A decision favorable to Duluth would be of great effect here," said Mr. Todd. "It would mean that more freight would be shipped through this port, and more important still, more freight would originate here, and that is just what Duluth is eagerly yearning for."

Shippers and others whose business requires that they study traffic conditions, realize keenly that a decision favorable to this city in the pending case would mean a great deal to them. Many strange questions are being asked, and it is not telling how much it will increase the volume of freight handled here, but that, as business men here and in the Twin Cities know, is not the point. Just what Duluth gains what it has been contending for, then the shippers here will be placed in a position to realize the advantages it intended for Duluth, and the well informed shipper, both here, and the manufacturer to whom cheap rates mean the difference between profit and loss, will not be slow to take advantage of this opportunity.

SONDER TROPHY IN WILSON'S NAME

President Will Be Honorary Donor of Cup for Yacht Races.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 30.—President-elect Wilson today notified the international committee that the winner's cup in this year's German-American Sonder yacht races might be presented in his name.

The rules provide the honorary donor shall be the head of the government in the country where the races are held. The contests will be of Marble Head, beginning on Aug. 26. They will be under the auspices of the Eastern Yacht club, which furnishes the trophy.

The difficulties in Germany, which threatened to make the races impossible this year, have been overcome and the Kaiserlicher club will send three boats.

German designers recently claimed it was not possible to build a Sonder type craft that would have a fair chance against the Americans for $1,435, the cost limit imposed by the charter. His majesty now has consented to a maximum expense of $1,650.

PRACTICAL TRAINING IN THE SCHOOLS

ing that will mean bread and butter to the large percentage of young people who are unable to complete the existing course, and who therefore leave schools without complete training of any kind whatever, and with their practical education yet to be gained—often at bitter cost.

Are Trained Abroad. "Go over to the flour mills in Minneapolis," said Mr. Dunn yesterday afternoon, "and you will find that the expert millers are trained abroad. They are trained abroad. They get their equipment in the schools of their native lands—at least they got the start for it."

The other day I had a young Dane working for me, having hardwood floors—a job requiring skill and experience. He was young for that kind of work, and I asked him where he learned it. He said he learned in the schools of Denmark.

"If that young man had come over here a little younger and had been put through as much of our conventional public school courses as he or his parents could afford, instead of being a skilled artisan commanding a good wage, he would be milking cows at $20 a month."

"It is because I want our boys to be given the same chance as the boys of other lands that I have introduced this bill. I hope it will pass, and that it will be the entering wedge for a complete revolution in our public school system."

"I believe that the public schools, which we all pay taxes to support, should be conducted primarily for the benefit of the vast majority. As they are conducted today they are conducted for the benefit of an infinitesimal minority, and the great majority of the people are left without the education which dates back to the time when in old New England the family could afford to educate only a single child of four years each; and still, for him a doctor, a lawyer, or a preacher."

"We have enough doctors, enough lawyers and enough preachers; and not enough skilled artisans and farmers. That, in brief, is the purpose of my bill."

The bill provides that no state shall be given to any high school which fails to provide at least two vocational courses of four years each; and no high school shall be required to provide a course in any foreign language. The state university is required to modify its requirements so that eight credits in vocational subjects, manual training, or both, shall be accepted in lieu of other subjects, and that training in foreign languages shall not be required as a condition to the admission of any student into the university.

The bill is to be effective, if it becomes law, July 1, 1914.

General Mileage Books. Mileage books of real value, that can be used not only by the purchaser but by the members of his family or firm, or his employees or friends, are to be proposed in a bill which Representative N. J. Holmberg of Kennebec is preparing.

Mr. Holmberg, who is one of the old members of the house and one of the catarrhal sore throat will be gone. End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves the crust of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night, struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh of a cold, with its running nose, foul mucus dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

SOUTH DAKOTA WORKMEN SEARCH FOR MISSING MAN

Anybody knowing the whereabouts of Fred F. Holzer, who dropped out of sight from Duluth in 1904, will greatly oblige the Ancient Order of United Workmen by communicating with Harry W. Gifford, master workman of Aberdeen lodge, No. 38, of Aberdeen, S. D.

Mr. Gifford was in the city for a day this week looking up the records in the Holzer matter and went from here to Hartland, Wis., Holzer's birthplace and old home, where he expected to find out something more concerning the man.

Holzer, while employed as conductor on the Milwaukee road, during which time he was in the city, was discharged from the road because of color-blindness, and in 1903-4 he worked as brakeman on the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific between St. Paul and Duluth. On April 8, 1904, he was relieved from duty by the road, but the records of the road do not show for what cause. He has not been heard from since so far as anybody knows or will admit.

He left a wife and children at Montevideo, Minn., and now Mrs. Holzer is demanding the payment of a life insurance policy for $2,000, which he World in the city. He declares that Holzer is dead and believes that he committed suicide through despondency over his inability to hold a position. She has no further knowledge, however, as to whether he is alive or dead. The Workmen authorities believe that he is alive somewhere and that if his family does not know it, he is traveling under what trainmen and telegraphers call a "flag," another name for an assumed name.

The South Dakota Workmen, headed by the grand reeve, Henry Hall of Aberdeen, are making a fine-toothcomb search for Holzer and will fight before paying over the face of the policy.

most influential of its progressive majority, has given the subject much study, and has come to the conclusion that the present mileage book system is unfair and inadequate.

Not anticipating that the railroad would meet the real needs of the situation, he is planning a law that will compel them to do so.

In general, the plan is to require that mileage books shall be sold by the buyer can let his family, his business associates, his employees and if he feels like it, his friends ride on them all at 2 cents a mile.

Also, in order that the purchase of mileage books may be within the reach of poorer purses than they are now, he would have them issued in 500 and 1,000 miles each.

At present the railroads sell thousand-mile books at 2 cents a mile, and 2,000-mile books at 2 cents a mile. These books, however, are sold only to the purchasers, and this greatly restricts their usefulness.

"New York has a law now, I understand," said Mr. Holmberg yesterday afternoon, "and I can't have it also. The mileage book privilege should not be restricted to the railroad."

Senator L. O. Cooke of Wabasha has a bill in the senate prohibiting railroads from selling tickets by which traveling can be done at different prices. While the bill is intended to equalize passenger traffic rates, it is feared that the result would simply be to abolish mileage books in Minnesota, thus harming those who use them without benefiting those who now buy trip tickets.

Taxing Automobiles. As the result of a hearing before the house committee on taxes yesterday afternoon, Representative H. C. Dunn practically abandoned his bill to start a 2-cent tax on horse power on automobiles, the proceeds to go into the state road and bridge fund.

He did not abandon his general proposition that the use of automobiles do more harm to roads than old-fashioned vehicles, ought to contribute to the support of the state.

A tentative agreement was reached by which a flat license fee of $10 a year would be charged, the proceeds to go into the state road and bridge fund.

Neither of these bills will be introduced at all other taxes was not decided, but will be one of the points for which will be considered by a committee of three, of which Mr. Dunn will be a member.

Chairman T. J. O'Fisher will appoint this committee later.

A number of tax-hunters in the county appeared against the bill in its original form. They asserted that the present automobile tax is the fairest in the United States, and that the bill would be materially changed. They said that the automobile is no longer a luxury, but a necessity.

They also submitted that as a principle of taxation the proposed tax on automobiles according to horse power is unconstitutional.

Secretary of State Schmalz, who now issues automobile licenses and who has been rather much studied, said to the Herald that the proposed tax would have brought in the sum of $750,000, and that it would shortly amount to $1,000,000.

Mr. Dunn confessed that since he introduced his bill he had experienced doubts as to its constitutionality. He said that he was anxious only to make the state's roads, and that if a flat license fee would work the same result, he was willing to accept it.

Representative A. J. Peterson of Madison thought that the fund thus derived should go to the counties, so it could be spent on other than state highways, but Mr. Dunn pointed out that on the same principle the 1-mill road tax might be apportioned to the counties in which it was raised, and this idea did not prove popular.

The matter was laid over on amendments to the Dunn bill that will meet the objections that we raised.

Secretary of State Julius Schmalz, who was present at the hearing, surprised many with his showing of the number of automobiles there are in the rural districts.

There are many more of them, for instance, in the county of St. Louis county, with a population of 17,022, than there are in St. Louis county with its population of 16,274. Meeker county has between 1,700 and 1,800 automobiles, and St. Louis county has only about 1,000.

Hennepin county has about 2,000 and Hennepin about 5,000, according to Mr. Schmalz.

Caring for the Insane. Interested in the care of the state's policy in the care of insane were brought out yesterday afternoon during a hearing before the house committee on state prison and reformatory on the proposed establishment of a reformatory for women.

Representative Cleon T. Knapp of Chisholm has a bill before the committee appropriating $50,000 for this purpose.

P. M. Ringdal, of the state board of control, said that Minnesota is one of the few states that pay all the expenses of caring for insane persons, and as a result it is often compelled to shoulder the burdens of other states.

He said that it was by no means uncommon where insane persons living in other states had relatives in this state, to move the patient to Minnesota until he has established a residence, and then have him committed to one of the state insane asylums. Thereafter the state is compelled to support that patient, perhaps during the remainder of his life.

Mr. Knapp, who is a native of Minnesota, said that while in other states relatives are able to do so are required to pay the cost of maintaining them in state asylums in Minnesota the state pays the whole cost.

This testimony was brought out when Mr. Ringdal was asked his opinion on the need and advisability of providing a separate reformatory for women. He said that he believed there is need of such an institution, and that he would favor it, but not at the expense of other things which the state needs more.

other than supposition of death. The family paid the premiums until the end of the year 1906 and after that it was cancelled. However if Holzer actually died before that time, the order is liable for its face.

The accompanying picture is a good one of Holzer as he appeared about the time of his disappearance. He is now, if alive, 49½ years of age, stands four feet 8 inches in height and weighs about 140 pounds, unless he has changed materially since he was last seen.

DEMOCRATS HAVE SAFE MAJORITY

Election of Willard Saulsbury Gives Them Forty-Nine in Senate.

Washington, Jan. 29.—With the election of Willard Saulsbury as United States senator from Delaware, the Democratic strength in the next senate swung from the precarious figure of 48, or exactly one-half of the senators, to the safer total of 49, a majority of two.

Mr. Saulsbury's election, added to the victory recently secured in Tennessee, assures the Democratic party absolute control of the senate after March 4. The vote of Vice President Marshall would have been the deciding factor in any event, but the addition of another Democratic vote to the column gives the party leaders what they believe to be a safe margin for tariff and legislative action.

Confidence still exist in the legislative body of the senate after the election of Illinois and with a total of four senators to be elected about whose political affiliations doubt now exists. A victory in any one of these states would so materially strengthen the Democratic party that the senate would be completely removed from the element of uncertainty. The attitude of the Progressives and the Progressive Republicans upon the tariff matters is as yet unknown, but the margin of strength promised to the Democrats counts upon any combination with the Progressives.

Of the entire membership of 96 senators, 49 will hold over beyond March 4. Of these, 22 are Republicans and 27 Democrats. The terms of 23 senators expire in March and there is in addition one vacancy in Illinois. Thus far 17 Democratic senators have been elected and the election of Senator Bacon in Georgia is certain, making 48 Democrats to take the oath of office March 4. The opposition forces, including both Republicans and Progressives, have elected 11 new senators. The vote of the Progressives stands as follows if the deadlocks are not broken in Illinois, New Hampshire and West Virginia. Democrats, 42; Republicans and Progressives, 43; vacancies, 1.

JURY IS UNCERTAIN.

Whether North Dakotan Killed Self Intentionally or Accidentally.

Jamestown, N. D., Jan. 29.—The coroner's jury that investigated the killing of Owen Richards, son of a farmer residing a few miles from this city, brought in a verdict of suicide or accidental death due to a wound inflicted by a shot from a rifle by his own hands.

The verdict exonerates Miss Maggie Kupper, a school teacher who was charged with the killing. Richards, a 21-year-old man, was found lying on the floor of his room and knocked on the door of another room where she was dressing early in the day. He chided her for going to a dance the night previous with another man and after a few words said, "I'll do something that will make you remember me for many years to come."

He then closed the door and soon afterwards a shot was heard and the body of Richards was found lying on the floor in the girl's bedroom. He lived several hours, but made no statement.

Driven Out by Fire.

Charleson, N. D., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Peter Frohman was driven from her home by fire, wearing nothing but her nightgown, running barefooted, with only a blanket for protection. Her husband, partially dressed when an explosion of oil started the blaze, had to go to the home of a neighbor, a half mile distant, for assistance and he suffered considerably from the cold.

TONNAGE TAX PLAN UNFAIR

Frank A. Day's Paper Shows Injustice to People of Iron Ranges.

Tax Commission, Appointed By Governor Johnson, Solved the Problem.

The Fairmont Daily Sentinel, of which Frank A. Day is editor, contains the following editorial article under the heading, "Governor Johnson on Tonnage Tax."

"The tonnage tax, it is noted, is again before the Minnesota legislature, as it has been at each of the past three sessions. Up to April 20, 1909, this measure appeared to be an attempt to compel the great and rich mining interests of Northern Minnesota to pay their fair share of the tax burden. Since that time, though, it has been a device for giving credit for sincerity and good faith, it has been clear that it is an attempt to take for state purposes an unfair proportion of the taxes paid by the one industry capable of paying large taxes in a region that needs for local development purposes every dollar it can get for its work of transforming a wilderness into a place of fertile fields and thriving communities.

"For on that date Governor Johnson settled the tonnage tax in a message vetoing the Borge bill of 1909, in which these words appeared: 'It is certain that the moral, industrial and practical effect of the bill will be to strike a severe blow at the development and prosperity of all the great mineral bearing counties of Northern and Central Minnesota, affecting alike the agricultural, manufacturing, commercial, financial and educational growth and success, as well as the settlement of all our northern lands, and the investment of both home and foreign capital therein.'

"It is that message the late Governor Johnson also called attention to the signal success that had attended the taxation of the iron mines by the state tax commission, created in 1907, a success which has been the subject of much discussion. When the veto message was written in 1909 the assessment had been increased to $180,000,000. The assessment this year is $254,000,000, and largely because this increase $1,115,000, or 21 per cent of the entire state tax.

"Increased by Tax Commission. 'Everybody will find satisfaction of the iron industry. It is rich and can afford it. This tax is increased by the present method has been shown by the tax commission, since its appointment by Governor Johnson in 1907 has increased the assessment of the iron mines from $60,000,000 to $254,000,000.

"And the communities of the mining region have had the full share of the increase, as they should have, because every community has increased its full share of the taxes raised from its property, but because this particular region has peculiar needs in its development work for every dollar it can get, the present method of taxation by the splendid schools to be found throughout the iron range country must be the state.

"Nor should it be forgotten that the 1-mill road tax will bring from these mines something like $260,000 a year, which will be a very small amount in lieu of other state taxes, which proceeds go into the general fund. The mines should pay their full share of taxes. If they are not paying their full share, then we are inclined to believe that they are not making their full contribution to the state by the present method, by which the communities of the iron range country will benefit as well as the state.

"No doubt the steel trust from these mines something like $260,000 a year, which will be a very small amount in lieu of other state taxes, which proceeds go into the general fund. The mines should pay their full share of taxes. If they are not paying their full share, then we are inclined to believe that they are not making their full contribution to the state by the present method, by which the communities of the iron range country will benefit as well as the state.

"And it has been made plain, too, that the tonnage tax body has been a very successful one. It has brought in a large sum of money for the state, and it has been a very successful one. It has brought in a large sum of money for the state, and it has been a very successful one.

"Make the mines pay every dollar of taxes they can pay, but let the tax-takers be one that will be fair to the people of the mining country, which reaches from Lake Superior to the Gulf of Mexico, and includes a population of a quarter of a million people."

FACTIONAL DISPUTES CAUSE RESIGNATION.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 29.—Dr. Robert Stuart MacArthur, president of the World's Baptist alliance, yesterday resigned as pastor of the Baptist tabernacle here. The action, it is said, came as a climax to factional disputes which have existed in the church since the Rev. Leon G. Brounston, resigned as pastor to accept the charge of Christ church of London.

Dr. MacArthur was for several years pastor of Calvary church, New York, and will return to New York Friday. After attending a meeting of the executive committee of the World's alliance, he will go to England. No effort will be made to obtain a successor to Dr. MacArthur until after the meeting of the Bible conference this spring, according to officials of the tabernacle.

CANDIDATE HAS NEVER CAST VOTE.

Marquette, Wis., Jan. 29.—William Thasos, aged 21, who has entered the race for the assembly seat made vacant by the late Dr. E. Schmitt, has the novel distinction of being a candidate who has never cast a vote in a political election.

He will leave the law department of the University of Wisconsin, where he is a student, and enter into a vigorous speech-making campaign at once.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE OUT

City Attorneys Take Up Suit on Street Railway Franchise.

Attorney General Will Lend Name of State to Proceedings.

The city will fight its street railway franchise case in a single battle. Yesterday the Duluth Real Estate exchange and fourteen other citizens mentioned in the taxpayers' writs, started to force quo warranto proceedings to test the validity of the street railway franchise granted by the city.

The attorney general is willing to lend the name of the state to the proceedings. The burden of proof will be on the city in the proceedings to be had in court to show that it is operating in the streets of Duluth under a valid franchise granted by the city.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 29.—The fame of Gen. Daniel E. Sickles as a soldier should not deter New York state in its efforts to collect the $23,476 misaccounted for by the general as chairman of the New York monuments commission. This is the view advanced by Attorney Carmody in a letter to Mrs. Helen J. Longstreet of Duluth, Ga., widow of the Confederate general.

In a telegram to Attorney General Carmody, Mrs. Longstreet offered to raise $23,476 from the ragged and maimed followers of Lee.

Attorney General Carmody's letter says: "Your sympathetic and patriotic expressions do justice to your heart, but they do violence to the facts in this case. Gen. Sickles is being prosecuted by the state of New York for misappropriation to his own use the sum of $23,476. This money came into his hands as chairman of the state monuments commission to be used, among other purposes, for the erection of monuments to make the resting place on the field of Gettysburg of the brave soldiers who fell in defense of their country, and to provide for a celebration upon the field of Gettysburg in which those brave soldiers participated in the state's expense in a fitting manner."

"Gen. Sickles appropriated this amount to his own use. This he had not attempted to justify or to defend. He was given his own time to repay this amount, and that time was expended in his suggestion, without any desire to embarrass him, and with the full appreciation of the nation for the great services he rendered in the rebellion, to make them the nation's property, but even the fame of the soldier must not be used as a cloak or protection for the commission of a crime."

"I trust this brief statement of the facts will serve you, how misplaced your sympathy, and how misdirected your criticism."

TAFT ATTACKS PHILIPPINE BILL

Warns Congress to Consider Carefully Before Granting Independence.

Washington, Jan. 30.—President Taft in his farewell speech to the Ohio society of Washington last night vigorously attacked the bill now pending in congress proposing autonomy and independence in eight years for the Philippines.

"If it possible," asked the president, "that the Democratic party is going to reverse the policy that has vindicated itself by ten years' experience, merely for the purpose of conforming to the cobwebbed planks of forgotten platforms? Will they not before they take such an irretrievable step gain reliable information as to the conditions that obtain in the islands. This issue has been relegated to the limbo of free silver or the ultra doctrine of states' rights. Those who continue to give out their lugubriousness on the Philippines are now fewer than those who expect to attend the next inaugural ball."

Speaker Clark, who followed the president, declined to debate with him the Democratic policy of independence for the Philippines. President Taft began his address with an eulogy on President McKinley.

DULUTH DISCOVERS IT HAS A SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

GUSTAV FLAATEN.

Lyceum Audience Given a Most Agreeable Surprise in Debut of New Organization and Rare Musical Treat in Appearance of Mischa Elman.

Duluth awoke last evening to the fact that it has a symphony orchestra.

It also enjoyed the musical treat of a decade in the appearance of Mischa Elman, violinist. Not in ten years has the Lyceum seen such genius, wholehearted enthusiasm as that aroused by the playing of Elman. It was spontaneous applause, not a mere perfunctory patting of the hands, and Elman was recalled time and again to bow acknowledgments.

The double attraction of the introduction of Duluth's new symphony orchestra, and the appearance of Elman combined to make last night's concert a most important musical event in the history of Duluth.

The orchestra was made up of the people in Duluth, and the audience, by the way, was a decidedly top-heavy one, with the family circle filled, and the dress circle and parquetry filled. Last year the Y. M. C. A. guaranteed him an audience for a series of concerts, and that was the start. This year he has not even had money to purchase music. The individual members of the orchestra deserve almost equal credit with Mr. Flaaten. They have given their time for practice and rehearsal without any thought of recompense, and only the professional musicians were paid for the concert last evening, and but a modest sum at that. The enthusiasm of last night's concert must have helped materially, however, to repay them for the hard work put in.

Of Elman's playing it is difficult to speak without becoming maudlin with superlatives. Elman's playing was, in three years ago, and displayed wonderful technique and mechanical mastery of the violin. He has grown wonderfully in a musical way since then, and those who heard him on both occasions would hardly recognize him as the same violinist. He appeared in but one number last evening, the first of a difficult concerto by Ernst, the second a charming little group of melodies, "Humoresque" by Dvorak, and as a second encore in response to the tumultuous applause, a thoroughly delightful Beethoven minuet. It is doubtful if the Lyceum ever saw such enthusiasm over a musical event as Elman's playing evoked. Duluthians for once remembered that they were human beings, and that Elman must have thought that he was back among European audiences again.

Without funds on which to draw, Mr. Flaaten's orchestra is a year on its receipts from the concert. The orchestra was heard last winter in several concerts at the Y. M. C. A. but it was no orchestra. The opening number, forty-two musicians of the stage, were pupils and the majority were professional musicians, chiefly from Duluth. In size at least it was the equal of the Minneapolis or St. Paul orchestras, as they were seen here.

BOTH FAVOR CENSORS.

Motion Picture League and Women's League Differ as to Methods.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 30.—A race to the legislature for presentation of bills, with the Motion Picture League of Minnesota and the Women's Welfare League of Minnesota as competitors, probably will be staged if present indications of the state censorship holds good.

Both organizations favor the censorship in a way, but they do not agree on the manner of obtaining it. The exhibitors want a board appointed whose members would be salaried members of the board of censorship. The Welfare League is in favor of a purely local board of censors. In convention the exhibitors resolved to draft a bill and present it to the legislature, making it a misdemeanor to show any films within the state that had not been passed upon favorably by the national board of censorship.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

MUST GO TO THE FARMERS

Bemidji Professor Proposes Employing Agricultural County Field Man.

Circuit-Rider Agriculturalist to Take Instruction to Soil Tillers.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—An agricultural field man for the whole county, whose work will be to help the farmers of Beltrami county to use their land and tools to the best advantage, is proposed by Prof. A. E. Nelson, director of agriculture in the local schools.

"The time of the circuit-rider preacher has gone," declared Mr. Nelson, "but the day of the agriculturalist is just dawning, and will be with us for no little while. You feel that the farmer is agricultural education; you have got to take the education to him. And the best way to do this is to have a man who can live and work with and for the farmers."

Mr. Nelson considers the agricultural field man the last word in agricultural progress; the right man at the right time and place. As to finances, Mr. Nelson has several means to suggest. The proper man, he says, for such a position in this county, could not be secured for less than $1,500 a year, and his expenses would mean at least $300 more.

State aid, equal to any amount that the county may contribute for the purpose, is expected that the state legislature will pass a bill extending this limit to $1,000, thus placing $2,000 within the reach of the farmers of each county.

A similar measure is before congress, and, if passed, will contribute to the support of the field man. Some aid can be secured from the government, because of the statistics and data, which these men help to accumulate for the department of agriculture.

Mr. Nelson has received a letter from the Association of Extension Agents offering to pay $1,000 a year for the support of such a man, provided that he is employed for at least two years.

By apportioning the expense among the schools of the county, Mr. Nelson suggests that the expense will average less than 6 cents per pupil.

TRYING ALFALFA IN GOPHER STATE

Experiments Indicate It Will Seed Heavier in Northern Sections.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Up to the present time what little alfalfa seed has been raised in Minnesota has been grown in Carver county. There are, undoubtedly, other counties in the state just as well or better suited to alfalfa raising, according to a bulletin of the University of Minnesota, which has been issued by the state agricultural experiment station.

The time is probably coming in the very near future when alfalfa seed will be purchased in every county in the state. Up to the present time alfalfa has been raised in a seedier and less profitable way than it can be raised in the future.

Many Alfalfa Plants Being Made. It is always well to get into the alfalfa business slowly, learning by experience most of the details necessary to successful raising of alfalfa. In many instances alfalfa are being made in Minnesota, some on a small scale and some on a large scale.

Success is always encouraging. A report of the alfalfa raising in the northern part of the state in 1912, the first crop raised for hay, indicates that the alfalfa seed in the northern half of the state, particularly on soils leaning toward a sandy loam, is doing well.

WOULD PREVENT SALE OF SNUFF

North Dakota Food Expert Says Its Use Is Very Harmful.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—"The use of snuff should be forever barred in North Dakota and elsewhere," stated Pure Food Commissioner Ladd. "In addition to the ill effects it has on the consumers by creating a number of diseases, it has had a serious mental and moral effect. The mentality of some consumers are affected and the semi-intoxication its excessive use produces also affects the health of those addicted to the habit."

At the last session of the legislature Commissioner Ladd got a bill through the house, but in the closing hours of the session a joker was inserted and the bill was defeated. A session effort will be made to prevent a repetition of last year's work.

SORENSEN WILL BE GIVEN LIFE

Slayer of Wife of Frederic, Wis., Hotel Keeper Will Plead Guilty.

Balsam Lake, Wis., Jan. 30.—Hugh Sorenson, confessed murderer of Mrs. George Bevington, hotel keeper of Frederic, is in the county jail here and will be sentenced to the penitentiary, probably for life, at a term of court to open here on Feb. 24. At the preliminary hearing, which was held here on Jan. 24, he admitted his guilt, and is expected to plead guilty.

Bevington was the wife of the proprietor of Hotel Roscoe, near Frederic. Sorenson was a barber, employed by B. J. Simons of the same place, who was discharged Monday for drinking. About 8 p. m. Monday, Sorenson entered the hotel and shot Mrs. Bevington. Mrs. Bevington called the village marshal, but Sorenson resisted arrest and fired a shot at the officer. Prior to this he had threatened several traveling men, three of whom he had killed.

Sorenson is about 30 years of age, and single. He came from Clouet, Minn., and had been at Frederic about 25 years of age. He and his wife had a son, Fred, who was killed by a train. Sorenson was married to Mrs. Bevington in 1908.

HEALTH & HAPPINESS

By Dr. R. D. Scott.

Health Conservation.

We hear a great deal nowadays about conservation. The cry is "Save the forests!" "Save the mines!" "Save the water power!" We also hear a little about conservation of life, but the conservation of health, of greater economic importance than even life, is left to pretty much take care of itself.

The reason for this is that every one wants to do things in a big, a spectacular way; and while they talk and even become hysterical over the big things they expect others to do, the many little things which often lead to greater things are overlooked.

It is a little thing to keep yourself well, and by doing so keep your efficiency close to 100 per cent of your special attainments. To do this from a purely selfish point of view, I admit, rather degrading, but when done for the purpose of furthering the world's work and increasing your usefulness to others there is no greater policy of conservation.

This is a conservation that every one can work at, and when the idea becomes more generally put into effect the saving in both money and life will be tremendous.

All the talk and shouting that is done about energy and yields little in practical result. Conservation, in national resources, is admittedly, a good thing and deserving of support from every citizen. It is, however, a big thing that is much more likely to take care of itself than the conservation of individual health.

The point of this is: Don't burn up too much energy shouting to the other fellow what he should do. Instead of this use your spare energy doing some of the little things of which you are yourself capable. Perhaps the most generally useful of these little things is keeping yourself well and as nearly as possible 100 per cent efficient.

To be able to keep well, good food, pure air and time for recreation are all necessary and the ability to provide these things depends largely on how you do your work. Here again the policy of conservation is of great importance, for most people waste much more energy on their work than is necessary.

To conserve this waste of energy requires training, but any intelligent man is able to train himself to a very large extent. In our large cities there are trade schools that teach men and boys how to do just one thing at a time, and that thing with the smallest possible number of movements. For instance, a bricklayer is taught how to pick up his brick, mortar and place it without lost movement, and experience has shown that men, after finishing such training, are able to lay half as many more bricks in a day than the untrained man, and do it with little or no fatigue. These men benefit through shorter hours or increased pay as well as through less wear and tear on their muscles, and in the saving of time and useless waste of energy, you may also save your health, because you will have more time for recreation, known, written, whom. I frequently quote, in writing on this subject, his following to say:

The latest thing in business is scientific energy. Factories are increasing their outputs and decreasing their expense by use of it. Here is the secret of the system. Each man is taught to do his work with as few, as easy and as simple movements as possible, and with regular intervals of rest.

"This plan is as important to health as it is to business. Try it upon yourself. Find the easiest way of doing things. It is usually the quickest. Do not allow yourself to become excited. School yourself to do one thing at a time. Be regular in eating, in sleeping, and in performing all the other functions of life.

"A gymnast is able to do what seems to be impossible because he has great control over his muscles. See that you have control over the muscles which you use in your work.

"You say of some people that when excited they 'run around in circles.' The man who applies scientific management to himself knows just what he is going to do and goes ahead calmly and effectively along a straight line.

"Too much nervous excitement will use up your vitality. A worn out man is easy prey for disease and especially for tuberculosis. So adopt scientific management and keep well."

Questions and Answers.

To Increase Weight.
H. V. G. writes: I am 5 feet 8 inches tall, 19 years old and only weigh 120 pounds. I have been engaged in office work all summer until now and I know I did not get enough outdoor exercise, although I ate heartily and slept well. How can I best put on an extra ten pounds of flesh?

REPLY.
Get outdoors as much as possible and eat more meat, bread and vegetables. Drink milk with your meals instead of tea or coffee. Add a quart of good rich milk to your daily diet, by drinking a glass between meals and at bedtime. A slice of bread and butter with the evening glass of milk will promote restful sleep and also help. Bath regularly and take outdoor exercise while feeding up and you will not likely have much trouble in increasing the quantity of all your meals. It is not so much what you eat as how much and how well you can digest it that counts in any attempt to increase weight. Of course you know that fretting will reduce weight quicker than any diet can put it on, so if you fret, stop it!

Brain for Indigestion.
P. M. T. writes: You advise the use of bran bread for constipation. Is bran also good for indigestion, and is there any way in which it may be made palatable?

REPLY.
Severe cases of indigestion have been cured by the persistent and daily use of bran. It acts as a roughener or indigestible filler and in this way stimulates both stomach and intestine to greater activity, while at the same time reducing the total amount of refined and strong food eaten.

One of the most palatable ways to eat bran is the recipe. The following is a tried recipe: One-half or three-fourths cup of brown sugar, buttered the size of an egg, one cup of sour milk or water, one cup of white sugar, one teaspoonful of baking powder, three cups of bran, one teaspoonful of baking soda dissolved in a cup of water, a cupful of nuts, raisins, figs—dates if desired—cut fine; one-half teaspoon of salt; butter with cinnamon. Cream, butter and sugar together, add sour milk, sift white flour and baking powder, add nuts, fruit and bran and stir well, adding soda, salt and cinnamon while stirring. Place in gem pans. Bake in a slow oven 20 minutes.

COLLECT DUTY TEMPORARILY

Canada Said to Have Discriminated Against Americans on Export Tax.

Washington, Jan. 30.—As a result of complaints against the recent order of Quebec, Can., purporting to remove all restrictions or export tax from the timber of certain crown lands of this province, President Taft will decide whether wood pulp and paper made from the timber affected will be entitled to free entry into the United States.

According to representations to this government, Quebec's action amounts to discrimination against American holders of crown lands, and to grant the free entry privilege, it is declared, would defeat the real intent of the wood pulp and paper clause of the Canadian reciprocity agreement. The state and treasury departments have investigated the situation and will report to the president.

The only operative clause of the reciprocity act admits free of duty all wood cut from lands where exportation is unrestricted and wood pulp and paper made from such timber. Its primary purpose, it is declared, was to obtain from Canada the removal of all restrictions upon the exportation of timber into the United States.

Complaints to this government declare that Quebec has removed restrictions only on the timbered lands where the province has reported practical assurances that the timber will not be exported, but only the wood pulp and paper made from it in Canada. It also is alleged that the province has refused to remove the restrictions from other crown lands in the same province controlled by Americans.

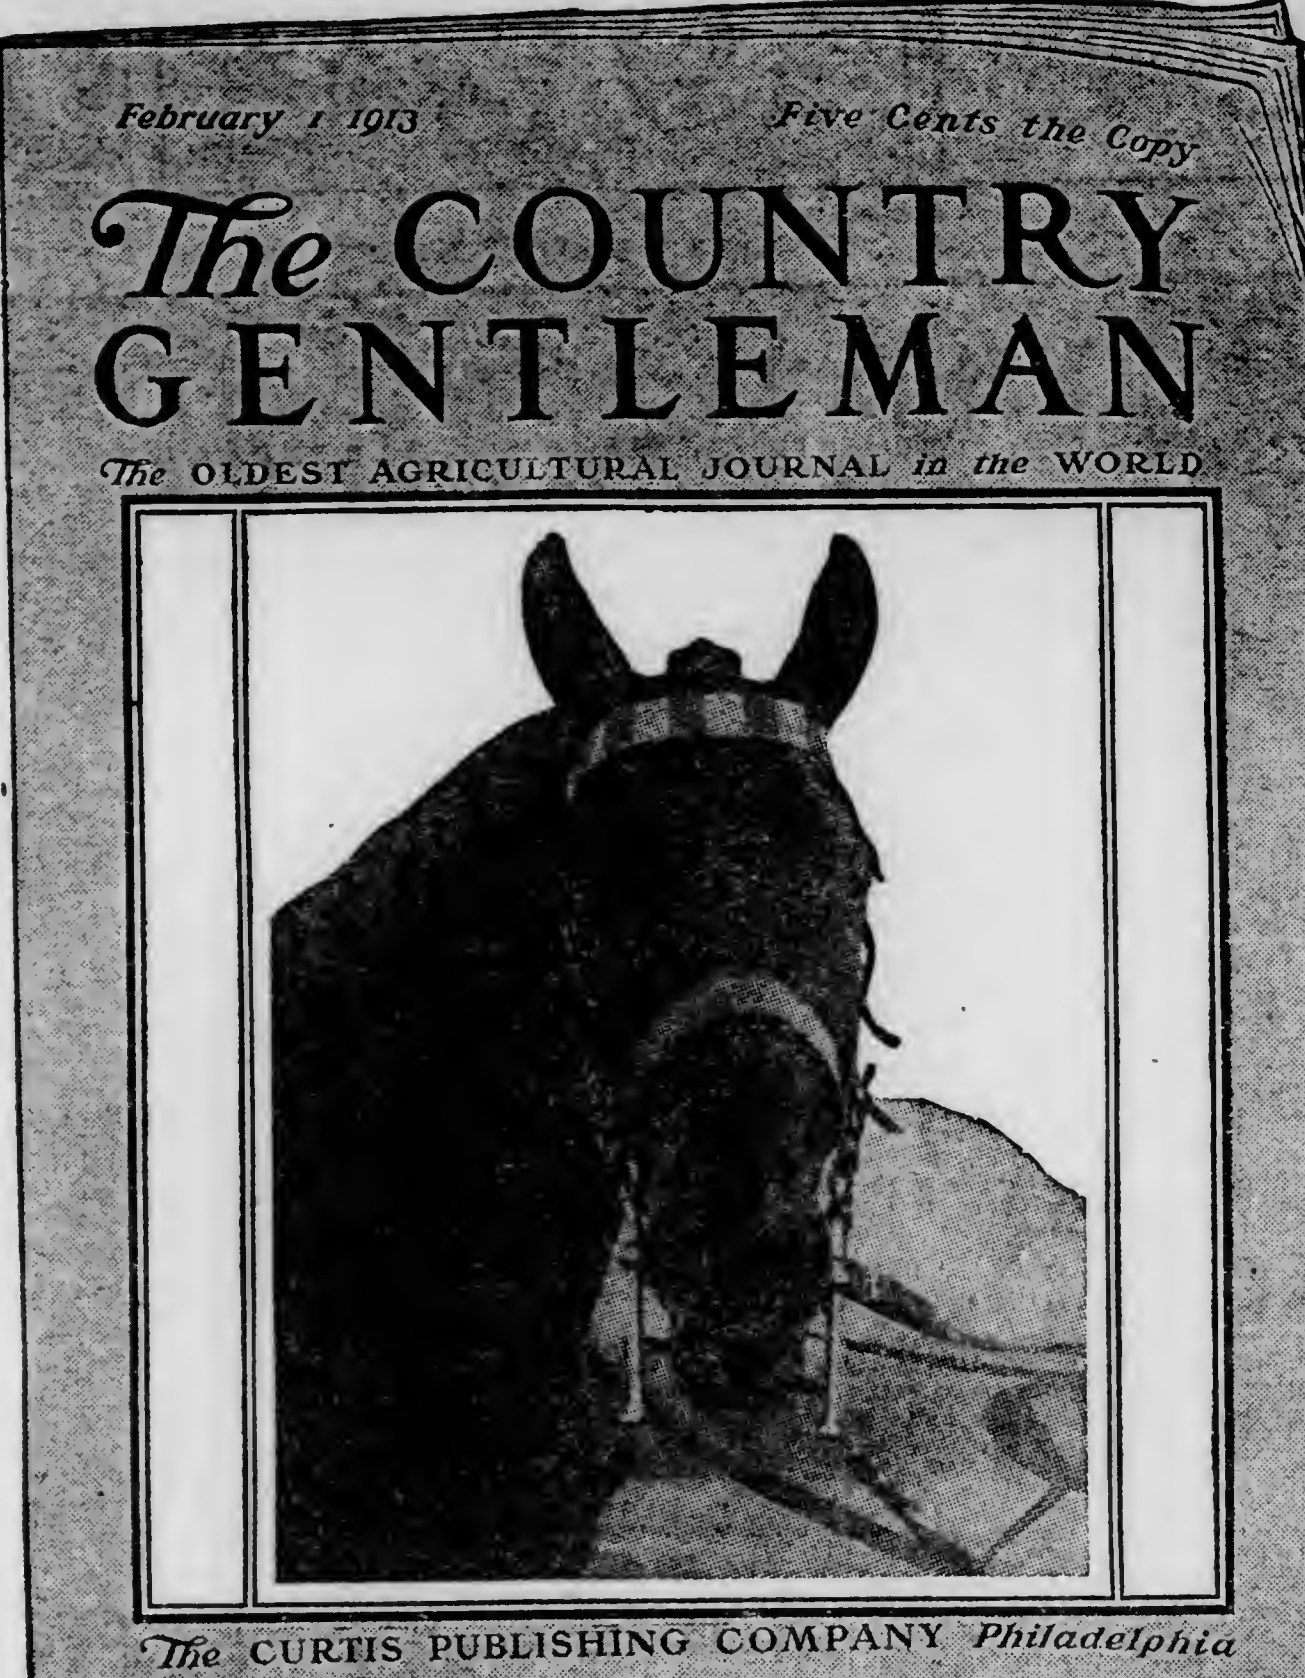

Until the question is settled by the president, Secretary of the Treasury has issued a temporary order for the collection of duty.

The Homesteader's Gamble is another big feature of this week's issue. It is by W. J. Harsha, a Colorado homesteader, and it tells the whole homesteading proposition from A to Z. Mr. Harsha has been through the mill and he says that a man who stakes a homestead and hasn't the two G's—gumption and grit—had better quit. He says further that a homesteader will stand a better chance of succeeding if he has $1000 in cash.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

COUNCILMAN DUNKIN of Cleveland, Ohio, has begun a campaign by which he hopes to get many playground sites free. He plans to convert unused streets into places for the children instead of having them vacated by council ordinance and turned over to the abutting property holders.

Dunkin obtained Mayor Baker's sanction to have three of these ordinances held up pending the availability of these streets as playground property. "There's no reason why the city should give away to property owners thousands of dollars' worth of vacant streets, some of them paved and others merely dedicated," said Dunkin. "We are trying to get more and more playground sites, and big bond issues are urged to purchase them. Here we have property that the city already owns."

Investigation might show some unused streets in Duluth which could be utilized for playgrounds. At any event, their adaptability for that purpose should be investigated before they are given away to abutting property owners.

Democratic state officers will be inaugurated Monday afternoon, Feb. 3.

COLLEGE TO BE ENLARGED

Improvements Will Be Made at Smithville Institution Next Summer.

Present Buildings Are Too Small to Accommodate the Students.

The executive board of the Finnish Working People's college at Smithville at its regular annual session this week voted to enlarge the institution during the summer vacation this year. About $15,000 will be spent on improvements and additions.

The present building is far too small to house the many students now enrolled in the institution. It is proposed by the board to erect an addition to the structure and also to build another story. The building is now two stories high. An addition will be erected on the west end of the main building for men will be constructed during the summer.

The proposed additions to the college were originally planned for last year, but construction work was then postponed. At the meeting of the board this week the matter was again taken up and this time favorably voted upon. Construction work will start early this spring, so that the additions will be ready by the opening of the school semester next fall.

There are 125 students registered at the college this year, besides the many throughout the country who are taking the correspondence course.

FLOOD OF MONEY FOR COLLEGE

Rabbi Lefkowitz Tells of Incident at Hebrew Convention.

Rabbi Maurice Lefkowitz of the Temple Emanuel, who attended the convention of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations at Cincinnati, returned this morning with a flood of money to enter the Hebrew Union college at Cincinnati.

A remarkable incident at the gathering is told by Rabbi Lefkowitz. He stated that he made for $15,000 to lift the mortgage of the Hebrew Union college at Cincinnati.

Exactly fourteen minutes after the appeal had been made by the chairman of the fund-raising committee, $155,000 had been pledged by the delegates present. The highest percentage of unskilled laborers are the most desirous, because they do not compete with American mechanics, but those who are "skilled in tailoring, baking, or other trades which do not require much physical strength, are undesirable immigrants," because they enter into direct competition with the American mechanic.

Still another writer, Prof. Mayo-Smith is more specific in his definition of the word "desirable" as applied to immigrants and favors the selection of immigrants who are "desirable" among other things, to the preservation of the "social morality of the community."

The most sane and impartial arguments against the claims of restrictionists are those of the census bureau. All students, especially those in the census bureau, should read this book. They will find therein arguments based upon facts and statistics and data furnished by the very restrictionists, which prove beyond the shadow of a doubt the fallacy of their position.

We have here, however, another flood of money. It is the result of the flood of the house of representatives of the census bureau. It is the result of the census bureau. It is the result of the census bureau.

WANTS COMPANY TO SHARE LOSS

Martin Smith Sues Company Which Bonded Defaulting Employee.

The Maryland Casualty company, which has bonded the Martin Smith Liqueur company and now a fugitive from justice on an embezzlement charge pending in district court, is held responsible by Mr. Smith for the loss of $25,000. Mr. Smith asks for a judgment in that amount.

On June 29 last, Rigstad left Duluth for parts unknown taking with him, as alleged, large sums of the company's cash. His shortage is said to be in excess of $25,000. Mr. Smith's company went to the Maryland Casualty company for the shortage and embezzlement, it has refused payment. The suit is brought to enforce payment.

Rigstad, 25 years old, over whose arrest the company has been notified, entered into the employ of the Smith company about two years ago last July. He was known as a man of exemplary habits and had a wife and child. He was apt at his work and a considerable confidence was reposed in him by the firm.

In addition to the authorities, it is understood that the bonding company is conducting a search for him. Rigstad's wife and child disappeared with him. No trace of them has been found. They formerly lived at 1551 East Superior street.

Man Under the Influence of Whisky, Mentally Irresponsible.

"He was drunk at the time, and of course didn't know what he was doing. But he did it that's the point. But it should be possible to wrecked life and the happiness of others, destroyed by a few glasses of whisky made drunkers of themselves if it is not time to stop."

The easiest, terrible drink habit is through the "Neat" Three Day Treatment. Here a man may have all specific craving or desire for liquor destroyed in three days and he will leave the Institute at the end of the treatment and be a free man. ## THE IMMIGRATION QUESTION

By JOSEPH KARASIEWICZ, Of the Press Information Bureau With the Polish National Alliance.

The congress of the United States seems determined to ally its record by passing the Dillingham-Burnett bill containing a restrictive measure against the "undesirable" increase of undesirable immigrant labor.

To the "undesirables," as defined by the projected restrictive measure, belong the following peoples: Italians, Poles and other Slav races (with the exception of Bohemians, who were provided recently to the rank of "desirables"), Greeks, Jews, Hungarians, Armenians, and other peoples, who are excluded from the United States by this test, will be covered by the total number excluded, and by the Poles (about 25 per cent of the total number excluded). It is interesting to note that the total number excluded is 10 per cent of the total number of immigrants.

It is well to remind the American people that the American standard of living, has been created and depends upon the available supply of common labor furnished by immigration. Bias and racial prejudice require much physical strength. ## UDO BRACHVOGEL DIES IN NEW YORK

Prominent German-American Was Uncle of Duluth Woman.

Word was received in Duluth today of the death of Udo Brachvogel of New York city.

Mr. Brachvogel, who was an uncle of Mrs. R. D. Montgomery, was one of the foremost German-American citizens. He was probably the best known German poet in America at the time of his death, and was widely known and respected in the East. He was a very intimate friend of Carl Schurz, who died at that time. He was 89 years old at the time of his death. He is survived by his widow and two children. Mrs. Anneke will leave this evening to attend the funeral.

HUSBAND TELLS HIS SIDE OF IT

R. D. Montgomery Says His Wife Has an Ungovernable Temper.

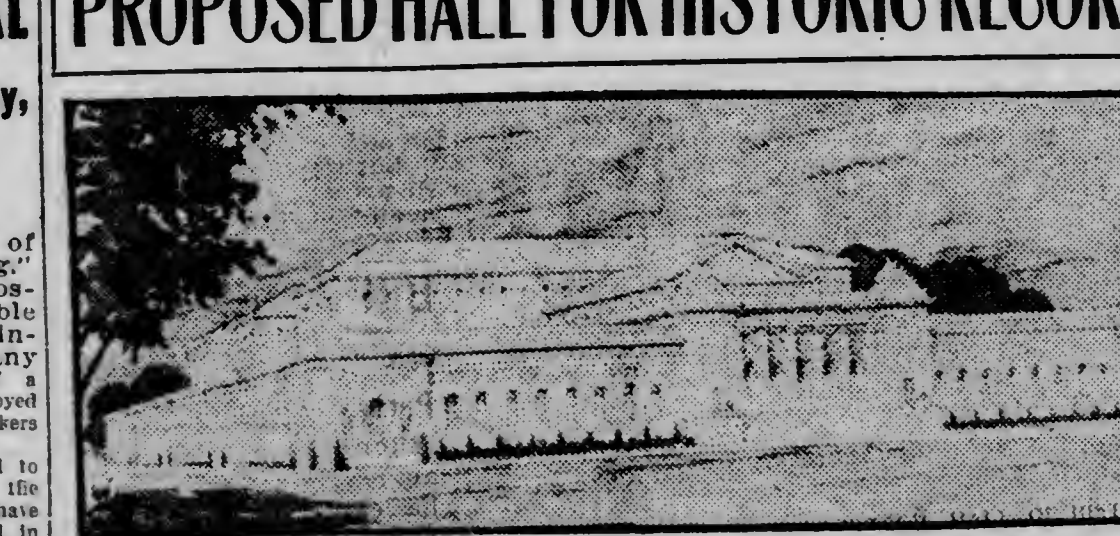

Robert D. Montgomery, defendant and counter-claimant in a divorce action which has been pending in district court since the November term of court, was today given an opportunity by Judge Cant to present his case.

When the case came up several weeks ago, Judge Cant ordered a continuance in order to give Montgomery an opportunity to amend his answer and put in his request for the decree.

At the first hearing, Montgomery appeared willing to have the decree granted, the only question being the disposition of property. When Judge Cant saw that both were willing, he gave the pair a lecture admonishing them to try to do better and declared that neither had a proper appreciation of the marriage vow.

Today, Montgomery came in with a counter-claimant in a divorce action which has been pending in district court since the November term of court, was today given an opportunity by Judge Cant to present his case.

SHAKESPEARE AS A LAWYER

Judges Often Refer to His Writings in Opinions.

From the Docket: When men of various occupations and professions familiarize themselves with the lines of Shakespeare there is an inclination to claim that the great dramatist was of the same business as they.

The author finds interest in the nautical language of the poet and lays down the book with the thought that the author must have been a sailor. The merchant, reading the play, reaches scenes so familiar to him that he thinks only of the poet as a sailor.

The claim that Shakespeare was a lawyer sounds more plausible than any claim to him made by others. Shakespeare loved legal phraseology and his frequent use of it shows that he must have been familiar with the legal profession and the law.

There is little to support these theories. For evidence on any of them we have but to look to the poet, who had a "mint of phrases in his brain" upon nearly every subject.

THREE HATS AT ONE TIME

Thomas Jefferson Says He Humored His Wife's Every Whim.

Colored Veteran of Civil War Fighting Wife's Divorce Suit.

Fifty years ago today Thomas Jefferson, negro, fought the first great battle of his life, as a soldier of the Civil war. He was then a boy of 18.

Today in district court, Jefferson is defending a divorce action against the woman he says he loves.

Jefferson is one of Duluth's best known colored men. He came to Duluth about thirty-five years ago, lived here for a short time and then moved to the Twin Cities. Three years ago he returned. Most of the time since he has been proprietor of the Willis club, a resort for colored men at 25 East Superior street.

Willena Lee Jefferson, plaintiff in the divorce action and the object of Jefferson's admiration—so he claims—is 41 years younger than he. She has an attractive appearance and according to the story which Jefferson tells, has held charms for him since first they met six years ago in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Jefferson's story is that she has been made a "drawing card" for her husband's club, that he has humored her in every way, that he has allowed her to humiliate her and insult her and later accuse her of infidelity to the marriage vow and that his treatment of her has been one of systematic cruelty.

Jefferson denies charge of cruelty. He insists that he is desperately in love with her. From the very first, he claims, he has humored her every whim, provided for her every want even to extravagance. When they were first settled in Minneapolis, he testified, he spent his last red cent in fitting out a "little flat" for her. He also claims that he allowed her to have three hats at the same time, to them doctored out in a handsome $25 plume.

Jefferson claims that he met his dusky belle in Minneapolis about six years ago. He was then engaged in the business of conducting a saloon, cafe and rooming house there. His first wife had died about a year before he met her, and he felt as though he needed a companion. Willena was introduced to him by a friend, a like to her right away," he said.

At that time, he claims, she was the mother of a child about two months old. Jefferson claims that he offered to provide a home for her and the child and that soon after he had met her took her and her child to his home in Minneapolis. She and the child had a "bunch" for some clothes.

He gave the clerk at the store a dollar extra just to see that they would get fixed out all right, he testified.

They lived together for two years before the marriage was solemnized. The marriage took place at St. Paul on June 2, 1908. Jefferson claims that he had a "bunch" for some clothes.

ACTION OF NEW PLAY COVERS A PERIOD OF FIFTY YEARS

AURIL LEE,
(First Act.)

AURIL LEE,
(Second Act.)

Auril Lee is the leading lady of the "Milestones" company which is appearing at the new Amsterdam theater in New York in that clever comedy of Edward Knoblauch and Arnold Bennett. It is one of the successes of the season in New York, as it was in London. Miss Lee is as young as she looks in the first of these pictures. This is her costume in the first act of the play, where all the characters are of fifty years age. They wear the hooded skirts of our grandmothers, and have their stately manners. In the second act several of the characters are of twenty-five years age and the old-fashioned Jersey and the bustle of amusing memory are in evidence. The third act takes place in 1912, and the costume is modern. Aside from the gentle comedy of the play, much interest centers in the appearance of three of the characters in the register's office who have revived in youth, middle age and old age. It is easier for Miss Lee, for example, to look 25 than it is to look 50 or 75. Yet the illusion created by herself and her fellow actors is perfect.

The committee in charge consists of J. E. Horak, Lawrence Barrett, J. F. McKanna, H. E. Gowan and J. F. Wolff.

The Duluth Theatrical Society will hold its regular weekly meeting for members only at the office of the court house since the evening at 8 o'clock. The class will commence the study of the subject "Karma and Reincarnation." A special article on "Karma" by Mr. Leadbeater will be read and last but not least will be used for questions and discussion. The meditation class will meet at 7:30.

Merchant Bankrupt. Alfred Johnson, merchant of Duluth, has filed in United States court a petition asking that he be declared bankrupt. He schedules his debts at $2,531.41 and his assets at $7,633.46.

Thieves Steal Roof From Man's Home. Chicagoan Makes Complaint of Odd Robbery to Police.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Of all the odd booty of thieves shown in the police records, the most curious was reported today when K. A. Williams, who lives alone and works at night, complained that thieves stole the roof off of his house.

"It rains or snows today, my furniture will have a change of the roof," Williams' house is a one-room affair on which he had just placed a new roof. The thief evidently was not regarded as valuable by the thief, or thieves.

City Made Defendant. The city commission yesterday received notice of action against the city, which was filed by Mrs. Jennie Turnbull. Mrs. Turnbull asks $2,000 damages for alleged injuries received by her on Jan. 17 last when she fell on a slippery sidewalk at John avenue and Winter street.

Name Permanent Committee. A permanent executive committee with which has charge of the proposed city exposition, was named by the nominating committee at a meeting.

SAYS TUBERCULOSIS FOLLOWED INJURY Mrs. Jessie Swanson Wants $15,000 for Accident to Son.

Mrs. Jessie Swanson has brought suit in district court for $15,000 against George H. Crosby in a personal injury action for her son, George Swanson, a minor. The boy, she claims, was employed by the defendant at Crosby, engaged in the digging of a sewer ditch at the time of the accident complained of. She alleges that on June 3 last, a cave-in crushed the boy's chest, causing him later to become afflicted with pneumonia, and that later he contracted tuberculosis.

ASK AMENDMENT. Manufacturers Want Reasonable Variations in Net Weight Bill.

Washington, Jan. 29.—In a peepery atmosphere which kept senators at the sneezing point, representatives of manufacturers of flavoring extracts, spices, and peppers, appeared today before the senate manufacturers' committee to ask the "net weight bill" be amended so as to permit "reasonable variations." They produced samples to show that it was impossible to manufacture glass containers of precisely the same size.

"It seems to me a hardship and unreasonable additional cost to require that each manufacturer should mark on each package," declared Senator Oliver.

ATTACK ON SINGLE PRESIDENTIAL TERM. Washington, Jan. 30.—An attack on the proposed single six-year presidential term, as a measure advocated by aspirants for the presidency, was made in the senate today by Senator

MRS. J. C. BISHOP. (The Woman in the Light Gown.) Mrs. James Cunningham Bishop, one of the best-known women in New York social circles, died yesterday for divorce from her husband, James C. At a special meeting of the Board of Education of the City of Duluth, duly held on the 24th day of January, 1913, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in the opinion of the Board of Education of the City of Duluth, it is expedient to issue bonds of the Independent School District of the City of Duluth, in the sum of two hundred thousand dollars, for the purpose of erecting and furnishing two school buildings in the City of Duluth.

SHAKESPEARE'S WOMEN WEAK? Helen Keller in the Metropolitan Magazine. I doubt if the women in Shakespeare's comedies have been taken seriously. They are pretty creatures intended to be played by boys. They are the vehicle of any more or less fitting strain of poetry which happens to please a poet. A woman is a very real little girl, but one would not want a grave, intellectual, and serious woman to be in the character which she displays in her encounter with the Abbot. Neither should we possess her too heavily upon Shakespeare's poetry to extract his hidden meaning. The boy is a rival of the poet's voice, the praise and also the petulant dissatisfaction of a man in love, or pretending to be in love for the purpose of poetry. The woman worship in the sonnets and the glowing passages of the plays spoken by gallants in pursuit of their lady is only the conventional romanticism common in Medieval and Renaissance literature.

Shakespeare's thrilling outlines that of all other poets. But his ideas of women are from the unconscious of a writer and his time we often learn more from his unconscious than from his direct eloquence. Portia is wise, witty, learned, disguised as a man, but she is disposed of without protest through her father's will, and his irrational adoration to a man in love, or pretending to be in love for the purpose of poetry. The woman worship in the sonnets and the glowing passages of the plays spoken by gallants in pursuit of their lady is only the conventional romanticism common in Medieval and Renaissance literature.

Portia is wise, witty, learned, disguised as a man, but she is disposed of without protest through her father's will, and his irrational adoration to a man in love, or pretending to be in love for the purpose of poetry. ## GLEANNED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

When Oscar Lundquist was married last June he took his bride to the home of his parents, near Nineteenth avenue west and Third street.

INDIGESTION AND RHEUMATISM

People With Good Digestion Do Not Have Rheumatism.

The blood is the product of digestion. Whatever sort of food is digested in the stomach is absorbed into the blood. If the food is badly digested this is also absorbed into the blood. If the food sours in the stomach before digestion or during digestion, the acids are absorbed into the blood.

These acids in the blood produce a condition known as rheumatism. The acids are able to produce microscopic crystals. These crystals are deposited in the ligaments and cartilages, causing rheumatism of the joints. Sometimes in the bones, producing periodic pains every time a storm approaches. Sometimes in the muscles, producing lumbago, stiff neck, myalgia, and muscular rheumatism generally.

Pe-ru-na Corrects Digestion.
The reason that Pe-ru-na relieves such cases is easy to understand. Pe-ru-na corrects digestion. Pe-ru-na corrects digestion partly by hurrying it. Pe-ru-na does not furnish any artificial digestant, it simply assists Nature in doing its own digesting. In this way the products of digestion are more normal. The blood is not filled with imperfectly digested food. No acids accumulate in the stomach while Pe-ru-na is being taken. Thus rheumatism is prevented. It is a great deal better to prevent a disease than to try to cure it. But even after rheumatism has begun the condition that caused it ought to be removed if possible.

Good Digestion Stops Rheumatism.
The first thing to do is to secure good digestion, then if it is necessary specific medicines for rheumatism may be taken. But until the digestion is made perfect it is of little or no use to take medicines for rheumatism. To produce good digestion Pe-ru-na should be taken.
Pe-ru-na, Man-a-lin and La-cu-pla, manufactured by the Pe-ru-na Company, Columbus, Ohio. Sold at all drug stores. No. 42.

some skirts and some dainty pieces of feminine apparel.
After his wife had been fitted out with the old clothes of his sister, Lundquist squared accounts with his sister by buying her new clothes.
The facts came out in police court this morning when Lundquist was placed on trial on a charge of non-support preferred by his wife, Belle Lundquist. Lundquist was asked if he had paid his sister for the clothes which were supplied to his wife. He stated that they had cost him $20. His sister, Florence, 17 years old, followed him on the stand. She was asked if her brother had paid her for the clothes. She replied that he had evened up with her by purchasing her new clothes, but she did not know to what extent the bill had amounted.
When Mrs. Belle Lundquist came to headquarters several mornings ago to swear out the complaint for non-support, she explained that she had taken out the marriage license. When she was asked why Lundquist had not taken out the certificate she said that Lundquist had told her that it was Leap Year and that being the case it would look better for her to get it. Lundquist did not recollect the exact date of the wedding but his sister, Florence, who got the new clothes, stated that the ceremony was performed June 29, last. He asserted that he and his wife went to live with his parents and that he had remained home about a week. He then left to go to work but never again with her again. She remained a week or two longer. The younger Mrs. Lundquist denied that she had been told to leave because she stayed out late at night and was running around with other men. The sister said that Mrs. Belle had had trouble with the elder Mrs. Lundquist because she went to work in a conference store in the West and after her mother-in-law had told not to do so.

Lundquist averred that while he was away from home he had received a letter from his sister stating that his wife was going about with other men. He said that he never investigated the reports personally but that he refused to take her back because of them. He recollected having heard two men say that his wife had been with other men. His sister said that she had seen Mrs. Belle with a girl friend and another man at a circus. At another time she stated that she had seen her at a corner near their home. He didn't know who the man was but said he left very shortly and did not come as far as their home. Another girl said that at one time she had seen Mrs. Belle coming from a moving picture show and that she had seen her husband.

The case was not concluded this forenoon and was continued until 2 o'clock this afternoon.
Hilma Junkinen, the 17-year-old domestic, who was charged on a charge of having stolen a silver soup tureen valued at $5 and a silver coffee pot worth $4 from the Spaulding hotel, was placed on parole yesterday afternoon for a period of three months. She is to report regularly to a special probation officer. The court pointed out that it was the first time she had been arrested and that she had probably been led astray by bad precept and example. She claimed that she did not start to steal until some one took $4 belonging to her from her room. It was then that she decided she would "get even."

Martin Burke was "shown" yesterday afternoon when he was tried in police court on a charge of begging. When he was arraigned in the forenoon he declared that nobody had caught him begging, although he didn't deny that he might have asked for assistance. The police produced witnesses to show that he had begged various people for cash donations.
The court handed Martin $10 or ten days. He was very anxious to get out of town and the judge gave him hours to make himself scarce.

The cold wave drove eleven derelicts into the station last night for shelter. All of them were given lodging in the hall. It will not be long before the police will be able to house them in the quarters the "tramp" room which is being fitted up on the Michigan street floor.

Joe Leslie, arrested last night with a fighting jag about, pleaded guilty today to having been drunk and disorderly. ## HAD A WIFE TOO MANY Delor Siveney Is Married at Noon and Arrested at Midnight.

Bound Over By the Same Judge Who Married Him.

Married at noon and dragged from his bed at midnight by the police—this is the short cycle of events through which Delor Siveney, 38 years old, of Eveleth, passed just before he was brought to Duluth and lodged in the county jail.
Siveney will await the action of the grand jury which convenes next week in Virginia. He is charged with having two wives, when the law allows but one.

Wednesday, Siveney and his intended came to the Virginia courthouse and secured a marriage license. Later he went to Judge J. P. Carey to get the knot tied. It seems the irony of fate that the same judge bound him over to the grand jury just twenty-four hours after he had been married and in the same court room in which he was married.
Siveney got married to Miss Josephine Blais just before noon and later went to the Shuice hotel to stay and while the happy bridal pair were slumbering the wires were hot between here and Marquette, Mich., and his first wife was located.
Deputy Sheriff Andrew Molan, who made the arrest knew the man some years ago and it was the officer's good memory that proved his undoing. Inquiry in Marquette elicited the information that he is not only married but had two children aged 15 and 10 years, respectively, living in Marquette.

When the new Mrs. Siveney was asked if her husband had told her he was married she said that he had not, but is alleged to have admitted that he told her he was living with a woman in Marquette, but that he had not married her.
Bail was fixed at $1,500, and not being forthcoming Siveney was brought to Duluth by Deputy Sheriff Arthur O'Donnell.

Miss Blais is said to have met Siveney at the Shuice hotel and originally came from North Dakota.

MARINE SHIPMASTERS ADD DULUTH

Convening Protests Against Customs Change and Asks for Hospital.

Capt. Albert Swenson Returns From Meeting at Washington.

Capt. Albert Swenson, hydrographic officer for this harbor, has returned from the meeting of the national convention of the Shipmasters' association, which has just been held at Washington, D. C., and tomorrow evening he will make his report to the local branch of the association, at a meeting to be held at Foster's hall, Fourth avenue west and First street. Capt. Swenson was invited to Washington by the hydrographic department and at the same time acted as delegate for the Shipmasters' association. The convention assembled and organization was effected. Capt. Swenson introduced a resolution protesting against the removal of the customs headquarters from Duluth to Chicago. This resolution was adopted unanimously and it was voted that the Shipmasters' association should make a case for the removal of the treasury. It is believed that this resolution, coming from men who have practical knowledge of conditions here and of the requirements for the port, will have an immense influence on the department and it is also fully believed that the removal will not take place. The captain received the assurance of the Minnesota senators and Congressmen Miller and Peterson that every possible step would be taken to prevent such a change. The captain said that the Minnesota senators and the congressman from this district should show the courtesy and volunteered information and assistance in anything he attempted.

Another matter which came up concerning the removal of the treasury from Duluth is asked to interest himself actively, in that of having a marine hospital established here. Capt. Swenson obtained the appointment of a committee of delegates to the Shipmasters' association to present the case to the surgeon general of the United States marine and public health service.

Capt. Swenson says that the surgeon general was amazed when the figures concerning the importance of the Duluth-Superior harbor were shown him. He said that he had not realized that it was such an important point. He agreed readily that it should not only have a marine physician and hospital, but that it should have a marine hospital with a physician in charge and nurses on duty. He said, however, that all he can do is to recommend the establishment of such an institution and agreed to do so in his report to the next congress. It will then be up to Congressmen Miller and Peterson to get the bill passed. The captain said that he was sure that the congressmen would do so.

Following is part of the array of facts presented to the surgeon general: That during the navigation season of 1912 there have been shipped from the ports of Duluth and Superior by the Lake Carriers' association 5,049 seamen on vessels belonging to that organization and in addition to seamen on the coastwise trade, there have been shipped at these ports on other vessels not belonging to the Lake Carriers' association, making a total of 7,000 men so shipped at the head of Lake Superior. The captain said that he was sure that the congressmen would do so.

POOR WAGES CAUSE DOWNFALL OF GIRLS.

New York, Jan. 31.—Poor wages in the shop are the cause of many young women starting on downward careers, according to Mrs. Frederick Nathan, president of the Consumers' League, speaking at the annual meeting of the organization tonight.

The figures brought forth show that 60 per cent of the saleswomen over 16 years of age in New York stores receive less than $6.50 a week and 32 per cent receive between $6 and $6.50. "We believe that $9 a week is the lowest living wage for self-supporting girls to live on in our city," declared the speaker. "Many of the girls who earn less than $9 have no other source of income, and in order to make up the discrepancy, they lose their health or self respect or both, and the community pays eventually through taxes raised to support hospitals, homes and reformatories."

The 2 Great Essentials of Food

1st: Taste No matter how nourishing a food may be it must taste good. If it doesn't, it won't coax the digestive juices into action; and if it doesn't do that the nourishment in the food will pass through the body unassimilated.

2nd: Cooking No matter how nourishing a food may be, if it requires cooking it must be properly cooked. Cooking brings about chemical changes, without the aid of which the digestive juices cannot perform their task.

H-O Oatmeal is tempting in taste. The full flavor of the oats is brought out by our process of cooking in sealed cookers.

H-O Oatmeal is always properly cooked in 20 minutes. We cook it over 2 hours at the mill before you get it.

Therefore, you always have in H-O Oatmeal the two great essentials of food.

HOME FOR AGED IS DISCUSSED

Swedish and Norwegian Residents of County to Unite.

Hope to Have Building Ready By Fall of 1914.

From present indications the proposed home for the aged will be erected by the Scandinavians in St. Louis county.

The plan was first taken up by the Vasa Order, No. 170, Swedish United Sons of America, several weeks ago and since then it has been discussed considerably by the Swedish and Norwegian residents of Duluth and the county at large. It is probable that the Swedish and Norwegian residents in the project and erect a Scandinavian home for the aged in this county.

With the combining of the Swedish and Norwegian residents, those at the head of the movement believe it will be much easier to secure the necessary funds for the erection of the building. Every Scandinavian resident of the county will be asked to subscribe to the building fund. The project will be more fully discussed by the Vasa order at an early meeting, when the tentative plans for the campaign will be drawn up.

It is planned to purchase about ten acres of land somewhere along the St. Louis river at a cost of about $5,000. About $40,000 will then be needed to erect and furnish the building and the necessary funds are secured by the spring of 1914, those at the head of the movement plan to have the structure ready for use by the fall of that year.

MADE LOVE TO HAIR DRESSER

Colored Social Worker, in Disguise, Visited Club Run By Jefferson.

She Tells Court About Colored Men's Club During Divorce Trial.

Thomas Jefferson's tale of undying love and affection for his wife, a dusky belle thirty-five years his junior, would seem to have been shattered by the story told by a woman detective yesterday afternoon in the divorce court, where William Lass Jefferson is seeking a separation from her husband, a well-known local colored veteran of the Civil war.

Jefferson professes great affection for William. Yesterday he admitted that he was jealous of her—even to the point of watching her every movement. William, he would have it appear, was the idol of his heart and the light of his life.

The testimony given yesterday afternoon at the divorce trial by one Mrs. A. M. White, colored detective and social worker of Chicago, puts a crimp in Jefferson's story, if it is to be taken as the truth.

Mrs. White came to Duluth a few weeks ago to investigate social conditions among the colored people of Duluth. Her investigations were rather extensive and even reached to a sleuthing expedition into the colored underworld. It was while she was on a tour of inspection among the colored men's clubs of the city, that she first ran across Jefferson.

Mrs. White dropped into the Willis club, 25 East Michigan street, one day to disguise her mission, she informed Mr. Jefferson, proprietor, that she was a hair dresser and had just dropped in for a lunch at the club.

The "hair dresser," according to her testimony, evidently held charms for Jefferson. She testified that he asked her to become his "sweetheart" and that he promised to "fit up a nice little flat for her." She claims that she listened to his flattery and received his attentions at the time merely to throw him off his guard.

Mrs. White was not employed by Mrs. Jefferson. She said she was simply collecting data in her investigation of conditions in colored men's resorts. The 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. Jefferson, she claims, was found in the clubrooms on more than one occasion and she asserts that this was the object of her visit to the Willis club more than once.

Mrs. White testified that she notified the police that conditions were not right at the Willis club for the little girl and asked the police to see that she was not allowed to stay there. The police complied with her request and Jefferson was told to keep the girl away from the club.

Mrs. White stated also that she had investigated a number of colored men's resorts in other cities and as a rule had found them operating under a license from the city. In Duluth, she said, she was surprised to find that they were conducted in secret.

Jefferson took the stand to deny the story of Mrs. White, in so far as it applied to his pasting situation to her. Jefferson stated that he "suspected all the time" that she was not a hair dresser but was a detective trying to find out something. He claims Mrs. White did not fool him.

All of the testimony in the case was put in yesterday. Judge Dancer has taken the case under advisement and will announce his decision within a few days. Mrs. Jefferson is suing for a divorce on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Be on Hand Saturday.

CANAL IS MECCA OF TOURISTS

"The earth had started to cave in around the Culbrena cut before we left Panama," said Parker Paine, one of the Duluth board of trade this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Paine have just returned from a trip to the canal. "There was a big section covering about forty acres that had begun to slide, and even before we left the engineers realized that they would have to level off the hills before the cut would be safe. The biggest slide has taken place within the last few days, I see by the dispatches from there."

Mr. Paine stated that although tourist travel to Panama was very heavy at the present time, it did not seem to be affecting the business at other Southern resorts. The steamers running to Panama seem to be booked to capacity on every trip and it is necessary to engage accommodations weeks ahead to be sure of passage.

It looks to the average man as if the canal were very near completion. It seems to be only a question of putting on the finishing touches every day but in the Culbrena cut. These landslides have probably delayed the work, but to make it look as if they were very nearly through. The weather was delightful, being like Duluth in summer or warmer.

DULUTH AS FARM CITY

Magazine Writer Tells of City's Growth as Agricultural Center.

Does Not Forget the Familiar Trout, Deer and Bear Stories.

The February number of World's Work gives much prominence to Duluth and the agricultural work of the Duluth Commercial club. Several pages are devoted to a description of the growth of agriculture and gardening in the vicinity of the city and the article is illustrated by views of the aerial bridge, of the busiest section of the city and of some of the farms in the vicinity of the city. A photograph of A. B. Hostetter, superintendent of agriculture of the Commercial club, also accompanies the article.

The article is by Frank Parker Stockbridge, editor of Town Development, who has previously through his own publication and otherwise shown his interest in the development of Duluth.

Mr. Stockbridge tells how a few years ago, Duluth's market was being supplied by the commission men of the Twin Cities. The Commercial club took it up. The article says:

"So it came about that when I sat down at luncheon at the club rooms last June my host, A. B. Hostetter, bore the title of superintendent of agriculture of the Duluth Commercial club. From table to table noticeable non-commercial conversation passed. 'How are your peas coming on, John?' called a prosperous looking citizen to a friend at another table. 'Coming on fine, Harry. How's your corn?'

"Looking great. I'll bring some down for lunch as soon as it's big enough."

All Farmers.

"Are you members all farmers?" I asked, as these and similar interchanges about the big room, caught my ear. Mr. Hostetter laughed.

"In a way everybody in Duluth is a farmer," he said. "Just all sorts of that, the gentleman in the corner is a millionaire iron man. The one who spoke of his corn made a fortune in lumber and retired some years ago. I suppose there are more millionaires in Duluth, in proportion to population, than in any other city. But if you want to get them really interested just begin to talk about farming. It's the farms in St. Louis county that are going to make Duluth the real metropolis of the Northwest."

The writer goes into detail in describing the development of the agricultural work of the Commercial club, which on the part played by Secretary Eva, C. P. Craig and John G. Williams in the early days. He tells of the club's work in the iron range railroad and G. G. Hartley. The poultry and garden schools, school contests, the potato special and other features of the Commercial club work are mentioned in his article with some traditional comment on Duluth.

Old Fish Story.

"Duluth is a northern city—one does not need the evidence of the high-towering ski-slope that surmounts its highest hill to realize that—but alfalfa grows its three annual crops on the Jean Duluth farm, and, if berries are a bit late in ripening, they find no competitors in the market. A dozen trout-brooks run from the hills through the city into Lake Superior. One may trout and lose it through the kitchen window without stirring from his seat. As I came back from the Jean Duluth farm with Mr. Hostetter, wild rabbits scurried across the city streets in front of our car and hid in the dense woods on either side. Hardly a winter passes without a deer being shot inside the city limits, and a year or two ago a bear was killed less than a mile from the business center. So close to the primitive has Duluth remained, content to take toll of passing commerce without herself adding to the world's wealth. The new community spirit that has inspired its cutting off the forest, driving the deer and the bear back toward Canada, and laying the foundation for a bigger and better Duluth, to the metropolis in its own right of a rich and happy land of fertile farms."

PROPOSED CIRCUIT OF BENCH SHOWS.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Organization of a circuit of bench shows to include the Twin Cities, Duluth, Milwaukee, La Crosse, Sioux City, Sioux Falls, S. D., Fargo and Grand Forks has been proposed by the Grand Forks Kennel club, and the officials of the other clubs on the question.

It is proposed to schedule the shows in such manner that the dog owners can travel from one show to the other, covering the entire number during the season, and in that manner each city will secure a bigger show than is possible under present conditions, dogs being attracted from a wider area.

Amusement Notes.

The largest panorama ever used on a stage will be seen in "Madame Sherry" when that sensational musical hit comes to this city tonight. The canvas is used in the second act and serves as a background showing the famous skyline of New York as seen from the harbor. The scene is the deck of a yacht anchored in the Hudson and just before the curtain descends, the craft is seen to steam away. The effect of motion is obtained by the moving panorama, which, as it unfolds, brings all the famous landmarks of lower Manhattan into view. The audience can easily discern the Singer tower, the Hudson terminal building, the suspension bridge, the Battery and finally, the statue of liberty.

Eddie Cooke is in Duluth this week in the interest of Klaw & Erlanger's new colonial production of "Ben-Hur," which runs at the Lyceum theater for five nights, Feb. 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22.

"Charles H. Hoyt was one of the best playwrights and best fellows and one of the worst actors that ever lived," said Charles Warren, who is appearing in "An Opening Night" at the Orpheum this week. Mr. Warren plays the role of the theater manager in the vaudeville playlet. For eleven successive seasons he was associated with Charles H. Hoyt and appeared in nearly every play that Hoyt wrote, of which "A Texas Steer" was probably the best known.

"Hoyt used to occasionally fill in a minor part when somebody would be taken ill," said Mr. Warren. "He knew he could not act and had no ambitions that way, but I remember once he convulsed the company as well as the audience. He decided one night he wanted to go on for the banquet scene in 'A Texas Steer' and nothing could stop him. In the middle of the scene he rose to his feet and made a speech that was the funniest thing I ever heard on the stage or off. None of us knew it was coming, and it just about broke up the show. I remember the critics commented on how well the banquet scene was acted that night, but it wasn't acting. Hoyt was a most brilliant fellow and wrote some of the best things, but I don't believe he ever said or wrote anything as good as that banquet speech."

There will be but three more performances of this week's bill. Next week's program will be headlined by Charles Kellogg, the nature singer.

One of the Most Important Questions to Consider in the Search for Happiness and Health.

If your stomach cannot digest your food, what will be the result? The answer is that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because, as all stomach troubles arise from indigestion and because one ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is able to thoroughly and completely digest 3,000 grains of food, doesn't it stand to reason that these tablets are going to digest all the food and whatever food you put into your stomach?

You Can Eat With the Appetite of a Lusty Youngster, If You Help Your Stomach.

Science nowadays can digest food without having it enter the stomach at all. And Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the result of this scientific discovery. They digest and digest thoroughly and well, anything and everything you eat.

The burning question to you is, "Are you getting out of life all the pleasure and the health you are entitled to?" If not, who not?

You are going to be a worried out-of-sorts person or a sulky individual. Whose actions will reflect your condition inside, and people will naturally avoid you.

No, if your stomach refuses to work or can't work, and you suffer from eruptions, blot, rash, fermentation, biliousness, sour stomach, indigestion, indigestion, or dyspepsia of whatever form, just take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and see the difference. It doesn't cost you much to prove it. Then you can eat all you want, what you want, whenever you want. If you use these tablets, and you can look the whole world in the face with a beaming eye and you will have a cheerful spirit, a pleasant face, a vigorous body and a clear mind and memory and everything will look and taste delicious to you. ## BALKS AT ALTAR, TAKEN TO COURT

Fleeing From Home of Prospective Bride, Man Is Arrested.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—In less than twelve hours Nathan Schmidt, of South Fourth street, traveled from a wedding altar to the desk of Magistrate Hughes because at the last minute he balked at being married. "I just don't want to; I guess I had better quit," was his explanation, while his bride-to-be, Miss Mary Sherman, went copiously to Schmidt, after saying he did not wish to be married. He stated the age of Miss Sherman as 19. There was a chorus of exclamations, and when a charge of perjury was preferred against him. The young woman said that Schmidt had told the immigration officials that she was 24 years old.

MARSHALL WON BET.

But the Bullet Went Through His Skull.

Harrodsburg, Ky., Jan. 31.—Jack Coleman, a would-be William Tell, bet Henry Marshall he could put a rifle bullet through Marshall's hat without touching his scalp. Marshall accepted the wager and won. The bullet went through Marshall's skull, killing him instantly. Coleman was arrested.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

THE MOST VALUABLE MEDICINE

Made From the Choicest Grains

Barley is a very old grain. It was an important article of food in the primitive days when men were strong. The mighty Greeks ate bread and barley flour. Since the beginning of history, drinks made from barley have been used in cases of illness. All the ancient nations recognized its wonderful curative powers.

Barley is a costly grain, yet the very choicest barley, regardless of cost, is used in connection with other selected grain in making Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Other so-called "malt whiskeys" which you can buy in the store at a less price than Duffy's Malt use cheaper material with a meager amount of malt; but bear this in mind—these imitations, while they are made to look like Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, have not the medicinal strength-giving properties nor palatability and fine flavor that characterizes Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

When convalescing from illness, or when the system is run down, or in cases of colds, coughs or affections of the throat or lungs, no medicine is so effective as REAL Malt Whiskey taken in small doses. And the Malt Whiskey which has the utmost of strength-giving elements—elements which can only be obtained through the use of BARLEY MALT—is Duffy's.

REASONS FOR BOND ISSUE

Money Will Be Used for the Erection of New Schools.

Board Believes Cost Should Be Spread Over Term of Years.

Duluth voters will have an opportunity tomorrow to say whether they are in favor of the issuance of $200,000 in bonds for the erection of two new school buildings.

The money is needed for the erection of the Robert E. Denfeld high school at West Duluth and the first unit of the Roger S. Munger school at Twelfth avenue east and Eighth street.

The polls will be open tomorrow from 6 a. m. until 7 p. m. and the members of the board of education are anxious that a representative vote be cast. They point out that the expenditure of $200,000 and interest spread over the next thirty years is a matter in which the taxpayers should take enough interest to get out and vote.

For a time the board adopted the policy of levying amounts of money needed for school buildings. There was considerable opposition to that plan on the theory that school buildings are lasting institutions of benefit not only to the present property owners, but to those of the future, and that the cost should be spread over a term of years, in order that the burden might be lightened.

The school board has now adopted that plan, and all expensive buildings erected in the future will very likely be paid for by the issuance of bonds rather than by heavy tax levies which make the burden heavier by falling in one year.

The Irving building at West Duluth now houses the industrial school and the Irving grade school. The high school and grade school are both cramped for room, and the board has been repeatedly petitioned to make some provision for relieving the congestion. The new building will be a modern high school, suitable to meet the needs of West Duluth for many years.

The Roger S. Munger school, which is demanded by the growth of the hillside district west of Chester Park, will be erected in two units. Provision for the first unit is made in the bond issue which will be submitted tomorrow.

MATCHMAKER IS GIVEN THE BLAME

"Schatchen" Chose Husband Young Wife Does Not Love.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 31.—The trouble that a "matchmaker" can make while he is trying to bring two hearts together in matrimony was recounted by Mrs. Nettie Stinkowitz Brody, 17 years old, and her husband, Philip, 35. The girl-wife left her husband last September immediately after the wedding ceremony was performed in the synagogue and has insisted she never would live with Brody.

The husband, who is a wealthy merchant of Salem, Iowa, has a handsome face, but the girl, who is a native of the city, says she has no use for him, all because the "matchmaker" picked out a wife for him who never would live with him. Mrs. Brody, suing as a minor, has asked the circuit court to release her from the marital bonds which, she says, were forced upon her. Brody, who says his troubles have wrecked his health and cost him $2,000 in loss of business, declares he is not averse to a dissolution of the marriage.

In her petition, Mrs. Brody gave as a reason for seeking an annulment of her marriage that her father, Bernard Brody, had been deceived by the matchmaker into killing himself unless she married Brody.

LOVER DIES IN SNOW.

On Way to Wed, Lumberman Perishes Near Sweetheart's Home.

Winchester, Va., Jan. 31.—Frozen to death, Jack Compton, who left a lumber camp near Franklin, Pendleton county, W. Va., intending to marry Miss Annie Lambert at Riverton, that evening, was found several days later. His body was discovered in a ravine a short distance from the Lambert home.

Night coming on, he is thought to have lost his way in the two-foot snow and perished.

CITY CONVENIENCES IN A COUNTRY SCHOOL

How a small one-teacher school in the country may have all the conveniences of a city school.

The country school at Kirkville, Mo., according to H. W. Forth, specialist in rural education, the United States bureau of education, is a model of a country school.

Indoor toilets and shower baths, drinking fountains, a modern heating plant, a school, however remote from the city, should have the same conveniences as a city school. The Kirkville school is conspicuous for its utilization of every available inch of space. It is only a one-story building, slightly wider than the typical Missouri country school, but its attic and basement are both put to valuable use. The attic is employed for manual training and domestic science, and there is an excellent ballroom. The basement contains a heating plant, a combination of hot water and hot air, described as very economical in use; the schoolroom, a bathroom for the outdoor garden, and a darkroom for developing photographs.

The machinery of the school plant consists of a pneumatic pressure tank, operated by a gasoline engine. A septic-tank sewer system is maintained at small expense.

The main floor of the building, besides containing the classroom proper, has a small community library, separate from the school library, emphasizing the purpose of the rural school as a community center. The classroom itself occupies most of the floor. The desks and seats in it are both adjustable and movable, with individual platforms, and when all are removed to one side, as many as 200 people can be accommodated, thus making it possible to use the room for community gatherings. The stereopticon in the wall of the classroom emphasizes still further the fact that this school is built for general community use as well as for ordinary school purposes.

Every effort has been made to have the model rural school at Kirkville approximate actual rural conditions. Although located on the campus of the Kirkville Normal school, it is detached from the other buildings. Every pupil are real rural material. Every morning a transportation wagon brings in thirty-four country children from a distance of five miles. No town children are allowed to attend, because it is distinctly a rural school. An experienced manual teacher is in charge and the school she conducts is an observation school. Candidates for rural-school certificates attend it at least once a day and observe her work, and at the end of two years of training in the normal school they receive practice work in the school.

Teachers who have gone out from experience in this model rural school are 800 per cent better teachers, said Mr. Forth. "But the best indication of the value of such a school is the way its leading features have been copied. In the country schools have been built. They do not always copy all the details, but the attic arrangement and the sanitary equipment are generally duplicated. Buildings modeled on the Kirkville school have been erected in Mississippi and Nebraska."

WOULDN'T THIS BE PERFECTLY AWFUL?

Washington, Jan. 31.—Washington society gasped when the rumor went around that under the coming Wilson regime at the White House, dinner would be served at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, as has been the custom in the Wilson family at Trenton and Princeton, and that the evening meal would be classed as supper.

In addition it was rumored that the new president would dispense with the military and naval aides that have formed part of the retinue of presidents of the United States for many years. It was asserted that President Wilson would send the army and navy officers who have been on duty at the White House back to their regiments and ships, and return to a scheme of living quite devoid of the glitter of gold lace and the glamour of uniforms.

ORANGE "PUMPS"

The orange-growers of California, says a writer to the Wide World Magazine, take pains to pick in their products and exercise the utmost care to see that no imperfect fruits are sent to market. All oranges are carefully sorted, and any that possess flaws are rejected, and later on, hauled out into the desert in wagons and there dumped to rot. Hundreds of loads are disposed of in this way during the season, and thousands upon thousands of juicy oranges are thrown away.

children" in the hall of the city college. "A child of 4," continues the scientific formula, "is expected to know its sex and to be able to recognize such objects as a key, knife or a penny, and to tell the comparative length of lines."

"At 5 a boy or girl should be able to draw a square and to repeat sentences. When a child is 6 we ask for definitions. I might ask: 'What is a fork?' If a boy answered: 'I eat with a fork,' it would be sufficient for that age, but if he inserted the word 'something' in his definition, 'a fork is something to eat with,' it would place him in the 8-year class. If he said: 'A piece of tableware,' he would be in the 12-year class. A child of 10 is asked what he would do if he missed a train. Here the answers vary. One child said: 'Wait for another.' Another said he would 'run and catch it.' While a boy from the Bronx said he would go home for the day."

What to do if struck by a playmate was the most puzzling of all questions. Boys invariably looked at their mothers when the question was put. "Forgive him," was the answer only a few times.

The best examination passed so far was by 7-year-old Donald Grant, of 507 West One Hundred and Thirty-eight street, who passed the examination for the child of 10.

VACUUM STREET CLEANING. Indianapolis News: The vacuum cleaning apparatus has been applied in Strassburg to clean the tramway tracks of that city. In the operation of the machine the roadbed is sprayed with water, then the dirt is loosened by a scraper and drawn up into the car by a suction apparatus. With this machine dirt in the street can be cleaned five miles of track a day, replacing the labor of seventeen men working in the ordinary way.

POTATOES AND EGGS CHEAPER

Two Important Household Necessities Are Down in Price.

Lemons Are More Plentiful and Sell for Less—Butter Higher.

bushel a week ago, is now 45 cents. Farmers are shipping them to the market in large quantities. Heretofore farmers have been inclined to hold their stocks of tubers back in the hope of a rising market, but in this they have been disappointed, and now they are rushing them to the shipping points, fearing that the prices will be still lower. The Northwest had a fine crop of potatoes last fall, as it did of almost every other agricultural product and the farmers have abundant supplies in their hands. There seems to be little reason to doubt that potatoes will remain cheap through the remainder of the winter.

der of the winter. A year ago the wholesale price of potatoes at Duluth was $1 a bushel. Eggs have continued to decline in price on account of the mildness of the winter. Fresh eggs, which were selling at wholesale for 26 and 27 cents per dozen a week ago, are now bringing 25 and 26 cents. Hens have been laying very plentifully for this time of year. The comparatively low price of feed has induced many people to keep hens through the winter, who would not have done so under ordinary circumstances. The drop in the price of fresh eggs has also forced storage eggs down. Storage eggs, which last week were bringing 21 and 22 cents a dozen, are now selling at 20 and 21 cents. A year ago fresh eggs were bringing 29 and 30 cents a dozen at wholesale, and storage 26 cents a dozen.

Butter is a cent higher than it was a week ago. The wholesale price of the best creamery has gone up from 24 to 25 cents a pound. This increase is not due to any scarcity of milk, for milk has not been scarce. The Eastern market has strengthened with an increased demand and the Duluth market has followed. The stocks of butter over the country have been running rather low, as is usual at this time of the year. A year ago the best creamery at Duluth was bringing 37 cents a pound at wholesale. The highest price of butter has been stimulating the sale of oleomargarine. Dealers say they have sold more of it this winter than ever before.

Lemons are more plentiful than they were a week ago and are a little cheaper, by reason of the fact that new supplies have been received from California. A box that a week ago brought $9 now goes for $8.50. The damage to the lemons by the recent frosts in California was not so great as was at first supposed, because large quantities of the California supply will make it necessary to ship imported Sicilian and Italian lemons from the East to this part of the country. At all events no large quantities of the imported lemons will be brought to the Northwest.

Duluth wholesale produce merchants have divided oranges into two big classes by reason of the recent California frosts. Those which were shipped before the frosts fell are to be known as extra fancy oranges and the various sizes will bring 50 cents a box more than the corresponding sizes of the oranges which were not shipped in time to escape the frosts. Even those oranges that were exposed to the frosts are as good eating as any if they are consumed immediately, but if kept they are liable to dry up. Trouble with such oranges may develop within the next two or three weeks.

Several California products have disappeared from the Duluth market within the last week, on account of the damage done to garden and orchard produce in that state by frosts. There are no more California tomatoes, lettuce or Cansabe melons. Cuban tomatoes are higher because of the disappearance of the Californians. A six-bushel crate of Cubans, which a week ago brought $4.50, now sells for $4.75. Head lettuce is coming now from Florida, and is bringing $2.25 a hamper. This is a lower price than the California lettuce was bringing. Florida peppers are a little cheaper than they were

Speechless for Thanks

Mena, Ark.—"I find Cardui to be all you represent," writes Mrs. H. B. York, of this city. "I suffered from womanly ailments, for nearly two years, before I tried Cardui. I have been so relieved since taking it. I cannot say enough in its praise. It has done me a world of good, and I recommend Cardui to all women." Cardui is over 50 years old, and the demand is greater today than ever. Cardui is the standard, tonic medicine, for women of every age. Would you like to be well and strong? Then take Cardui. Its record shows that it will help you. Begin today. Why wait?

a week ago, the price having dropped from 60 to 50 cents a basket.

Apples have remained remarkably low for this season of the year. There is a vast quantity of excellent barrel apples grown in New York and the Southwest in store. The fine quality of these apples has caused the price of Western box apples actually to drop during the past week, whereas at this season of the year, apples usually have a steady advance. Western box apples are not so good as they usually are and this fact, together with the excellent quality of the barrel apples, has made it necessary to cut the price of the box apples, if they are to be disposed of at all. A box of Jonathans that ruled at $1.75 to $2 a week ago now has a single price of $1.75.

There are no more Malaga grapes to be had. The local supplies have been entirely consumed and dealers say the demand is not sufficient to warrant the importation of any more.

through the rest of the winter. Lard has gone up half a cent, the wholesale price at Duluth now being 11 1/2 cents a pound.

SUFFRAGE FOR WOMEN

House Bill Will Probably Be Special Order on Thursday.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Woman suffrage probably will be made a special order and come up for a vote in the house at 11 o'clock next Thursday. Adolph Larson of Pine county, author of the house bill, served notice today that he would ask for a vote at that time.
The house elections committee report that the bill be recommended to pass, was adopted by the house today. Following a conference with men of St. Paul who are interested in having the suffrage amendment pass, the Woman's Welfare League has secured downtown headquarters to centralize activity and will open club rooms Monday morning.
The legislative committee of the Minnesota Woman's Suffrage association also will open headquarters with the league.

Bull Moose in this state will have party standing if the bill introduced in the senate today by Senator Saxness becomes a law. It provides that any party having candidates casting a per cent or more of the vote for governor at the last preceding election shall be given a place on the primary ballot. Candidates may get on the ballot also by petition.

DARROW TRIAL FINALLY BEGINS

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 31.—After eleven days devoted to procuring a jury the second trial of Clarence S. Darrow, former counsel for the McNamara brothers on a jury bribery charge growing out of the famous dynamite trial, finally began today.
Darrow alleged to have sworn juror in the McNamara case through the instrumentality of Bert Franklin, who was a detective for the McNamara defense and later became the chief witness against Darrow in his first trial on the charge of having tried to bribe George Lockwood, a McNamara ventriloquist. Darrow confessed to having taken a bribe from Franklin soon after the close of the McNamara trial.

ATTORNEY IS EXAMINED

Appears Before the Ethics Committee of Bar Association.

Attorney Joseph De La Motte, whose connection with the now famous Gollie case, has brought him into the public view, appeared Wednesday before the ethics committee of the St. Louis County Bar association, of which he is a member, to be cross-questioned as to his dealings with his former client, Paul Gollie.

Eliz Southwick, secretary of the state board of examiners, was also present at the conference. It is understood that on Tuesday next, the state board will decide what steps will be taken if any toward the disbarment of the local attorney.
The members of the ethics committee are Arthur H. Craswell, chairman; H. R. Spencer, Alfred Jaques, S. W. Gilpin and H. Goldenberg.
A number of local attorneys, it is said, have considered De La Motte's connection with the Gollie case a reflection on the bar of St. Louis county and with this idea in mind, it is understood that a subscription list is to be circulated among the members of the profession to raise a fund for Gollie.

BANK EXCHANGES SHOW GAIN OF 3.6 PER CENT.

New York, Jan. 31.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:
Bank exchanges this week at all the leading cities in the United States aggregate $2,294,739,001, a gain of 3.6 per cent as compared with the same week last year. While this exhibit is not so favorable as for several preceding weeks, the comparison is on the whole fairly satisfactory, because the decreased gain compared with last year is in the main caused by contraction at New York.

SACRIFICED FOOT TO SAVE HIS LIFE

Exhibition of Courage on Part of Night Watchman.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 31.—With his foot wedged between a rail and a railguard, August Herschbach, 50 years old, leaned to one side and sacrificed the foot to save his life. The wheels of a freight train cut off the foot at the ankle and the man grasped the handrail on the side of a box car and was dragged fifty yards before the train stopped.
Herschbach is a night watchman at the plant of Swift & Co. His foot became jammed in the track while he was crossing the outer railroad yards in East St. Louis.

The freight train was backing slowly and when he was released by the cutting off of his foot, Herschbach, fearing he would be beside the track before aid arrived, pluckily grasped the handrail and held on. He was found unconscious beside the track when the train stopped, and was taken to St. Mary's hospital.
Herschbach is married and resides at Chester, Ill.

FISHING BOAT

CAUGHT IN ICE

City of Two Harbors Frozen in on the North Shore.

Ice Field Extends From Duluth to Grand Marais.

Fishing boats have brought in word that Lake Superior is completely frozen over at least from Grand Marais to Duluth.

One smack, the City of Two Harbors, is reported caught in the ice down the north shore. She carries a crew of three men under Capt. John Waroe.
None of them is believed to be in any danger as it is stated that the ice is amply heavy to support them. They could make their way over to the shore where they could find shelter in the homes of settlers or fishermen.
From there they can easily reach a railroad.

The lake froze over this year a week later than it did a year ago. Last year a fishing boat was also caught in the ice and was not released until the spring thaw. None of the men suffered any great hardship and the boat was not greatly damaged. The freezing of the lake marks the end of the fishing season until the ice is out again.

M. W. Murray, president of the Scandia Fish company, states that the season has been highly successful. He reports that the catches of herring, hundreds of tons having been taken from the lake this year. During the last two months several carloads a day have been shipped from Duluth and Two Harbors. A large stock of frozen fish is now on hand for filling future orders.

Any overcoat, $15; any suit, $15; sold for $30 to $25. The Big Duluth.

CASTRO TO BE

HEARD AGAIN

garding his admissibility. If permitted to refuse, they maintained that the "immigration service might just as well adjourn."

Established by State Department.

The alleged information against Castro was furnished the department of commerce and labor by the state department and Secretary Nagle in his decision frankly admits, that but for the state department's action, Castro probably would have been admitted without question. "Cipriano Castro's former position as president of Venezuela," he added, "would, under ordinary circumstances, have furnished further inducement for such action."

The immigration bureau, he declared, had followed the same course in this case as that pursued in any other wherein officials had been warned regarding the character of an alien.
"It is officially charged," said Mr.
Nagle, that Castro, while president of Venezuela, and in full possession of the authority of that state, directed the killing of Paredes without trial or hearing of any kind. Paredes at the time having been made a prisoner while engaged in a revolt against Castro."

The information that Castro ordered the killing of the general under these circumstances, Mr. Nagle says, is conclusively confirmed by authenticated copies of original telegrams.

Might Be Political.

The secretary admitted that precedents seem to hold that such a crime would be political although this view has been questioned by high authorities. "Consideration," he added, "however, must be given to the fact that the alleged offense was not committed by a person engaged in a revolution against constituted authority," but by the president of the republic in authority of the state who denied the benefit of the very law which he was charged to preserve."

Also the secretary pointed out that the immigration law was amended in 1907 so as to exempt offenses "purely political and not involving moral turptude."

"I cannot assume," said Mr. Nagle, "that any act of violence, committed by the highest authority of the state during a disturbance in this regard of constituted authority, must under all circumstances be regarded as purely political and not involving moral turptude. If such a conclusion were to be expressed, then burning at the stake, or subjecting a victim to torture, or indeed any offense committed by an official in charge would satisfy the exception, provided that the act is committed during political excitement and against a participant."

Broader Question.

Regarding the broader question as to the right of an alien to answer directed questions to determine his admissibility the secretary holds that the recognition of that privilege would result virtually in the admission of all aliens because of the failure of proof against them.

He disagrees with the contention that the admission of the commission of a felony cannot be forced under the immigration law but must be voluntary.

"The alien is not in a criminal court where he might stand upon his rights to refuse to make a confession," concluded the secretary. He is before an administrative body asking for the privilege to enter, and he is under the necessity of complying for that purpose."

BILL IN HOUSE

four-year term with the provision that "no person who has held the office by election, or discharged its powers and duties, or acted as president," should be "eligible to hold the office by election more than one additional term."

An amendment by Senator Hitchcock was similar, but provided a six-year term with one re-election. An amendment by Senator McCumber also limited a president to two four-year terms and provided that any service as president for the "major fraction" of a four-year term should count as one term. Senator Williams' amendment, similar to this, would have counted
"any fraction of a term" as a full term.

Under any of these amendments,
Col. Roosevelt would be ineligible for re-election. An amendment by Senator Payton proposed to extend the six-year term to the president in office when the constitutional amendment should be ratified; another by Senator Dixon proposed expressly to except President-elect Wilson from the restriction of a single term, and an amendment by Senator Root pro-

BOUND WATCHMAN

HAS CLOSE CALL

Fire Starts Near Him Before He Can Release Himself.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—For four hours early today Michael Roser, 65 years old, lay bound and gagged on the floor in a North side department store where he had been left by safeblowers and watched smoke curling up from smoldering blankets used by the thieves to deaden the sound of an explosion.

Fearful that he would be burned to death without being able to give an alarm, Roser made a frantic effort to free himself when he saw the blankets start to blaze.

He was successful in loosening a tie which held his arms and the removal of the gag from his mouth and the ropes about his leg was a matter of a few moments. He telephoned an alarm first to the fire department and then to the police. When the former arrived the interior of the building, which was of two story construction, was in flames and the structure and contents were destroyed with a loss of $75,000.

The safeblowers, four in number, broke into the store shortly after midnight and according to Roser were only a few minutes blowing open the safe and escaping with $1,200. Roser was employed in the store as a night watchman.

NO JUSTIFICATION

FOR INFERENCE

Pres.-Elect Wilson Does Not Feel Limited in Picking Cabinet.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Women's Missionary society met this afternoon at the Sherman L. Coy home on Avenue C.
There were many women present and the following was the program of the afternoon: Devotional, Miss Lynch; home topic, Mrs. W. S. Olson; Devotional, Mrs. J. T. Sheehan. Re-with the correspondents last night to recall off-hand who had been suggested for the secretaryship of state besides Mr. Bryan, the selection of the Nebraskan was indicated.

"There is absolutely no justification for that inference," declared Mr. Wilson today. "I could not recall the names of men who have been suggested for other portfolios either." He paused and added after a moment's reflection: "And I might be making some nominations of my own, for I certainly will not feel bound to confine myself merely to names that have been suggested to me."

The governor took occasion to reiterate that Col. E. M. House, his intimate friend, who also is close to Mr.
Bryan, had not gone to Miami, Fla.,
at his direction.

The governor has found that he will have to give up several days between now and his inauguration for trips to the dentist.

It's the penalty of years of delay," he said regretfully.

the younger children are manifesting gratifying interest, while in the high

BLIZZARD HITS DULUTH

Forty-Four-Mile Wind Accompanies Snow and Low Temperature.

Sharp Drop of Mercury Predicted By the Weather Bureau.

A real blizzard, the first of the winter, struck Duluth last night. It had all the elements of a blizzard—wind, snow and low temperature—and those who had to venture forth did not face the wind long.

Several times during the night the wind attained a velocity of forty-four miles an hour. At 7 o'clock this morning a thirty-six mile wind was accompanied by a temperature of 3 degrees below zero, and at 10 o'clock the wind was traveling at a rate of thirty-four miles an hour while the temperature had dropped to 6 degrees below zero.

Much colder weather is coming tonight, according to H. W. Richardson, local forecaster at the weather bureau. Tonight he expects the temperature to drop to 15 or 20 degrees below zero, and there will likely be a pretty stiff wind. Two to three inches of snow fell in the last twenty-four hours, but no more snow is expected tonight.

Many other points were colder than Duluth this morning. At St. Paul the temperature was 6 degrees below at 7 o'clock, and at Sioux City, Iowa, 10 degrees below was recorded. The blizzard caused little inconvenience to the railroads or street cars, as the snowfall was light. The trains were all nearly on time this morning and there were no serious street car delays.

Mr. Richardson expects the weather to moderate somewhat tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night.

OUTLOOK IS VERY BRIGHT

publican, has given them the worst of it. In the case of Hennepin county the distribution according to population, is considered inadequate. They claim they should have nine senators and the draft only gives them eight. What a redistribution of the state means and the difficulty attending such a redistribution is shown by a member of the Ramsey county delegation who yesterday received the first draft of the bill as far as his district is concerned. One ward elects him and it is so solidly Democratic that a Republican is absolutely without a show. The draft as agreed upon by the Republican majority of the county added what is known as Rice district and a part of the county section. "It was his comment, 'I could not win if that country section was added. They would swamp me.' But such talk is always heard when it is necessary to reconstruct legislative districts, and no serious difficulty is expected in smoothing over the troublesome points. In Chairman Warner's the outlook for reappointment is the brightest he has ever seen."

Discrimination Attacked.
A new bill to take the place of several bills prohibiting unfair discrimination in the buying and selling of commodities, was drafted by a subcommittee of the senate committee on commerce and industries in general use. The committee, after hearing arguments on two bills by Senator F. J. Thue of Mayfield, one prohibiting number dealers from selling cheaper at one place than at another in order to drive out a competitor, and the other prohibiting the elevator from raising the line elevators put up prices to drive them out of business. K. G. Flynn and R. Goodrich of Minneapolis, protested against the Thue bill regulating the sale of lumber. They said it gives the man with a single yard the advantage because he can cut prices and still the trade of the line yard while the line company cannot meet the competition without cutting prices at all its yards.

Dunn Bill Signed.
The bill by Representative H. H. Dunn transferring to the state all minerals in lands to be transferred by the state under former railroad land grants, is now law. Governor Thayer signed the act yesterday afternoon.

The joint committee of the senate and house appointed to confer with a like committee from Wisconsin, reported to the senate yesterday afternoon a final disagreement on the disputed questions over the boundary. The committee recommends that two members of the senate and three of the house be appointed to confer with like committee from Wisconsin with a view of agreeing upon uniform reciprocal laws which may be passed by both states. This would settle the controversy over fishing rights in the Mississippi St. Croix and other boundary waters. The boundary line at Duluth will probably go to the courts for settlement.

Recall of Judges.
"A court of recall" to pass upon demand for the recall of judges is the scheme proposed by Senator G. H. Sullivan of Stillwater, as a substitute for the recall of judges by popular vote. Senator Sullivan introduced a bill for a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to create a court composed of judges of the supreme court and district court to act upon the recall of judges. The issue shall be given to the ballot. The measure is the same one that the senate defeated 33 to 20. It is expected the house will pass the measure.

Workmen's Compensation.
The special committee appointed by the senate in 1911 to study the subject of workmen's compensation, of which Senator Boyle was a member, has submitted a bill to the senate. It would bring all employers under its provisions unless they specifically elect to remain outside the fold. It is not that the measure lacks these two conditions is largely due to Senator Boyle, who insisted that the employer must provide the defense of fellow servant rule, presumption of risk and contributory negligence. The bill does not provide that employees must pay some part of an insurance fund, and that there should be no discrimination against foreign workers. Farm and domestic help are not included in the provisions of the measure. Hearings on the bill will be next week, probably starting on Monday night.

those who have already signed the same, such proposals shall be submitted to the voters at the next general election for their consideration. No law proposed by the initiative and approved by the voters shall be subject to veto by the governor or subject to a two-thirds vote of all the members of each branch thereof.

Referendum—If within ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature a petition signed by 5 per cent of the electors shall be filed with the secretary of the state against any law or resolution shall not become a law until passed by a two-thirds vote of the electors at a special election. In such case a majority of the voters voting for or against shall prevail. Pending the vote upon the law petitioned against, it shall be in effect. Initiative and referendum powers are granted to every municipal corporation to be exercised in the same manner as applied to the legislature.

This in brief is the initiative and referendum bill agreed upon at the meeting of the house committee on elections yesterday afternoon. It is a bill which takes the place of no less than five bills. The petition for these bills ranged from 2 to 12 per cent.

The bill will undoubtedly be made a special order on what date remains to be determined upon. Two years ago the question of referendum was the determining factor and the question was so divided that it resulted in the defeat of the bill.

The action of the committee yesterday was a compromise. The bill committee would have resulted in a mix-up, so that the question of referendum would have been with the house as the determining factor.

The issue shall be given to the ballot. The measure is the same one that the senate defeated 33 to 20. It is expected the house will pass the measure.

played in official circles here owing to Bulgaria's uncompromising attitude. Germany and the other great powers are doing their best to persuade Bulgaria and Turkey to attempt a compromise. The resumption of hostilities Monday is regarded as probable.

The situation causes concern to the German government, which fears that if the war be resumed, Bulgaria may make matters beyond her own interests.

In Favor of Peace.

London, Jan. 31.—The overwhelming strength of public opinion throughout Europe in favor of peace in the Balkans is exercising a profound influence on the peace delegates in London. The European ambassadors here will soon make themselves the mouthpiece of this widespread sentiment in order to convince some of the more unyielding spirits among the representatives of the allies.

European diplomats take the view that Turkey, especially after the revolutionary movement which brought into power men considered irreconcilable enemies of the Ottoman empire, could not offer more than what was contained in yesterday's reply to the allies. They think justifies the resumption of negotiations between the allies and the Ottoman empire.

The Turks with their usual shrewdness, instead of simply asking for the holy shrines and a few more monuments of historic or religious character in the city of Adrianople, suggested dividing the city by the River Maritza, they taking the part situated on the left bank. This gives them the lion's share, although they leave to Bulgaria the railway station on the line communicating with Macedonia. This concession, however, is not regarded as their final word on the subject. The way to an accommodation between the parties may still be left open.

It is thought that the men now ruling at Constantinople wish to have at least the appearance of not ceding as much as their predecessors.

The Duluth Herald accepts advertising contracts with the distinct guarantee that it has the largest circulation in Minnesota outside the Twin Cities.

WOMEN CAN VOTE.

Don't neglect the school bond issue at the polls tomorrow.

The proposal is that the city issue $200,000 bonds to get money to build the Robert E. Denfeld school in West Duluth and the Roger S. Munger grade school in the East end.

Of course it is reasonably certain that the bonds will be voted. But it is only reasonably certain, not a thing to be sure of. There will be some votes cast against the bonds, and those who are opposed to them will be sure to vote. If you believe they should be issued, you run the risk, by not voting, of letting the needed school work go by default. And besides, there will be a much better market for the bonds if they are carried by a big vote than by a bare majority in a small total.

Incidentally, remember that the women can vote on this question. Not only that, but they should do so. One of the principal pleas made in favor of woman suffrage is women's interest in school affairs. Now is their opportunity to show that interest and make it effective. Here is a case where the wives need not drive their husbands to the polls—they can lead them there.

The schools and all things relating to them are always important questions. Get out and vote tomorrow, and make the total returns a figure that will give confidence to those to whom the bonds will be offered.

The Minneapolis Journal has joined in the protests against the proposed Lake Superior-Mississippi canal. It knows a bad thing when it sees one.

FOR A "PURE PRESS" LAW.

Representatives Wescott and Bjornson have introduced a bill in the legislature that would insure the state "pure newspapers." It is a good bill and ought to become law.

Briefly, the bill prohibits newspaper gift enterprises and premium contests, and provides heavy penalties for violations.

No newspaper ever got permanent good out of giving a catnip bottle with one issue or a subscription, or from giving anything else except the paper itself. No newspaper ever got permanent good out of giving a paper of pins or a lemon squeezer or a house and lot or an automobile or a trip to Suedunk to the winner of a contest to see who could bleed the most individuals out of subscription money.

But the harm in that kind of thing goes deeper than that, for—and here is the real basis for the proposed law—NO NEWSPAPER WHOSE CIRCULATION IS BOOSTED BY THAT KIND OF METHODS CAN GIVE A SQUARE DEAL TO THE ADVERTISER. And it is the advertiser who is to be benefited by the passage of the Wescott-Bjornson bill.

The man who buys advertising space in a newspaper does so because he wants to tell the readers of the paper what he has for sale. His only knowledge as to how many readers he can reach is to be gained from the circulation books of that particular newspaper. But when those books contain several thousand names that are there, not because their owners buy the paper and read it, but because they subscribed to help a neighbor's boy or girl win a prize, or because they thought they saw a chance to get cheaply some article they wanted through buying a newspaper they didn't want and wouldn't bother to look at—when that kind of subscription is the basis of circulation, every advertiser who pays his money for space in that newspaper is cheated.

A newspaper that is worth advertising in is one that is subscribed for on account of its own character and standing. And no publication that has to resort to the prize and premium nuisance to get subscribers is in that class. The proposed law would operate to suppress unworthy papers; would protect the public from the prize and premium nuisance, and would insure advertisers of getting their money's worth. The "pure press" bill ought to be made the law of the state.

This movement to have the mail boxes painted red indicates that the department isn't satisfied just to have the mailed matter itself read.

Now that the senate is sure enough Democratic, too, we will look for another swan song of misunderstanding from the White House before March 4.

A DEMOCRATIC SENATE.

The Democrats are assured of a majority in the senate as well as in the house, and this is well. There is no assurance of consistent policy or even of harmony in governmental affairs when part of the government's machinery is pledged to one policy and the rest to an opposite plan. To have a Democratic house and a Republican senate opens the way to innumerable clashes and means embarrassment at every step of the work.

It could be wished that the Democratic majority in the senate were larger than it is, and of course there is the possibility that it will be increased when the returns are all in from the state legislatures. Some of the holdover senators are not so markedly in sympathy with the progressive character promised by the Wilson administration as to make it certain they will not fail to come up to the scratch when the critical moment arrives. But these are so few in number that it is probable any defection they might organize will be overcome by the action of progressive Republicans.

Still, the mere fact that they have majorities in both houses of congress puts the Democrats under the necessity of standing to their guns, and of accepting responsibility for whatever action may be taken. At the same time it means greater strength to President Wilson, who will have a condition in national affairs that, until the beginning of the present year, was denied him in the management of New Jersey's government—a legislative body with his own party in the majority in each house.

January wasn't much of a month for the coast man and plumber, but it was some month, just the same.

PUBLIC DRINKING PLACES.

Senator Marden's bill, passed yesterday by the senate, authorizing the state board of health to forbid the use of common drinking cups in public buildings, places and equipages, is in line with the action taken in Wisconsin and in keeping with the advancement of knowledge as to the spread of disease. The public drinking cup has come to be recognized as a menace to the general health, and its character as such has brought it into disrepute.

Under present conditions, such an order would in fact affect only public buildings and places outside of railroad stations, for there is in effect a national regulation prohibiting the use of common drinking utensils on trains and in railway stations connected with interstate commerce.

But it does not seem as if the provisions suggested or authorized by the Marden bill go far enough. There is a common weakness of mankind, and to do away with the opportunity to secure a drink of water in a public place would be to cause serious inconvenience and sometimes real suffering to shoppers or to employees in office buildings or stores, unless the people submitted to the necessity of carrying their own individual drinking cups with them.

If the state health board issues an order prohibiting the placing of drinking cups in public buildings and other places, it should accompany that order with a provision that sanitary drinking fountains be provided. And if the terms of the Marden bill do not admit of such a clause in the health board's order, the bill should be amended before passage in the house so as to give the board that authority.

Such drinking fountains already have been placed in many buildings in Duluth and other cities. They provide the necessary public drinking place, and at the same time remove the danger that lies in the common utensil. Their installation should be made compulsory in all buildings where people congregate, and where employees are compelled to spend several hours in the day. The Marden bill is good as far as it goes, but it should be made to go enough farther, to compel the sanitary drinking place.

One thing that militates against the success of the Chinese republic is that no Chinaman can raise the same kind of chin adornment that J. Ham Lewis carries about with him.

FOR THE BOYS TO THINK ABOUT.

"I have used tobacco since I was a boy of 14," said a man in Duluth the other day.

He made the statement in the course of proceedings that ended with his commitment to a state hospital for the insane.

A few days before that he had been found bleeding on the floor of his room, as the result of an attempt to kill himself after a period of "the blues."

His statement about the use of tobacco was his explanation for his condition; his own theory as to the cause of the insanity that has made him incapable of caring for himself, unable to stand up to the problems and the fights that every man must face.

Is it worth while to risk your brain power for the sake of puffing a pipe or cigars or cigarettes?

Is it worth while to take the chance of ruining your life, of making yourself dependent on others just for the sake of imitating somebody else in the use of "the weed?" Is it worth while to put yourself in the way of becoming good for nothing, mentally and physically, just for the sake of gratifying a desire to draw in and exhale the smoke of burning leaves?

Perhaps you think it would not affect you as it has this man. How do you know? Do you think he believed, when he began the practice in his boyhood, that it would affect him in that way?

Keep away from tobacco. If you are determined to use it, at least wait until you have attained your full physical growth. That will hardly be before your twenty-first birthday, and by that time your mind will be so developed that it will suffer less from the practice than in earlier years.

You boys often think that using tobacco is manly. It is not. And even if it were, that would not be equivalent to saying it is the proper thing for those who are not yet men.

Keep away from "the weed" at least until you attain manhood. Remember this man who smoked from the time he was 14 years old, and take no chances of following in his footsteps.

Of course it's nice to have a lot of names on your petition for nomination, but it's a whole lot easier to get other folks' names on a petition than it is to get your own name into a ballot box.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the local or general interest, but editorial discretion is reserved. Letters must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

MASHERS ON SUPERIOR STREET.

To the Editor of The Herald: I have only been a resident of your city for a short time, but I will say this much, you have the largest bunch of would-be mashers I've ever seen. I've been in a few places. Even the city of Chicago has nothing on this city for the size of it. I know whereof I speak. Let some of your wise police officials in plain clothes—I don't mean those that are known, because when they sight out they might just as well put a large sign on their backs reading "I'm Detective Sherlock," but some one not known, go down Superior street, and from nothing but cheap young "sports."

They had better be a little more careful, because the men and women of the city of Duluth are a bunch of married men to try to find a bursing spot for some of this trash. They should get wise and get rid of them. I don't think they are ever caught.

A certain official said there is no walking down the street at night without a light. If he has a daughter let her walk down the street after 8:30 and he will have to back water.

Duluth, Jan. 30. MARKED MAN.

CONCERNING SEGREGATION.

To the Editor of The Herald: Some person who styles himself "Citizen" has written the local daily a referendum on the question of segregation. Evidently "Citizen" believes that the state or city has the right to locally segregate. I am certain that a crime at Tenth avenue east or Thirteenth avenue west, but not a crime on St. Croix avenue. I am certain that a crime on St. Croix avenue is a crime, but not a crime on St. Croix avenue. I am certain that a crime on St. Croix avenue is a crime, but not a crime on St. Croix avenue.

Now, Mr. "Citizen," come over to 808 Alworth building and we will furnish you with copies of the Chicago vice report, the Minneapolis vice report, the council's committee of nine in Chicago last fall, and copies of Vigilance, the monthly magazine published by the Vigilance Association of the United States, of which David Starr Jordan is president, and various other papers. Finally, you will sign your own name and let folks know who you are? Yours for law enforcement.

The Soo Canal and the World's Trade

Editorial in the Springfield, Mass., Republican.

What the enormous tonnage of the "Soo" canal means can be seen by comparison with other kinds of transport such as the world used to put up with. In the season just closed the tonnage was 72,815,000 tons; the number of cargoes 20,000. That means large ships, 3,625 tons on the average. This that it involves 85 ships a day for the season of 236 days. On the busiest day 124 ships passed, or one every 10 minutes, day and night. But in 100-ton boats such as used to handle our foreign commerce, it would mean 725,000 ships a year, 3,625 a day through the season, 180 an hour at the height of trade, or one every 20 seconds. But much of the world's commerce has been carried by certain five-camel-ton ton. This would require 364,500 million camels a year, almost a billion a day. That is the restricted season, nearly 15 million a day. At the busiest there would be 9,125 camels an hour, or 4,562 camels a minute. At the rate of 25 camels a minute, which would be hauling in the East, such comparisons show the magnitude of the canal. Long ago the "Soo" outstripped the Suez, and the canal increases. In 1910 the chief canal handling tonnage of trade in millions of tons: "Soo," 36; Suez, 23; Manchester, 5; In 1908, the Kaiser Wilhelm, 6. For the past year the tonnage of the "Soo" has been 36, 53, 72.5, a gain of about 100 per cent in two years. With tolls of $1 a ton, the present tonnage of the canal would equal the tonnage of the Panama canal in less than six years. But of course there is no such immense volume of trade pressing imperatively upon the Panama canal.

Patriotism and the Flag

Editorial in the Madison, Wis., State Journal: President-elect Wilson recently said that a poor man has less chance to get justice administered to him than a rich man. He added that the rich man that should be generally true.

So say we all. Therefore, perhaps it is time to us to inquire: Is the better true?

In just one day's crop of news, taken at random, we read: Judge of the court of commerce impeached for grafting—he had tried to levy blackmail on rich litigants before his court.

Bill passed senate at Washington requiring that all evidence in equity in his immediate locality, and though he was elected, there was one county or parish, as they call them in Louisiana—which was the case in Louisiana.

That one vote excited Pujos's curiosity, and he made a quiet investigation to find who the voter was. Several men claimed to be the voter, but finally satisfied himself that he had found out the truth. Whenever he got a letter from that county—a request for needs or anything at all—he referred the letter to his sole supporter in the county and the one man who had been a person of real prominence.

In fact, Pujos's scheme of making the man his representative in the county placed the fellow in the line of light to such an extent that his business prospered as never before, and he became wealthy. Which shows, if it shows anything, that the way to do is to be the only man who votes for the winning candidate.

A lot of funny things go through the mail, even aside from parcel post possibilities. The other morning Representative McKinley received a request from an aged constable, to see what could be done toward hurrying along his pension. "I heard you make a speech the last time you were in our town," the man wrote, "and you had some good things in it that I laughed at. I thought you were a good fellow. I came out, I inclose the tooth."

And indeed there was the man's tooth in the envelope, an imperishable proof of fealty and token of his esteem.

If one were to figure up the batting averages of the various United States senators, based in the number of hours actually spent in the senate chamber, it would probably be found that the man would be between Senators Root, Lodge and Bacon. They are always right on hand. The other way around, the late Jeff Davis of Arkansas, who wasn't to be seen about the senate more than half the time.

Senator Lodge has a standing order with the doorkeepers that he must not be called out to see anybody before 2 o'clock, except in case of fire or something else unusual. About the most reluctant senator to respond to cards sent in, though, is Works of California.

When the International Navigation congress met last June in Philadelphia, where the exercises were conducted by Representative J. Hampton Moore, one of the men in attendance from a distance was Col. W. P. Anderson, minister of marine affairs of the United States. He was obliged to leave Philadelphia just as J. Hampton was in the midst of making his chief speech for the occasion.

After that Col. Anderson went to Europe for several months, but returned in time to attend the National Rivers and Harbors congress, which met a few weeks ago in Washington. When he entered the hotel where the meetings were going on he heard a familiar voice.

"Well, well," said Anderson, turning to a companion: "There isn't that fellow Moore still talking?" (Copyright, 1913, by Fred C. Kelly. All rights reserved.)

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The chief political correspondent for a big New York paper was walking up street with a friend, and they passed Sereeno Payne, who came along brandishing his abdomen as is his habit.

The correspondent looked Payne right in the eye but did not speak. "Don't you know Payne?" asked the friend.

"Oh, yes, very well," replied the newspaperman.

"But you didn't speak to him."

"No; and I don't intend to speak to him if I can help it."

"On the outside with him?"

"No; the fact is our relations have always been friendly. I rather like the man."

"What's the answer then?"

"Well, it's like this: At the tariff in 1908, I was obliged to go around his office every day for weeks and weeks trying to get something out of him about what they were doing with the tariff. I got sick of the sight of him. It now gives me a thrill of pleasure to see Payne and know that I don't have to bother talking to him any more."

And here's a funny thing: When the Pulo sub-committee was looking about for an attorney to conduct the examinations in the present investigation, they had no little difficulty in coming to an agreement on some one. The final vote that gave the job to Mr. Untermeyer was only four to three. And the attorney who voted against Untermeyer was Pulo. But since the investigation started, he and Untermeyer have become warm friends.

When he made his first campaign for congress, Pulo was little known except in his immediate locality, and though he was elected, there was one county or parish, as they call them in Louisiana—which was the case in Louisiana. That one vote excited Pujos's curiosity, and he made a quiet investigation to find who the voter was. Several men claimed to be the voter, but finally satisfied himself that he had found out the truth. ### Duluth and The Herald

Boquets and Brickbats from The Press.

Duluth Needs Office. Virginia Virginian: Congressman Miller is right in his contention that the United States customs office should not be moved from Duluth to St. Paul. Duluth is one of the great ports in the world and congress would make a big mistake by closing the service there and moving the office to an interior town 150 miles distant.

Wouldn't It? Cass Lake Times: Sometimes one is tempted to question whether the fellow who discovered the grip was much of a public benefactor after all.—Duluth Herald.

That's Right; besides grip by any other name would not be half so bad.

Some Will Be Disappointed. Mankato Free Press: The Duluth Herald indulges in a little facetiousness. "However, even Wilson's wishes won't be able to stop the inaugural bawl for public jobs." There'll be plenty of Democrats to have their right after they have been informed that the supply of pie has been exhausted.

Road Should Go Through. Rush City Post: Although the promoters interested in securing the direct highway through the Twin Cities to Duluth failed to receive financial appropriation from this county, the moral support offered will help to some extent, the proposition will still be advocated and every effort made in behalf of establishing the direct road. There should be no letup in the interest of a good road, and all possible state legislation should be sought to aid in building them.

Make It Three 'Rabs. Walker Pilot: Just as a footnote let us state, that in addition to the best reports of legislative doings come from the Head of the Lakes. 'Rah for Duluth.

Duluth Not Opposed. Hutchinson Leader: Duluth is not opposed to the distance tariff, but is willing to take pot luck with the rest of the communities in the state in the matter of freight rates. So it remains for the Twin Cities—St. Paul and Minneapolis—in their selfish desire to absorb all the business of the state, to stand between the smaller cities and their rights. Whether they are powerful enough to prevent the enactment of a just and equitable distance tariff law this session of the legislature remains to be seen.

Duluth Can Fight. Hibbing News Ore: You will "have to hand it to Duluth" when it comes to putting up a good stiff fight when the interests of that city are in jeopardy. The fight that is being waged to hold the customs office there is one instance. Hibbing could use a few such specimens of fighting timber and wide-awake generals to a good advantage.

For Distance Tariff. Fairmont Sentinel: The Duluth Herald, than which there is no stronger paper in Minnesota, has come out in the open for the distance tariff. The Twin City papers are still holding out for an unfair advantage over the country. If the papers represent the sentiment of their respective cities the fact should be made public. It is about time that the country got together and rewarded its friends and punished its enemies.

The Blind Men and the Elephant. It was six men of Indostan, To learning much inclined, Who went to see the elephant (Though all of them were blind), That each by observation Might satisfy his mind.

The first approached the elephant, And, happening to fall Against his side and sturdy side, "God bless me!" he bawled, "Is very like a wall!"

The second, feeling of the tusk, Cried: "Ho! What have we here, So very round, and smooth, and sharp? To me 'tis clear, my friends, That wonder of an elephant Is very like a spear!"

The third approached the animal, And, happening to take The squirming trunk within his hands, Thus boldly up he spake: "I see," quoth he, "the elephant Is very like a snake!"

The fourth reached out his eager hand, And felt about the knee: "What most this wondrous beast is like, Is very plain," quoth he, "I see,— 'Tis clear enough the elephant Is very like a tree!"

The fifth, who chanced to touch the ear, Said: "E'en the blindest man Can tell what this resembles most; Deny the fact who dares, I say, That marvel of the elephant Is very like a fan!"

The sixth no sooner had begun About the beast to grope, Than, seizing on the swinging tail That fell within his grasp, he said: "I see," quoth he, "the elephant Is very like a rope!"

And so these men of Indostan Disputed loud and long, Each in his own opinion Exceeding stiff and strong, Though each was partly in the right, And all were in the wrong! —John G. Saxe.

Rifle Wounds in War. Popular Mechanics: Wounding an enemy in war is better than killing him, for unless he is captured it imposes on his side the burden of taking care of him. The Balkan war has again proved that the bullet of the modern high-power rifle with its terrific speed will go straight through a man, penetrating the most vital organs, without killing him; and it has even been found to go through from four to six men, one behind the other. This puts him out of the fight, but at the same time it is a good thing for the fighter, for it gives him a far better chance for his life.

Spelling for the Bride. Lippincott's: Bride and groom they were, unmistakably, and the guests writing "Wish you were here" greetings in that Atlantic City hotel were much interested in them. Each sat at a desk and got busy with pen and ink, the silence being broken only when the bride asked how to spell a hard word. These queries annoyed an old gentleman writing near-by, and he was plainly relieved when the bridegroom left the room. The little bride did not know that she had been deserted, and she again got stuck on a word.

"How do you spell Cincinnati, honey?" she asked.

"C-I-N-C-I-N-A-T-I-H-O-N-O-N-Y," responded Mr. Grouch.

WILL GIVE PROFITS OF HIS STORES TO RELIGIOUS WORK

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 31.—H. Z. Duke of Dallas, Tex., who is visiting his old home here, announced that, beginning today, the entire profits of his twenty-one stores in Texas will be devoted to religion.

Duke, who went to Texas from Georgia years ago, has built a chain of prosperous stores, and he attributes his success to religion. Always he has given one-tenth of his income to the church.

Three years ago Duke and his wife agreed to turn the entire profits of his store over to the church when his savings invested in bonds and Texas realty should reach $500,000. Recently the $500,000 was completed.

These stores will support missionaries; they will pay the salaries of ministers; they will comfort the needy; they will furnish the lessons of Christianity to the untaught.

"I am a member of the First Baptist church of Dallas," said Duke, "and I have succeeded because I gave to the Lord. No man, no matter what his condition, what his responsibilities, should give less than one-tenth to the church. Only then can he know the full benefits of religion."

"I have tried the Lord in this business way and I would no more quit giving to Him than I would quit providing for my family."

"I have $500,000 and I shall not add to it. Hereafter my twenty-one stores will work for the Lord."

AIMS TO BECOME AN EXPERT IN MUNICIPAL HEALTH WORK

Dr. I. J. Murphy, police surgeon and former assistant health commissioner for three years, will leave this evening for Chicago and Eastern cities to make a thorough study of municipal health work.

His investigation will be in the nature of a post-graduate course in the branch of municipal activity, as he has already had considerable training, both theoretical and practical, in that line. Before coming here he was engaged in municipal health work in Minneapolis and he has had much experience during the three years he has been with the local health department.

At Chicago, Dr. Murphy will take the regular post-graduate course offered by the health department in its school of sanitary instruction. He will then take up municipal social service, which is applied to preventable diseases in other cities, particularly in Detroit and Rochester, which have made the greatest advances in this direction. In Milwaukee and Minneapolis he will pay special attention to the modern methods of garbage disposal which have been adopted by them.

A committee of local physicians has requested Dr. Murphy to collect and tabulate all data which might be useful as applied to Duluth. It is proposed to submit this to the local medical society. Duluth physicians state that they cooperate with the health department of the city under its supervision. When the commissioners leave their office they will volunteer their aid and services in putting the department on the most efficient basis possible. With this in view they have asked Dr. Murphy to work with them.

When he returns he will submit a full report of his investigations and observations to the physicians interested in the work and they will undoubtedly take it up with the medical society.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

immense sign, with the words made of electric lights, giving friendly greetings to strangers and, perhaps, at the same time containing a boost for the city of Marshalltown, Iowa, will be hung across South Third street in the depot district in a few months. Bearing some such slogan as "Marshalltown For Me," or "Welcome to Marshalltown," it will be placed as to not only be the first thing to catch the eye of the motorist, but also to put the vicinity over which it hangs. Such a sign is to be given to the city by the Iowa railway & light company, successors to Jones & Hovey, which will maintain it free of charge. The corporation is ready to order the sign and hang it as soon as the Marshalltown club determines what words of greeting or boosting phrase it shall bear.

"Watch Duluth Grow" was the slogan determined upon for a brilliantly illuminated electric sign which the publicity committee of the Duluth Commercial club proposed to locate on the hilltop. There it would be visible for miles and it was considered that it would be a splendid advertisement for the city. The competition to determine upon the most appropriate and effective slogan was conducted two years ago. After "Watch Duluth Grow" had been selected from the hundreds submitted, the matter appears to have died a natural death. At any event the sign has not been placed on the hilltop and nothing has been heard of it since.

WILSON TALKS OF HIS CABINET

Permits Himself to Be Questioned But Makes No Disclosures.

Says He Is Considering Men of Practical Experience.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 31.—President-elect Wilson told newspaper correspondents who questioned him regarding the make-up of his cabinet that "he certainly was not going to make up his cabinet of college graduates."

He said he was considering men of practical experience in public affairs and professional men, who had not been in politics.

The president-elect permitted himself to be questioned at length by the correspondents and seemingly enjoyed the efforts that were made to secure information from him. The governor, however, carefully avoided any disclosures.

Asked whether any names other than that of William Jennings Bryan had been suggested for the secretaryship of state, Mr. Wilson said:

"About half a dozen."

To the inquiry as to who these men might be, Mr. Wilson reflected for a moment but replied that he could not recall offhand, because some of these individuals were grouped under lists of names suggested for other portfolios as well.

The governor said he had decided to follow the usual course of getting acceptance first before announcing his cabinet. He was asked whether he would make public the acceptances as they came to him, "because I'm really trying to make up a team."

He intimated that a possible declaration of a single portfolio might make it necessary to redistribute the entire cabinet.

Glass Calls. Except for the visit of Representative Carter Glass, chairman of the house sub-committee on banking and currency, the governor devoted the day to New Jersey business.

Mr. Glass gave Mr. Wilson an account of the public hearings before the banking and currency committee. "Mr. Glass pleased me," said the governor, "by telling me that the attitude of the big bankers who appeared before the committee held an attitude of friendly co-operation."

While talking about banking reforms the president-elect remarked casually: "I said in my speech at Chicago that the banking system of the country stood convicted, I thought I was saying what everybody had said before. Sometimes one's commonplaces startle."

Glass declared after his conference with the governor that he did not know when the hearings would close, but he said he would arrange for Sir Montagu D'Osmond, a member of the Montreal, Can., to appear before the committee on March 13.

SAGE TEA IS HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN GRAY, FADED HAIR

Mixed With Sulphur Makes Hair Soft, Lustrous and Cures Dandruff.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national committee, next Wednesday at Democratic national headquarters here. It was announced tonight, Norman E. Mack, former national chairman, will make the presentation speech in behalf of the New York Democratic committee and Henry Hoffman will represent the campaign committee. The cap is about twenty-six inches high.

STATE LABOR LAWS ARE OBSERVED.

Women are satisfactory to Miss Victoria Erlanson, state factory inspector for Duluth, who last completed a tour of some of the larger institutions in Duluth employing female labor. In cases where girls of 16 or under are employed, Miss Erlanson found that permits had been taken out in compliance with the law. As Erlanson is now preparing data as to hours of labor and to the conditions.

BISMARCK DOCTORS HAVE HANDS FULL.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 31.—As a result of eating food of various kinds at the supper given in the Armory last night by the Sons of Norway, fully seventy-five people of Bismarck have been suffering from the effects of indigestion poisoning. During the early day doctors have been besieged with people suffering with cramps and general discomfort. Some of the patients are being treated by the local physicians, but many are being afflicted.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR INDIGESTION, BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION

Better Than Castor Oil, Calomel or Cathartics to Cleanse Your Stomach, Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels. Harmless Laxative for Men, Women and Children.

Primitive folks did not need laxatives. They lived outdoors, ate plenty of fruit, and all of their food was coarse. We modern people are different. We exercise too little, eat little fruit, and our food is too fine—too rich.

We simply can't have our ten yards of bowels clogged up, liver choked with sour bile and stomach full of foul effete matter and feel well. It means that the food and waste retained in the stomach and thirty feet of bowels ferments—decays. The decay creates poisons, gases and acids and these poisons are sucked into the blood through the very ducts intended to suck in the nutriment. Then we have sick headache, become dull, bilious, tongue coated, nervous, meals not digested, and we feel miserable all over. So we must make our choice.

SUED FOR $10,000.
Meriden, Wis., Jan. 31.—An action for damages in the amount of $10,000 has been begun by James Lystrom of Meriden, Wis., against I. E. Brack of the same place for injuries received on Nov. 29, 1912.

Mr. Lystrom was in the employ of Mr. Brack as an engineer in running a threshing machine engine used for operating a corn shredder. The plaintiff's jacket was caught by two set screws on a part of the mechanism of the engine. His arm was injured to such an extent that he was brought to Luther hospital here and the arm was amputated at the elbow.

When Lystrom's sleeve caught on the set-screws his arm was wound around the shafting and broken and torn in a terrible manner.

Mr. Lystrom's contention is that the accident was caused by the failure of the owner of the engine to properly guard the set screws as provided by law.

OFFICERS ARE INAUGURATED CHURCH AT NEW DULUTH

New Administration Takes Charge of Longfellow School Affairs.

Mayor Roy Winness Addresses Voters, Promising Law Enforcement.

Today is inauguration day at the Longfellow school. The newly elected officers were sworn into office this noon and the government of the school started under its new regime to last until June.

Roy Winness, mayor of the school for the next semester, addressed the "citizens" after being sworn into office. He promised to enforce the laws of the school and assured the "voters" that his subordinates would all perform their duties during his incumbency. Alvin Peterson, chief of police; Wesley Perrin, park commissioner; and Cecil Melman, city clerk, were also sworn into office this noon. Each of the three boys gave short talks to the "voters."

The assembly, the members of which are allowed to elect officers and meet every two weeks to carry on the business of the government, consists of the five upper rooms. The assembly makes all the laws, elects the four assistants to the chief of police, the assistants to the park commissioner and has full power over the elective officers by means of the recall.

In addition to the city government there is a judicial department, consisting of nine judges selected by the pupils of the nine upper rooms. These judges thus form a supreme court, which tries all prisoners, passes on laws and acts as an advisory board to the assembly. Frank Martin, the chief justice, was selected by the nine judges as the head of the court.

The new officers will take active charge Monday.

GAME GOES AN EXTRA "HEAD."

The game between Wade and Holland in the Burns Lumber event went to thirteen heads last evening at the Western Curling club, the former winning out by the score of 10 to 8.

The game was one of the most interesting played at the local rink this year and was watched by an exceptionally large crowd. With the score of 8 to 7 in favor of Holland and Wade having two in the twelfth head, the former made a perfect shot, throwing out one of the rocks and keeping the game to a tie. Wade laid two, the extra head with very little difficulty.

This evening Keyes will play Jolson in the Commercial club event. The complete standing to date in this event follows:

First Round.	Semi-Finals.
Simpson Wade	Wade
Zauft Olson
Mallory Holland
Keyes Jolson

In the Burns event it will play against Olson this evening. Tonight is also hand night for the skaters.

Catholics of Suburb Will Erect Edifice This Year.

Brick Structure Costing $12,000 Will Be Completed By Fall.

Catholics of New Duluth will erect a $12,000 brick church building this year. The building committee of the church this morning leased ten lots from the New Duluth Land company between New Duluth and Gary. Plans for the structure are now being made.

Rev. John Bradley, who is in charge of the New Duluth congregation, stated this morning that the new church building would in all probability be finished by next fall. The exact plans of the structure are not yet known, he said.

The congregation of the New Duluth church now holds services every other Sunday at the Kulaszewicz hall. The local parish was organized several years ago, with services originally held once a month. COUGHING BURST
BLOOD VESSEL

Says Danger Avoided and Cures Coughs in 5 Hours.

A writer for the medical press states that coughing is responsible for the bursting of blood vessels quite frequently. A cough or cold means inflammation (fever) and congestion, and these in turn indicate that the body is full of poisons and waste matter. Simple relief, as found in patent cough medicines, and a whiskey, often result in more harm than good; as they cause more congestion. A tonic-laxative cough syrup will work marvels and here follows a prescription which is becoming famous for its prompt relief and thorough cures. It rids the system of the cause, except it be consumption. Don't wait for consumption to grasp its victim, but begin this treatment which cures some in five hours. Mix in a bottle one-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day. Give children less according to age.

Gossip, Comment and Sporting Editorial Review as Written By Bruce.

THE members of the Intermediate hockey team of the Duluth Curling club, have just been naturally yearning to show the public how good the team is. Some of the members of the class of the members of the team are of the opinion that the Intermediates can skate forth to conflict and trim the first team. There is nothing in the least secret about this deeply anchored belief; the team cares not if the world knows of this exalted opinion, and by the very fluency of thought hope that the people at large will come to share in it.

This evening the Intermediates are to have the chance to show just how good the team is. The White Bear aggregation is here for a game with the second men, and the contest promises to be one of the best that has been played at the "best rink" during the present season. The visitors are credited with having played the crack Phoenix team a mighty close game, and that feat should determine the class of the invaders. What we are most anxious to learn is the standing in the world of hockey of the intrepid Intermediates, and that is precisely what should be gathered out of the game of this evening.

HERE is a hush league saying of the man who is not without honor save in the ballroom in which he labors or loafs, as the case may be. Let us apply this saying to the general goings on of little Frank Bryant, the roller skater.

A flaring notice, finished in brilliant pink, it is possible for pink to be brilliant, has come to our desk from the Michigan country, in which it says as how the little Duluth speed merchant raced against three of the best men in the Michigan north country, each of the opponents of the Duluthite skating a third of the distance. To make the thing more even Frankie gave each of the localities half a lap start.

The Bryant boy offers a striking example of a man longing with the intensity and artistic ardor of Alexander for more worlds to conquer. Frank has beaten everything in this part of the country. There is no use marching anybody around these parts with him. Occasionally a speedster ventures up from the Twin Cities and is roundly beaten. Joe Munch came from Milwaukee and left the Northwestern title in possession of the kid. It begins to look as if Duluth's really little skater will have to look to larger fields for additional honors.

ILLY Evans, the umpire with the smoothly gliding and prolific puff, is authority for the statement that the great pitcher is the one who shows his quality in the pinches. That may account for the volleying forth of the green cloth are in the position of the recruits in the spring training camps, and the sudden hush of things when the sure-eyed Mike comes to bat with the start of the season.

Frank Chance says he would not trade Hal Chase for Ty Cobb. This native son sentiment is sure strong.

ROTHER billiardists are the authors of the statement which comes forth boldly and says Willie Hoppe is a wreck. While these browns of the green cloth are in the position to know, we want to mildly kick in with the statement that for one who is a wreck, the playing of the Hoppe variety was some classy in the recent tournament played with some of the same cue handlers who have been shooting forth the sear and yellow leaf dope.

THE time is drawing near when Mike Yokel will flag a sleeper and start the long journey from Salt Lake City to Duluth. The time is drawing near to the holding of the world's championship soiree between this great wrestler from the stronghold of the Mormons and the lad who has given Duluthians the present year, many flashy exhibitions of his wonderful skill on the mat.

Judging from the sentiment of the fans this is the match they have been waiting for since the start of the wrestling season. This match promises to break all records in the matter of attendance, in the intensity of the interest shown and also in the quality of the wrestling.

Miller is at the present time working out with Fred Beell in the Twin Cities. He is leaving no stone unturned in the effort to be in the very prime of condition when he steps on the mat with the little giant of Salt Lake City. One of the men must win; for there will be no draws here, and realizing what it means, Miller and Yokel, loving one another not, will wrestle such a match, it is believed, as it has been the fortune of few fans in this section of the country to witness.

GARRY Herrmann, it is told of, is one of these genial types. He hands out two bucks to the gink who holds his furlined while he shoulders into it, and beamingly bestows 50 cents on the boy who brings him a blotto to dry the ink that rushes forth from his fountain pen. They do say that the bell boys fall over each other when they see the open-pursed chairman of the national commission. Perhaps this habit, along with others, is one of the many reasons why the members of the commission would hate most avfully to see their share of the receipts of the world's series cutoff. No harm meant in the least.

JIMMY HARRY IS NOW CALLED PROFESSOR.

Have you met Professor Jimmy Harry?

Up at the V. M. C. A. exercise room each Thursday evening of the week, Jimmy Harry is seen with his bunch of boxing pupils.

"Lead your left and block the return with your right," yells Jimmy to a pupil who is learning the first principles of the martial art of self-defense.

"thing like this will happen," and the boxer, who is learning the art of self-defense, is likely to find a place in the pupil's pile, or the solid right in the boxer's left.

Interest and enthusiasm are growing at Prof. Jimmy's class. More pupils are coming in to progress the large list of games that must be gone through with before the files of March begin to make curling a thing of the past, will be a vague remembrance.

Because of the late start of the present season the work of getting all of the games played off is indeed a progress the large list of games that must be gone through with before the files of March begin to make curling a thing of the past, will be a vague remembrance.

VON DER AHE IS NEARING DEATH

Former Owner of Old St. Louis Browns Approaching the End.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Chris Von Der Ahe, lamp of life is nearly extinguished. The man who was the greatest power in the game in time of the old St. Louis Browns is reported to be dying in the city to which the team, piloted by Coniskey, brought its greatest fame in the nation's pastime. For his quick manner and his various ways the like of Von Der Ahe as a major league baseball magnate may never be seen again.

A veteran newspaperman, a fan in St. Louis in the days of Von Der Ahe and the old four-time champion Browns, writes of Von Der Ahe and Coniskey as follows:

"Baseball has had only one Chris Von Der Ahe, and he is about to be taken from the game by the grim reaper. Chris was der pers brendel der four-time winners, the old St. Louis Browns, of the old American association, who won the pennant in 1882, 1888, 1889 and 1890.

proceedings, set up the claim for, his client that the town had been doing business for the past five and one-half years, had levied, collected and spent a sum of $22,000 for improvements of a public nature. Evidence was introduced that there was a town hall, cemetery and that town roads had been built with the taxpayers' money.

The court's memorandum follows: "When a town is brought into existence as the result of intentional fraud or other proceedings, merely colorable, that existence—if prompt action is taken may very properly be terminated. But action is delayed and in the meantime the interests of innocent third parties become involved with the continued existence of the town. The court should be slow to declare its dissolution and hold void its acts, which may be applied to purposes other than those for which they were intended. Here we have a town which has been in existence for several years and has carried on upon an extensive scale. Here we have regular elections, the assessors and the issue of taxes in large amounts. On the surface the town appears to be a legitimate one. It is not at all clear that its dissolution is in the public interest. It is not at all clear that its dissolution is in the public interest. It is not at all clear that its dissolution is in the public interest."

The town of Buick, St. Louis county, will not die a legal death because there were irregularities in its organization six years ago.

Judge Cant so held today in findings handed down this afternoon. In the quo warranto proceedings brought to test the legality of the township organization. The court ordered the writ of quo warranto dissolved.

On the surface the proceedings involved a question raised by the state as to the legality of the township and its right to further corporate existence. Its underlying motive, at least as far as the township officials themselves were concerned, was to evade the payment of a $22,000 bond issue.

The quo warranto proceedings were brought by Attorney General Smith in the name of the state to dissolve the town of Buick and to restrain its officers from acting as town officers in the future.

The town was organized in 1906. Two or three hundred acres of land were sold for $22,000 to pay for roads and bridges which were later built. The bonds were sold and came into the hands of Charles H. Strawbridge of Chicago, the present holder.

The town paid interest on the bonds for one year and then stopped. Early last year, after the first two bonds had matured, Strawbridge through his attorney, Charles E. Adams of this city, brought suit to recover on the past due bonds and on interest coupons amounting in all to $7,220.

John Heitman, a Duluth attorney, answered for the town of Buick, acting up as a defense that the petition for organization was not a legal one and was therefore not a town at all. Consequently it did not propose to pay the debts of a township organization.

Just as the case was about to be brought to trial in district court, an action to test the legality of the township organization was brought in the form of quo warranto proceedings. Attorney Heitman applied to the attorney general and he consented to lend the name of the state to the proceedings.

John H. Norton and Warren E. Greens then became associated with Mr. Heitman in the case.

In the quo warranto proceedings, it was claimed that there were many irregularities in the inception of the town. It was claimed that the petition for organization did not have the required number of signatures and that there were less than twenty-five legal voters residing in the town to be organized at the time. It was also claimed that other acts of fraud were practiced in the forming of the town.

Made No Defense.
The town of Buick officials put in no defense and admitted in their answer that they were willing to have the organization dissolved. The bondholders, however, intervened and the case was brought to trial on merits.

Dull Day in Flaxseed Ends With Prices a Little Higher.

Figures that have just been compiled by the bureau of statistics at Washington show that notwithstanding the fact that the United States in the year 1912 was far larger than the crop of the year 1911, the number of immigrants in 1911, those of 1911. This plainly shows that there must have been a vasty enlarged consumption of in 1911, due no doubt, to the fact that the country was so lively, which, of course always means much new building and the consequent need for more labor. The figures are so small in both years as to be hardly worth taking into account.

The following table shows the number of persons who entered the United States in 1911 and 1912, broken down by country of origin:

Country	1911	1912
France	870	1,017
Germany	2,880	498,622
Argentina	4,421,599	3,662,944
Italy	2,257,422	1,458,938
Poland	363,015	254,512
England	2,257,422	1,458,938
Other countries	37,311	1,916
Totals	1,015,773	1,486,112

Last year, as will readily be seen from the table, the United States was the main source of the imports of flaxseed into Canada. The imports were quite falling off in the year 1931, however, and the imports from other countries, especially Argentina. This is not surprising in view of the great drop that the flax seed had in this country in 1931, reducing the government stock to one year's supply. The government has been bringing flaxseed to the United States from far-away India, Argentina, Belgium and England. Canadian flaxseed on the other hand has been produced in enormous quantities on the newly reclaimed lands of Western Canada and has found a way into the United States notwithstanding low
